Coughing
Is Nature's effort to expel foreign substances from the bronchial passages. Prequently, this causes inflammation and the need of an anodyne. No other expectorant or anodyne is equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It assists Nature in ejecting the mucus, allays irritation, induces repose, and is the most popular of all cough cures.

"Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred diseases, there is none, within the range of my experience, so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About four years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel comparatively secure."

—Mrs. L. L. Brown, Denmark, Miss.

"A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed hight after night which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continual use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected."—Horace Fairbrother, Rockingham, Vt.

Politics are beginning to simmer a little in China. The Emperor lately signed an order for a tax of 110 taels the picul on native-grown opium. The Viceory of Liang Hu thereupon issued an order for a tax of 34 taels, "which rate," said he, "we have settled after mature consideration and careful observation." There has never been such an issue as this in China.

All the performances of the American interviewer pale before that of a French reporter's success with the Eyraud jury. French juries are appointed some days before the trial, and this enterprising journalist succeeded in getting from each one of the Eyraud jury his opinion. Many were for condemnation. Consequently the trial has been postponed until next month.

The ancient and ghostly ceremony of the religious brotherhood known as "Of the Souls in Purgatory," in the Republic of Marino, was performed for the last time last month. The brothers dressed in black, with masks and torches carry a skeleton stretched on a white sheet on a bier about the town, winding up with a sort of Danse Macabre. The bishops and the civil authorities, with, it is said, the sanction of the Pope, have ordered that the dance shall never be held again.

An encore refused created its greatest known disturbance in Dublin two weeks ago at a concert in which Signor Foli, an Irishman by birth, sang. He sang so well that the audience vociferously insisted on hearing him again, but he politely declined. Thereupon the gallery raised such an infernal racket with whistling, stamping and shouting that many women left the hall terrified. Mme. Essipoff, who was next nouting that many women left the hall errified. Mme. Essipoff, who was next upon the programme, appeared to play her solo, but she had to retreat. Then another vocalist tried, but the disturbance being kept up unremittingly, he was driven off the stage and the concert came to an end

The Saltest Water on Earth.

The saltest piece of water on earth is, acording to Consul-General Stewart, the Lake of Urumia in Persia, situated more than 4,000 feet above the sea level. It is much salter than the Dead Sea, the water being found, on analysis, to contain nearly 22 per cent of salt. The lake is 84 miles long and 24 miles broad, and its northern coasts are encrusted with a border of salt glittering white in the sun. It is said that no living thing can survive in it except a very small species of jelly-fish.
