Domestic vs. Provincial.
An important judgment was given last week by the Supreme Court of Canada in regard to the legal right of Dominion or Province of leasing fishing privileges and to the riparian rights of the owners of the lands abutting thereon which will be good news to many of our farmer fishermen.

The latter have claimed for years that justice was done when the province usurped the right to the fisheries of the streams running through or past their lands, and very many of them, not being able legally to fish in such waters did so illegally, running the risk of detection. The following particulars of the judgment are given:

OTTAWA, Oct. 13.—The Supreme Court of Canada gave judgment this morning in the fisheries case, involving questions of the greatest importance and hundreds of millions of dollars of value, between the Dominion and the provinces. Both sides claimed the jurisdiction over fisheries in inland waters and the ownership of the beds of rivers, lakes and harbors, as well as the right to lease fishing licenses. The questions submitted to the court arose in the case of the Queen v. Robertson, decided by the Supreme Court of Canada in 1882. This was a case where the right of the minister of marine and fisheries to give a lease of a portion of the Miramichi river for the purpose of fishing, was challenged by C. A. Robertson, who was interrupted in the enjoyment of his fishing. The court held that the general power of regulating and protecting the fisheries is in the parliament of Canada, but that the license granted by the minister of marine and fisheries was void because the law only authorized the granting of leases "where the exclusive right of fishing does not already exist by law," and in this case the exclusive right of fishing belonged to the owners of the lands through which that portion of the Miramichi flows. It was also held that a license given by the federal authorities to fish in streams running through provincial property would be illegal. This judgment left the provinces to assert their rights and a friendly reference to the Supreme Court of Canada would be the result. The chief justice announced that four members of the court were practically a unit in their findings, these four being James King, Taschereau, Gwynne and the chief justice. As the judgment seems so completely settled, your correspondent presents the following analysis, made by Amelia Irving O. C., who conducted the case for Ontario. Mr. Irving says:

Practically the judges are in accord in favor of the provinces, except inasmuch as it confirms the judgment in the Queen v. Robertson in respect of non-navigable waters and extends the same rule of law to all navigable rivers and great lakes, the beds of which are wholly in the provinces, the right of fishing therein being a public common right, subject to provincial legislation.

By the judgment today the Dominion is confined to the powers of conservancy and regulation of fisheries. The Dominion has power to enact the imposition of a general license upon all persons fishing, but such license cannot be restricted to any particular lake, river, or other water.

In the case of public waters, the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Holman v. Green is recognized, the lands thereof belonging to the Dominion and as a consequence the right of fishing therein also belongs to the Dominion. The Dominion has also control of waters upon the Indian reserves. The Dominion has no power to grant a lease, that is covering a certain area of water for fishing in any part of the Dominion. In tidal waters neither the Dominion nor province has any power to restrict the public right of fishing.

Organizing.
An effort is being made to perfect the organization of Liberal Conservatives throughout the various provinces of the Dominion by organizing county and provincial associations. A Provincial Association was formed for Nova Scotia a few days ago, and a meeting was called to be held in St. John yesterday for the purpose of forming a Provincial Association. Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. G. E. Foster, with other prominent party men were expected to be present.

A thorough organization of the party has long been needed and no time better than the present could be proposed for that purpose.

Obituary.
After a brief illness which she bore with Christian fortitude, Mrs. James Somers passed peacefully to rest at her home at Lyttleton on Friday morning, Oct. 9th, leaving a husband, four sons and three daughters (one married daughter residing in the west) and a large circle of friends to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother and kind neighbor.

The remains were interred on Sabbath in the Baptist burying ground at Whitleyville, the funeral being very largely attended.

Temperance Meeting.

The public meeting held in the Methodist Church, Newcastle, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. on Wednesday evening last, attracted a large attendance, the church being comfortably filled. Mrs. G. N. Clark presided. The proceedings commenced by singing "All hail the power of Jesus' name." Prayer by Rev. John Clark. Singing, "I want to be a worker for the Lord." Mrs. Clark then introduced Mrs. J. K. Barney, of Rhode Island, who is proceeding to jail, prison and reformatory work.

In commencing her remarks Mrs. Barney directed their attention to several passages of Scripture and then forcibly related her experience in dealing with cases coming under her observation in pursuing her work.

The prisoners and jails of her own country were full, 45 per cent. of the inmates being there as the direct result of the liquor traffic.

She would endeavor to present to them a picture to-night at which she would ask her hearers to look. The picture would be that of a man, the father of a family, who would place the inmates of the prisons of Canada who are the victims of the traffic.

She would not take the 85 per cent. she would be content to take the half, and half the man who placed them there in the procession. Next in order would come the inmates of our insane asylums, who are directly the victims of the traffic. She had seen in one of New York's large asylums a young man of splendid physique, with large well shaped head, but wild and glaring eyes, beating his head against the wall. She asked the keeper who he was, and was told he was the son of a judge of New York. She asked how he came to be in this place among the pauper insane, and was told that he had been a member of the National Guard, and had been shot through the head by a bullet from a rifle.

After the discussion of other important matters, and completion of arrangements for the future, the convention adjourned.

The W. C. T. U. Country Convention.

The annual County Convention met in Masonic Hall on Tuesday, 19th, at 10 a. m. Mrs. McLeod of Newcastle called the meeting to order. The first half hour was devoted to a Bible reading by Mrs. McLeod. After the minutes of the last convention had been read and adopted, officers for the coming year were elected:—Mrs. McLeod, President; Mrs. Haveland, Vice-President; Miss Shirreff, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. G. N. Clark, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Park, Treasurer.

Dr. Brown read a paper on Methods of W. C. T. U. Work best adapted to a prohibition town, which evoked a spirited discussion.

Mrs. Barney, who arrived on the accommodation from the north, was present in the afternoon, and gave a Bible reading which was listened to with great interest. Mrs. Barney in other ways contributed to the success of the day. She pinned the white ribbon on several ladies who joined the Union, and explained the significance of the little badge.

Miss Thomson, of Newcastle, read an excellent paper on Band of Hope work in which she, with her co-workers, Mrs. Reid, has been very successful. The Newcastle Band of Hope has 148 members. The great satisfaction that comes in this work is the objection some of the children make to the pledge because it prohibits beer. Their mothers make beer, and they want to be free to drink it.

Of course, they think whatever mother does is right. Still the work is going on, and gradually a healthier temperance sentiment is being developed.

Miss Shirreff read a paper on "Reasons for subscribing for our Dominion organ, the Woman's Journal." After the discussion of other important matters, and completion of arrangements for the future, the convention adjourned.
