dealing with operations in the Dardanelles, says: The plan of opera-tions on June 28th was to throw forward the left of General Sir Ian Ham-ilton's line southeast of Krithia, and establish a new line facing east on the ground gained. Capturing two lines of Turkish trenches, east of Saghir Dere, and three lines to the west, all and more hoped for from the operations, was gained. The Australian corps was ordered to co-operate by making a vigorous demonstration. The action opened at 9 o'clock with bombardment by heavy artillery. Assistance was rendered by the French. This bombardment The northernmost objective proved most valuable.

At 10.30 the field artillery opened now being attained, but the Gurkhas, pressing on under the cliffs captured At 10.30 the field artillery opened fire to cut the wire in front of the Turkish trenches. This was done. Its effect on one of the enemy's trenches near the sea was great. Very accurate fire of the cruiser Talbot, and the destroyers Scorpion and Wolverine succeeded in keeping down the artillow five from that curreter an important knoll still further forward. This they fortified and held during the night, making our total gain on the left 1,000 yards.

During the afternoon the trenches, a small portion of which remained uncaptured on the right, were attacked, but the enemy held on stubborn-ly, supported by machine guns, and work at Saghir Dere, known as the Boomerang Redoubt, was assaulted. During the night the enemy made a This fort, which is very strongly situated and protected by extra strong wire entanglements, had long been a source of trouble. LONDON, June 30. Newspapers reaching London from Germany are particularly interesting just now. For the first time since the to have subsided, and while in many quarters there are sufficient allusions to peace prospects, significant be-cause they are made with official sanction, there is a general realiza-tion that the naval and military outlook is not so promising for the Fatherland as appeared a few months ago. In the course of a lecture the sea power of Germany's enemi which was delivered by Herr Gehinra Tamm, at Berlin, a few days ago, the following statement was made: "To-day the strength of the English fleet hardly less, as compared with ours. at the beginning of the war, for possess 95 of the first class and of the second class, in spite of the ses which they have incurred, ich amount to 16 and 13 per cent. that England retained all the ships which she was building for foreign States. Our submarines still have a great deal to do." This, of course, is only half the truth, since warships have been completed in the English

Another attempt to escape from the prison camp at Leigh, Lancashire, where last week a German named Schmidt was shot dead while trying to make off—took place shortly after 10 o'clock on Sunday morning fortnight. A pig dealer who buys all the food refuse of the camp was carting away a number of tubs. The unusual weight of one roused his suspicions. He removed a quantity of cabbage leaves and some bags, and found a German soldier in the tub. The guard was summoned and the prisoner removed in custody. When discovered the German was wearing civilian clothes. How he obtained them has not yet been ascertained.—London Paper, June 21.

The dew of doom hit spuds in bloom, and slew the tender onion: viewed the wreck, and said. "By heck!" and other things from Bunyan. All greens of worth drooped to the earth, and died and went to thunder; but useless weeds all went to seedsno rain could keep them under. When weather's dry, and in the sky a red-hot sun is burning, it gets the goats of corn and oats, the wheat to wastage turning; the carrots shrink, and on the blink you see the parsnips lying, but weeds still thrive and keep alive, while useful things are dving. It was a suit in Chancery, and there was a great gathering of the deceased's family, quarrelling, as relatives will, over the division of the spoils. The lawyers engaged chuckled, for the suit seemed likely to be prolonged and complicated.

There were many lawyers, too, and the judge marvelled at the immensity of the deceased man's family as silk and stuff rose in rapid succession, introducing themselves with the usual formula: "And I, my lord, am for the nephews, or nieces, or fifteenth cousins removed, as the case may be, of the deceased." The procession seemed interminable, but at last it came to an end. Then a small voice
