Announcement

In the course of a few days we hope to announce the opening of an up-to-date Optical Department.

We have installed and will use the very latest instruments for the detection of eye errors, and among them is the finest Optalmometer that can be procured, which is unsurpassed in the locating of astigmatism, the low degrees of which are so difficult to detect by ordinary tests. We believe this is the only instrument of its kind in the country and our foremost object in installing this expensive equipment is to give our customers that satisfaction and service in our new department that has always been in evidence in the other branches of our business.

Watch for the date of the opening of this new department, and if you suffer from eyesight trouble, allow us to give expert assistance in removing it.
