Water Works Inspector
Gets After The City
Lawn Sprinklers

A PLUMBER'S TROUBLES

During the past few months the inspector for the waterworks has been busy watching for people who have been violating the by-law regulating the use of city water for lawn sprinkling purposes. The result of his investigations proves that large numbers of people use their hydrants to sprinkle their lawns during prohibited hours, and others indulge in wilful waste, and worse still not a few have been found to be using their hydrants for this purpose without notifying the secretary of the Water Board, thus to all appearances endeavoring to use city water without paying for it.

Large numbers of persons resorting to the latter means of cutting down expenses have been caught in the act by the inspector, and as a result the secretary has been busy writing out bills to these people. Mr. Weir says that during the past month or so he has sent out three to six accounts of this kind every week.

At last night's meeting of the Water Board, the matter was spoken of by Chairman Sheldon, who said it was surprising to know the number of people who have been trying to use city water without paying for it. He said that it was also not an uncommon thing to find persons deliberately wasting city water on their lawns. Some of them leave the hose turned on all night, and others were found who took the nozzle off the hose and let the water run in large quantities over any portion of the lawn where the hose might have been dropped at the time.

Superintendent Jones of the Waterworks Department remarked that he had one time this summer run across a private hose line which was open and the water was being allowed to run into a ditch nearby for no purpose whatever.

The by-law distinctly states that any persons found violating the by-law in this manner may have their water supply cut off at any time by the Board. This course may be resorted to if the thing is kept up.

The by-law regulates the time for sprinkling lawns to the hours between six and eight in the morning, and five and ten in the evening, and that the hose must be shut off in case of fire breaking out. If these practices are not stopped the Board may have to institute proceedings.

PLUMBER IN TROUBLE.
D. McLachlan recently made application to the secretary of the Board to use city water for the purpose of sprinkling his lawn at the Business College. This was the first intimation the Board had that the taps were connected at the Business College. This was not Mr. McLachlan's fault, but was owing to the fact that the plumber who did the work at the Business College had never applied for a permit to connect the pipes with the waterworks mains.

The plumber in question violated the by-law, and is liable to have his license cut off for thirty days, and to a fine of $20 for his negligence. The chairman of the Board instructed the superintendent to look into the matter and report to the Board.

REBATES GRANTED.
Rev. J. W. Hoyt, of Victoria avenue, made application to the Board to have his account for lawn sprinkling cut down. It seems that Mr. Hoyt has not been using the hydrant, but that a large amount of broken glass is done to autos and bicycles, and at the same time warn the scavengers that the offence must be repeated.

It was suggested by one gentleman this morning that the motorists and bicyclists should form an association for mutual protection in matters of this kind. Such an association might be a great aid in keeping the street clear of dangerous impediments.

STEEL KNIFE IN THE FLESH.
That's the sensation experienced by Robert Price of Hector, who knew it was scintilla, and of course used "Nervine." As usual, it cured and he says: "No liniment can excel Polson's Nervine. Severe pains made my side lame. It was like a steel knife running through me. I rubbed in lots of Nervine and was cured." A regular snap for Nervine to ease Sciatica and rheumatism. It sinks into the core of the pain, cures it in short order. Large 25c. bottles at all dealers.

SORRY TO LOSE HIM
Huffman's Corners church choir, of Harwich circuit, at the close of Tuesday evening League service, took advantage of the visit of Geo. W. Rieborough, their leader, who resigned last week, to his removal to Bleasheim, where his work as a ship clerk now is. At the close of the service Mrs. Alex. Roakey asked him to come to the front, after which she read an address, speaking in high terms of their appreciation of his services. Mr. Rieborough fittingly replied, thanking each and all for their kindness and for their faithfulness as members, and many years had been with them, and he wished them every success. Huffman choir has for many years been in the front rank as a country choir.

ROUTINE MATTERS.
The Canada Casualty & Boiler Insurance Company notified the Board that they would have a man here to inspect the waterworks boilers next Tuesday.

John Glassford, proprietor of Hotel Glassford, applied to the Board for a flat rate instead of a metre reading. He was granted a flat rate of $75.

on waterworks deposits at the rate of three per cent., where at one time they charged the Board interest. He stated that this was a good showing.

J. G. Kerr applied to have his lawn metre cut off. No action was taken by the Board.

The following accounts were ordered paid:
W. H. Nichols, 30c.
W. R. Baxter, $4, $2.50.

A Windsor Editor, Well Known Here, Lands A Rural Wife

HE WILL GO TO INDIANA

Windsor, Sept. 6.—James Dickinson, formerly connected with Port Arthur and Toronto papers, and for several years past editor of the Windsor World, now defunct, has abandoned politics and editorial cares for life on a farm away down in old Indiana.

Some time ago he advertised for a wife. Being a newspaper man of long experience, he naturally had great faith in advertising. His announcement caught the eye of a maiden lady in the Hossier State, who answered and entered into correspondence with Mr. Dickinson.

The former editor took a flying trip to Sullivan, Ind., and found his correspondent owned a fine farm. The scene looked inviting, the marriage was performed with the least possible delay and Mr. Dickinson left yesterday to pursue the calling of an agriculturist.

It may be recalled that Mr. Dickinson's wife was drowned some few years ago off an ocean liner, which went down near Newfoundland.

GLASS ON STREET

Motorists and Bicyclists Have A Well
Grounded Complaint Against Scavengers

Motorists and bicyclists have a big complaint coming about the manner in which two city scavengers scatter broken glass over a number of the city streets, while carting away garbage from a down town store.

Two scavengers, who are engaged in clearing up the store formerly occupied by Dr. Keady, and which is being renovated for permanent quarters for the Bank of Commerce, loaded their wagon so full the other day, that a large amount of broken bottles, broken window glass, etc., was spilled all along Wellington St., Fifth St. bridge and sections of North Chatham. A number of bicyclists had the tires of their wheels punctured through the rank negligence of the scavengers, who should be well enough acquainted with the by-law to know that such an offence is punishable by a fine.

The authorities of the Board of Works would do well to have the broken glass cleaned up before serious damage is done to autos and bicycles, and at the same time warn the scavengers that the offence must be repeated.

It was suggested by one gentleman this morning that the motorists and bicyclists should form an association for mutual protection in matters of this kind. Such an association might be a great aid in keeping the street clear of dangerous impediments.

SEWER FLUSHING

Some of Them Are In Very Bad Shape
But Work Will Go On

The work of flushing out city hydrants, as ordered by the Board of Health, commenced this morning. This was a much needed work as some of the hydrants were found to be in a very filthy state. They had not been cleaned out in a long time, and as the water does not pass very quickly through the hydrants, a great amount of sediment had gathered in some of them.

A hydrant was flushed out on Wellington street west this morning, and the result was that when residents turned on their taps the water which flowed out was a good sample of what had been in the hydrant. It was black as ink. Residents in some other parts of the city had similar experiences.

This state of affairs can be expected in various parts of the city for the next few days, while the hydrants are being cleaned out. In cleaning the hydrants the sediment is stirred up, and it works back into the water pipes.

The condition of the water this morning proves that the work of cleaning out the hydrants was a very useful one, and when the job is completed the water will be in a clearer and more sanitary condition. Secretary Weir, of the Waterworks Department, in speaking to The Planet this morning, said the sediment will quickly settle and the water will resume its normal condition.

It seems that the work of cleaning out the hydrants was ordered by Superintendent E. B. Jones of the Waterworks Department a week ago and before the Health Board took the matter up.

Mr. Jones says that this work will have to be done by degrees, as it necessitates such a strong pressure at the plant. While the hydrants were being cleaned out this morning it was found necessary to pump at the rate of 1,800,000 gallons. While the engines are pumping at this rate it has been found impossible to properly filter the water, and the work had to be discontinued this morning on this account. Mr. Jones says that much of the sediment has been in the mains and hydrants since the city water was pumped from the old Raleigh wells.
