In the neighborhood of streams and rivers, which came down in high flood, fields were swept clean and the crop carried down to the sea. It is still raining. November was as bad as October, and the crops in the fields, sodden and sprouting, are a miserable spectacle.

Loss of Millions.

In his address, Mr. Foley drew attention to the vast poultry market the farmers of Alberta had at their doors in this province. He deplored the fact that poultry dealers were forced to go outside the province for supplies. The farmers of Alberta were missing a great opportunity in allowing our home market to be captured by the farmers of Ontario and Manitoba for most profitable ones ever harvested.
