Uncle Walt
 THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

In olden days they used to rack the criminal and break his back, and one may know how tough he'd feel, if he was broken on the wheel. The torturer, we may opine, believed he had things pretty fine; he knew his trade from A to Z, and no suggestions welcomed him. And yet his work was crude and coarse, for he relied on brutal force. If I were torturer in chief, I'd stretch the poor chaps on the rack until their joints began to crack, and then I'd say: "Oh, laugh and sing, and smile, and smile, like everything!" I have three kinds of rheumatism, and pink pains through my system whiz, and people stand about my chair, and when I paw around and swear they spring their optimistic gags, and tear my temples all to rags! There is a time for smiles and cheers; distinguish then, those times betwixt—don't get your optimism mixed!

Note From "Curler."

Dear Sir—In your report of the "Curler's" meeting several errors have crept in. First you state that Mr. Bennett was the unanimous choice of the meeting, while there was opposition, and healthy and strong, too. Next you say Mr. Berteau and Mr. LeMessurier were "appointed" senior and junior Vice-Presidents. This is not correct. These gentlemen were elected to these positions. The Committee of Management was also "elected," not "appointed."

Royal Oak Annual.

Last night the annual meeting of Royal Oak Lodge, L. O. A., was held in Victoria Hall. Mr. J. C. Puddister presided and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—W.M.—Bro. N. Andrews, elected. D.M.—Bro. Henry Thomas, elected. Chaplain—Bro. J. Wiseman, re-elected. Rec. Sec.—Bro. R. A. Simmons, re-elected. Fin. Sec.—Bro. L. J. White, elected. Treas.—Bro. R. J. Ivany, elected. 1st Lec.—Bro. Noseworthy. 2nd Lec.—Bro. L. Penney. D.C.—Bro. W. Curlew. Committee—Bros. L. Froud, G. Edgecome, H. Milley, T. Morris and W. Noseworthy.

Whalers Gone Home.

All the captains and crews of the whalers which work around our coasts left by the Carthaginian yesterday for their homes in Norway, with the exception of Capt. Davidson, of the Hump, who goes to Vancouver. He will take charge of a whaler there which will prosecute the fishery in the west of Japan.

Change of Captains.
 We understand that Capt. Burg has changed the command of the schr. Helen Steward, and will in future sail from New York. Capt. Jones, late of the schr. Success, which on several occasions took cargoes of fish from St. John's to Brazil, will succeed him.

WOMAN'S SPHERE.
 A generally understood, woman's sphere is a condition of penitential servitude to which she has been assigned by the brutality of man. It is bounded on the north by the nursery, on the south by the kitchen, on the east by the griddle, and on the west by the darning board. Whenever a man marries a woman who shows a tendency to delicious dissipation by uniting with a sewing circle or drinking in the delights of the public library, he rears up at the breakfast table and emits a few soothing remarks about woman's sphere. A man will go to the club and play Kelly pool until he has to have the oxygen treatment between shots, but if his wife joins the maddening throng at the moving picture show one night a week he will recall the fact, in plain and simple language, that his mother never left the house except to gather the eggs. When a man gets to the verge of a nervous breakdown as the result of overwork on the golf links he goes to the city and takes a well-earned rest on the Great White way, but if his wife wants to spend the weekend with her folks four miles south of the village he reminds her that in the economy of nature, rent comes before livery hire. Woman herself is largely to blame for this tortifying condition. Woman's sphere, properly speaking, is to run the house and tell man where to head in. The "shrinking violet and cringing vine" proposition is high-class strategy up to the departure of the officiating clergyman, but the role of the pampered Amazon is the only one that prevents misunderstanding after marriage and makes the home a picture of the joys of heaven.

Dr. de Van's Female Pills

A reliable French regulator never fails. These pills are exceedingly powerful in regulating the generative portion of the female system. Refuse all cheap imitations. Dr. de Van's are sold at 25c a box, or three for $1.00. Mailed to any address. The Seebell Drug Co., St. Catharines, Ont.

Dicks & Co.'s Store Extension.

Mr. Leamon's enterprise has lately made the Book Store of Dicks & Co. one of the finest of its kind in the city. The new extension that has been built on at the rear is 26 x 20 feet and is proportional to the main building in height, breadth and length. There are four storeys. The place is finished in elaborate style, steel girders are used and all the floors are finished in maple.

A Fisherman Drowned.

Both Mr. Hutchings and I. G. Sullivan last evening had messages from Magistrate Squerry, of Rose Blanche, stating that while two men, Walter Hatcher and Thos. Stroud, were out overhauling their trawls, they in some way upset their dory and Hatcher was drowned. Stroud, after a hard struggle, managed to get up on the bottom of the dory, when men from the shore rescued him. As far as is known the body of Hatcher has not been recovered.

At College Hall.

The annual sale of the L. C. A. S. and Young Ladies' Guild was well patronized last night. Mr. John Leamon opened the sale at 4 o'clock. He made a brief address replete with words of encouragement and congratulation. He suggested that in future it might be well to seek the co-operation of the friends in the outports who are interested in the work of the College and get them in touch with the annual sale. The sale was then declared open. The President, Mrs. Herder, and her zealous assistants had a busy time right up to the closing hour. The tables were filled with desirable goods and the stalls contained a lavish display of candy, fruit, toys, etc. The hall was nicely decorated and brilliantly lighted. The sale will be continued this afternoon. There will be a concert at night under Mr. A. Mews' direction. Amongst those taking part are Misses Strang, Rogers, Johnson and Curtis.

Docked for Repairs.

The Allan-Liner Pretorian which is now in Halifax has been dry docked. She will there get a new propeller to replace that which had a blade knocked off on the voyage to St. John's. After getting this done she goes to Philadelphia and will touch at Halifax on the run here.
