frenzy which once characterized the Cheyenne and Arapaho sun dances is no longer noticeable, at any rate to white visitors, because of the restrictions which have been put upon them by the Indian agents, but the dance is, even in its present form, a unique and curious survival of the oldtime Indian customs. The sun dance among the south western tribes was in its origin both political and religious. In the early days it iffiled a very important part of the tribal government. It was used to keep up the genealogy of the tribe. It strengthened and kept up the organization of the clans, which was very useful in preventing the intermarriage of blood relatives, as no member of a clan was allowed to marry, in his own clan. At a sun dance the tribes camped in the shape of a horseshoe; each clan had is place in order; each clan had a shield having painted on it a picture of the emblem of the clan, whereby it was known; each clan had a secret organization similar in many respects to the fraternal societies of the present day.

TORTURED FOR THEIR SINS.

TORTURED FOR THEIR SINS. As for the religious significance of thedance, John H. Seger, of Colony, who is probably more familiar than any other white man in America with the traditions and customs of the Cheyennes and Arapahoes, defines it in these and Arapahoes, defines it in these words:

"The Indian, like some civilized people, believe that trouble and misfortune are visited upon people for their sins. They also believe that there is an evil as well as a good spirit, and all the good visited upon them comes from the Good Spirit and all of the evil from the Evil Spirit. The Good Spirit delights in doing them good, while the Evil Spirit delights in misery and suffering. At a sun dance male members of the tribe volunteer to submit to suffering and torture to satisfy the Evil Spirit.

"I can't better illustrate the way the Indian looks at this matter than to repeat from memory the substance of a prayer made by Little Face, a celebrated Arapaho chief and medicine man, at a sun dance, held at the Red Hills, near where the town of Geary is now located. This dance was held 30 years ago, at a time when the buffalo was becoming scarce and the Arapahoes were living mainly on rations issued by the Government. All though these rations were given them, they considered it very unfortunate that they were compelled to live ou charity instead of living the free and independent life of a hunter and having plenty of fat and juicy buffalo meat, which I can testify to, 'hat it would satisfy the appetite of an epicure. I can't better illustrate the way the INFLICTED TERRIBLE PAIN. "The sun was up to high noon; six warriors stood nude except a breech clout and gee string; in their bleeding breasts was fastened a rawhide lariat rope fastened to sticks thrust under the skin or some tied to the skin, which had been raised up for the purpose. One warrior was dragging a buffalo head, with the horns on, by a buffalo lariat rope, fastened to the skin which was raised up from his shoulder blade, and several passed under it while he drag-these young men, who are now suffering torture, and ask that the women and children, who are weak and timid, be children, who are weak and timid, be spared from sickness and suffering. We ask that, as there is no hope for the Arapahoes except to get their food from the earth, as does the white man, that the Great Spirit will so influence the young men and children that they may be willing to learn to cultivate the earth and to raise food to keep their people alive."

A RITE PASSING AWAY.

A RITE PASSING AWAY.

"This prayer expressed the sentiment of the Arapahos 30 years ago, and they have ben slowly and steadily advancing toward the fulfillment of the spirit of this prayer. The Sun Dance has long been considered an obstacle in the way*of civilization, and it has been forbidden by the Indian Office. There is no doubt that as long as the Sun Dance is kept up the Indian cannot engage successfully in farming and settle down in families, each family in a home of its own. The requirements of the Sun Dance is such that it requires every member of the tribe to be present; every clan must be present to fill these requirements."

requirements."

The Sun Dance is now very fast be coming a thing of the past, and would probably have been discontinued some time ago were it not for the fact that when a chief is installed as such he probably have been discontinued some time ago were it not for the fact that when a chief is installed as such he takes an obligation or pledge to do his best to help every member of the tribe to carry out every vow they may make to the Sun Spirit. When a member of the tribe makes a vow to make a Sun Dance to appease the wrath of the Great Suirit, the chief is obliged to do all in his power to call the tribe together and organize a Sun Dance. The faithfulness of the chiefs in carrying out these promises is from a certain standpoint commendable, yet as a matter of fact the Sun Dance is destined to go, and in all probability the sooner it goes the better it will be for the Indians. Yet while they were living under tribal government is filled a very important place in their affairs and was not a rite to be dispensed with lightly. ville. R. W. Bro. P. A. Somerville, of Ham ilton, was among those nominated for the Board of General Purposes.

M. W. Bro. J. Ross Robertson's pro posed amendment to the method of electing Grand Lodge officers was to the effect that nominations should be made in the lodges themselves some time prior to the meeting of the Grand Lodge, and to the meeting of the Grand Lodge, and that the nominations should be sent to every lodge to vote upon. This would do away with election at Grand Lodge do away with election at Grand Lodge communications. The amendment proposed by R. W. Bro. Hoodless, of Hamilton, was somewhat similar. His proposal was that the districts should hold their meeting at a date suitable to the several districts on or before July 1, and elect their depūty, and report the election at Grand Lodge. The present method is to elect the D. D. G. M. at a meeting of the representatives of the district on the Wednesday evening of Grand Lodge in the city where the communication is held. Both propositions were defeated by large majorities. Several other amendments were proposed and withdrawn.

TORONTO LADY

Brings Suit Against Her Husband in Detroit For Divorce.

She is New Attempting to Recover Her Property.

Detroit, July 23.—George F. C. Eyre, cion of one of the most prominent families in Canada, and late President of the American Health and Accident Insur-American Health and Accident Insurance Company, which was put out of business this spring on the initiative of Attorney-General John E. Bird, was ordered to appear before Judge Hosmer in Gircuit Court yesterday morning, and show cause why he should not disclose the whereabouts of several thousand dollars' worth of property that is alleged to belong to his wife, Ada B. Eyre. Mrs. Eyre commenced a suit for divorce against her husband a short time ago, through Attorneys McHugh & Gallagher.

Mrs. Eyre's bill is one of the longest as well as one of the most sensational ever filed in Circuit Court, naming several Detroit women as co-respondents. At least one of these has retained an attorney to look after her interests in

Mrs. Eyre before her marriage was Miss Ada Perry, of Toronto, daughter of a wealthy family there. Her sister is the wife of Jack Murray, manager of the big department store of William A. Murray & Co., Toronto. She was educated at the exclusive private school of Mrs. Nixon in Toronto and at Almo College, St. Thomas. In 1888, when she was still a young girl, she met Eyre, and they eloped to Detroit and were married by the late Rev. Rufus W. Clark, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Eyre in her bill charges Eyre with gross improprieties of conduct, and declares that the high life he led was a contributory cause of the downfall of his insurance company. The pair have been separated since August, 1908. The improprieties which she alleges extend over 18 years. A New York woman, she alleges, was referred to by him as "his tiger lily." This, Mrs. Eyre states, sha found out by intercepting letters written by her husband while he was sick at the Washington Inn, Detroit. The let-ter read: "Dear Tiger,—Please don't write any

The petition on which the show cause order was granted alleges that Eyre has about $2.000 worth of jewelry, fursand silverware belonging to Mrs. Eyre, and that part of this property he has pawned and the pawn tickets have almost attained the redemption limit. Included in the property is a silver toiled set worth $400, and a coral set worth an equal sum. The petitioner expresses fear that the defendant will put his property in such shape that it cannot be attached and will remove himself from the jurisdiction of the Michigan courts.

Bears the Signature Chart Hillstehire Dean Machorski, the oldest Catholic priest in the world, died Thursday, at Thorn a town of Prussia. He was 102 raised up from his shoulder blade, and several passed under it while he dragged it around the grounds. The blood was streaming down his back and as the horns on the head would catch in the ground, the skin on the Indian's back would be peeled out several inches. "In the midst of this torture the old medicine man stepped forward, and, raising his hands toward the sun in an appealing attitude, he addressed the Great Spirit asking him to look down upon the suffering and misery that the Arapahoes at that time were undergoing. He said:
