A raise of five hundred dollars is offered by P. T. Barnum for the best posm descriptive of his eacred white elephant. Would it not be well for some of our local bards to try their luck? We have several posts of no mean order in the city, and judging by a point recently composed by a Knight of St. Crispin in honor of one of the License Inspectors of Queen's County, there is a large stock of takent which only requires inducements, such as Barnum offers, to come forth to be appreciated.

This ferry steamer Etin was launched on Saturday last. The Government have had a number of mon engaged repairing her for the last three or four months. In addition to five streaks of new plank, she is refastened all over with yellow metal, and also coppored. The following are some of the improvements effected: Two new stem posts, rudders and ahoa, new cleck beams, guards, dee, and she has also been redecked and caulked. The Etin new appears to be a very suitable boot, and is considered good for ten years further service. The carpenters have not yet quite finished their work, and it will be fully a weak before the is ready to resume her place on the forty.
