PLAGIARISED AND OTHERWISE.

CUBS—10; B. I. S.—7.
 Yesterday morning's game, called for 10.30, as usual began punctually half an hour late. It resulted in a win for the Cubs with a score of ten to seven, but the Irish boys put up a good fight and, had they not been short of several of their regular players, the result might have been otherwise.

During the second innings Pitcher Carew, of the Irish, received the ball plumb in the right optic and had to be escorted home in Mr. Hartnett's motor ambulance. The Irish then substituted Wall as Pitcher and he sure did make good. This man is a brand new player and he covered himself with glory. He certainly has the goods and with a little more practice will be a valuable addition to the Irish team.

Orr, of the Cubs, pitched a dandy game. He certainly is some jug—beg pardon—pitcher we mean!

The score was as follows:
 Cubs 110131102—10
 B. I. S. 230010010—7

 Comments on Yesterday's Games.
 know about Blazer Wall! Some kid, know about Blazer Wall! Some kid, eh?

And where did the Cubs get the last cute little Cub to be added to their fold?
 Orr is some boy, even if his "wind-up" does remind you of the reverse side of a "Big Ben" announcing that it's time to roll off the sheets.

Oh you Jenkins! Five "Flies" running! Quite a "Tanglefoot" proposition!
 And Cooney! He plays on Sunday. Congratulations to Mr. Britt of the Wanderers on the happy event that was happening at home while daddy fought for the Blue and White.

Who knows better whether three men are out—the man in charge of the score sheet or the talkative guy in the field?
 And what is the attraction in Ye Ancient Capital for so many of the B. I. S.? Oh you S—die!

The Irish boys produced some good new talent. Harry Whalen considerably added to their score and there were others.

AFTERNOON'S GAME.
 Red Lions: 3. Wanderers: 2.
 The afternoon's game also started late and the Managers of both teams were seen eagerly scanning the Grand Stand endeavouring to ascertain if there was any talent among the spectators which could be pressed into service to take the place of members of their respective teams who had "fallen" by the wayside.

However, things got under way by 3.30 and the game proved to be the most interesting since Baseball made its debut in Newfoundland. The result was a win for the Red Lions and Manager Hiltz is being showered with congratulations.

Features of the game were the splendid pitching of Cooney, who gave a marvellous exhibition, and the fielding of Jenkins, who was the star of the day. Nothing could get by him. He certainly is an acquisition to any team.
 King, of the Wanderers, was in his usual excellent form which is "enough said."
 The score was:
 Red Lions 00000201x—3
 Wanderers 000002000—2

Annual Picnic.
 Cochrane Street Sunday School held its annual picnic at Smithville on Tuesday. At 11.30 a.m. the teachers and scholars, accompanied by the Rev. G. J. Bond, D.D., proceeded to the grounds, the weather being ideal, and a most enjoyable day was spent. The usual games were indulged in until tea was served, and the good things provided by the Messrs. Furlong were thoroughly appreciated and ample justice done, and that the inner man was satisfied goes without saying. Return was made to the city at 7 p.m., all feeling the better for the day's outing.
