

Odds and Ends.

—A Maine judge recently gave a prisoner a light sentence, saying he was entitled to some consideration for not taking the stand and adding perjury to his other crime.

—An exchange says that folded newspapers placed under the coat in the small of the back is an excellent substitute for an overcoat. Now is the time to subscribe.

—Girls of a marriageable age are sold for $16 in Yokohama! Girls in this country are supposed to be given away, but a good many of them find out afterward that they have been sold.

—Are you going to the party this evening, Maud? "No, I guess not; I'm afraid that horrid Smith girl will be there." "Oh, no, she won't; she said she wasn't going." "Why not?" "Because she was afraid you would be there."

—At a recent gathering in St. Louis General Sherman was present. Said a young lady resident: "He doesn't look like a literary man." "Oh, he isn't," replied another young lady resident. "Didn't he write 'School for Scandal'?" "Merely, no. You are thinking of General Sheridan. He is not here to-night."

—Brown (who has just had telephone connection established between his office and house and very much pleased with it)—"I call you, Smith, this telephone business is a wonderful thing. I want you to dine with me this evening, and I will notify Mrs. Brown to expect you. (Speaking through the telephone)—My friend Smith will dine with us this evening." Now listen and hear how distinctly her reply will come back." Mrs. Brown's reply (coming back with startling distinctness)—"Ask your friend Smith if he thinks we keep a hotel."

HALL'S VEGETABLE CURE. REGENERATOR is a scientific combination of some of the most powerful restorative agents in the vegetable kingdom. It restores gray hair to its original color. It makes the scalp white and clean. It cures dandruff and humors, and falling-out of the hair. It furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a hair dressing. It is the most economical preparation ever offered to the public, as its effects remain a long time, making only an occasional application necessary. It is recommended and used by eminent medical men, and officially endorsed by the State Assayer of Massachusetts. The popularity of Hall's Hair Regenerator has increased with the test of many years, both in this country and in foreign lands, and it is now known and used in all the civilized countries of the world.

Canadian Coasting Carol.

Down the glassy hillside dashing, While the snowy spray is splashing, And the brassy breeze is blowing through the maiden's flowing curls,

What a chance there is for "mashing," As the trusted snow we're crashing, For there's nothing like tobogganing with sweet twitching girls.

Down the steep descent so narrow Swifter than a flying arrow, Or a thunderbolt that Jupiter in anger madly hurled—

Oh, it thrills us to the marrow, And we're chiller as a sparrow, When we glide on our toboggan with the gay and gleeful girls!

You may skate upon your dancing And the pleasure found in prancing 'Round and 'round with pretty partners who delight in dizzy whirling; But our happiness enhancing And enjoyment most entrancing There is nothing like tobogganing with lively pretty girls!

FOUND.

BY W. F. FLORENCE.

A trim New England kitchen, with its knotty pine boards scoured to a snowy whiteness, the red brick hearth reflecting back the gleam of polished tinware, and the dresser full of glittering tin and brass, mathematically straight after the evening meal—this was the scene upon which the autumn sun glowed redly for an instant through the narrow window panes, ere it went down behind a bank of slate-colored clouds in the west—and Miss

Jemima Buxford, glancing up at the clock on a little wooden shelf beneath the window, saw it was half-past five o'clock.

"Bless me, how the time goes!" said Miss Jemima. "And it don't seem as if I accomplished nothing, what with running after your ever-lastin' whims, Ebenezer!"

Ebenezer Buxford, his autocratic sister's senior by 20 good years, looked deprecatingly up from his cushioned nook in the chimney corner—a weak, tooth-kneed old man, with scanty gray hairs brushed into a meek little wisp on the top of his head, watery blue eyes and a complexion like well-cured parchment.

"I'm a deal of trouble, Jemima," said the old man, apologetically, "but I try not to make any more than I can help."

"No, you don't either!" snapped Jemima. "I ain't no patience with your old pipe, and your ever-lastin' whims, Ebenezer, till we all smell like an old bar room, and there ain't a curtain in the house that don't tell its own story. I tell you what, Ebenezer Buxford, you've just got to leave off that miserable habit."

Ebenezer shrank instinctively at the hard word tone.

"Bat—Jemima—" "I'm in earnest, Ebenezer."

"But Ellen Denison says—" "I don't care two snaps of my finger what Ellen Denison says, a pert me, just as full of airs and graces as her mother afore her, though she was my own sister. If Ellen chooses to make a fuss over you and indulge you in every whim, I don't—that's all there is to it. I ain't going to let her do that, and you've just got to quit it!"

"I might as well quit, Jemima," said the old man, apologetically, "but I try not to make any more than I can help."
