St. Gregory the Great, Whose Thirteenth Centenary Occurs During the Present Year.

Lecture by Mgr. Loughlin

"St. Gregory the Great" was the timely subject of a lecture by Right Rev. Mgr. James F. Lougblin, D. D., What though with dark pages her at the American Oatholic Historical Society on Tuesday evening. The audience was perhaps the largest that has recently assembled in the society's rooms, among those present being Revs. Philip R. McDevitt, A. J. McCue, Peter Murphy and A. J.

The speaker began with an a'lusion to the fact that the thirteenth centenary of the death of St. Gregory the Great cours this year, and that Pope Pius X., who is an ardent Oft baffled in right, doth as oft try advocate of liturgical and chant reform, bas made preparations to commemorate the virtues of St. Gregory during Easter week. He was born in 540 of a noble and pious family. His father was a Senator; his mother, St. Silvis, and two aunts have been canonized. He was born at a time when Italy was overrun by the Lombards and Visigoths, and when the "Black death" scourged the world. His education was the best the age afforded, and he was sepecially well trained in Roman law and music. Evincing a love for the Church, he studied the works of the Fathers, particularly those of SS. Mr. Jacob Jamieson, Jamieson Bros., the well-known Contractors and Builders, Welland, Ont., tells of how he was cured? For fourteen years I was afflicted with kidney trouble which increased in severity the last five years. My most serious attack the last five years. My most serious attack was four years ago, when I was completely incapacitated. I had terrible pains across my back, floating specks before my eyes and was in almost constant torment. I could not sit or stand with ease and was a wreck in health, having no appetite and lost greatly in flesh. I had taken medicine from five different doctors and also numerous other preparations to no purpose. I finally began to take Doan's Kidney Pills and before I had taken five boxes the trouble left me and I now feel better than I have for twenty years. Those who know me know how I was afflicted and say it is almost impossible to believe that I have been cured, yet they know it is so.
