GODERICH, Feb. 13.—The Reform convention held at Dungannon yesterday to nominate a candidate to contest the West Ridding of Huron was the largest ever held in this county, the large auditorium of the Agricultural Hall being crowded to its utmost capacity. Precident Manning asked to be relieved temporarily of the duties of chairman, so that he might be able to move a resolution. On the chair being taken by Mr. Wm. Young, ex-reeve of Colborne, the following resolution, moved by A. H. Manning, seconded by D. A. Forrester, was read:

The mottoes behind the speakers were read:
That at this moment the Liberal cause in the Dominion demands that in every consilency the strongest possible man should be placed in nomination, and that therefore this convention without a ballot unanimously nominate our old standard-bearer, Mr. M. C. Cameron, as the Liberal candidate in the coming election.

The mottoes behind the speakers were:
The People Want Bread, Not Sham Loyalty.
Tory Annexationists of 1819 Are the Loyalsts of 1819 Are the Loyalsts.
The Country Demands a Policy That Will Bring Back to Cannda 1,000,000 of Hey Sons in the United States
Through the N.P.
Mr. Robert Jaffray, president of the Toronto Reform Association, presided and introduced the speakers.
The speeches were worthy of the occasion and of the vast audience. That of Minister of Agriculture Drury was filled with facts and figures which every farmer will understand and take to heart. Sir Richard Cartwright's was a masterly reply to the speeches of the Ministers delivered in the same place a week ago, pointed with the terrible sarcasm of which he is a master. The Hon. S. H. Blake struck the right note exactly. His withering denunciation of the boodlers and monopolists who are trailing the "old flag" in the dirt, and his eloquent desciption of the benefits which would flow from the adoption of the Liberal policy, were received with thunders of applause. Mr. Hardy spoke very briefly, but long enough to tell the audience that Mr. Mowat and his colleagues are heart and soul with the Liberals in this fight for freedom. At on standard-nearer, Mr. M. C. Cameron, as the Liberal candidate in the coming election.

The resolution was spoken to by Messrs. Manning, Forester, Jas. Somerville, ex. M. P., D. McGillieuddy and Dr. Sloan, and after the strongest possible pressure had been brought to bear upon him Mr. Cameron finally acceded to the wish of the meeting. The announcement of his decision to contest the riding was received with the wildest enthusiasu by the great gathering, and cheer upon cheer rent the air. The fact that West Huron will be contested by Mr. Cameron practically assures the constituthat West Huron will be contested by Mr. Cameron practically assures the constituency to the Liberal party, if the work that should be done is carried out honestly and thoroughly by the opponents of high taxation in this section. The Liberals are in great heart over Mr. Cameron's acceptance of the candidature, and there is a corresponding depression amongst their opponents over the fact that the redoubtable Cameron is once more to the fore.

MR. RYKERT RETIRES.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Feb. 13.—At the Conservative convention here Mr. Sylvester Hardy spoke very brieny, but long steeds, to tell the audience that Mr. Mowat and his colleagues are heart and soul with the Liberals in this fight for freedom. At the close of Mr. Hardy's inspiriting remarks Mr. Jaffray called for cheers for the Queen, which were given with as much vim as if the audience had been composed of "old flaggists." Then a mighty cheer was given for Mr. Laurier, leader of the Liberals; another for Sir Richard Cartwright, another for Mr. Mowat. An ovation to Hon. S. H. Blake followed, and the meeting closed with cheers for the chairman and the singing of "God Save the Queen." In a few moments the thousands of citizens who for four hours had packed the building had dispersed to all quarters of the city. Conservative convention here Mr. Sylvester Neelon was nominated to contest the country in the Dominion election. Mr. J. C. Rykert was named, but declined in Mr. Neelon's favor. was named, but declined in Mr. Neclon's favor.

OTTAWA COUNTY.

The King of the Gatineau, in retiring from the field in Ottawa county, has surrendered that fine county to the Liberals. The Liberal convention for the county met Tbursday in Hull. Over 600 delegates were present. Mr. C. B. Major, amid cheers, threw up his candidature in favor of Mr. Chas. Deviin, jun., who was unanimously selected as the standard bearer of the Reform party.

MR. BLAKE'S SUCCESSOR.

BOWMANVILLE, Feb. 13.—At the Liberal convention here to-day Mr. Burke D. Simpson, president of the West Durham Reform Association announced that Hon. Elward Blake had written him a letter sating his final determination to retire from public life. murdered woman's head, suggesting that cither the "Ripper" or the woman was disguised.

The spot where the murdered woman's body was found was not a stonesthrow from a police station. Upon being questioned by his superior officer, the policeman who found the body said that in addition to the nervous twitching of the lips and the rolling of the eyes the woman's limbs were moving when he found her. The officer said as soon as he discovered that a crime had been committed he rushed to the end of the archway and sounded an alarm with his whistle, while the "Ripper" must have escaped through the neighboring streets. A large number of people who wore immediately attracted to the scene of the nurder by the police alarm assisted the search of the officers who soon appeared. The wound across the murdered woman's throat was evidentaly caused by a sharp powerful stroke, and nothing can shake the belief of the police, but that for the approach of some pedestrian, possibly the policeman who fund the body, the victim would have been mutilated in a manner similar to that of the Whitechapel murders. Grip's last number contains several cartoons which are timely and hit off the political situation neatly. In one the protected manufacturer, in the guise of a ventriloquist, is pulling the string attached to Sir John Macdonald, the "lay figure." Sir John is asked to instruct the audience in the true principles of loyalty. "True loyalty," says the lay figure, "is free trade in natural products with the Yankees, but free trade with them in manufactured articles is rank treason to the old fag." Another represents Sir John, Sir Hector and Mr. Foster fishing, and the following dialogue taking place:

Hec—Vat kine of bait you got?

Jack—Here 'tis; same as last time (N. P.)

Hec—Yah! no good! Dey vill not any more bite at heem!

Mr.*C. Russ, of Beamsville, who has been for 40 years engaged in manufacturing, having a sawmill, planing mill, machine shop, foundry and factory for making sulky plows, harrows, rollers, etc., speaking at Hamilton last week said: "Business is in a much worse condition now than it was in 1878. There is, in my opinion, less manufacturing in Canada this year than in the last 25. The farmers are away down. They cannot buy what they really need." He said also that his condition would be vastly improved by free trade with the States.

At a recent public meeting in Frontenac county R. J. Eilbeck pointed out that he paid $1 20 for wheat, 90 cents for barley and 90 cents for peas ten years ago, the market value of which now is 95 cents for wheat, 50 cents for barley and 62 cents for

Will the Liberal party destroy the manufacturers? Go ask Armstrong, of Gueiph; Leonard, of London; Waterous, of Brantford. Will the N. P. preserve the manufacturers? Go ask Maxwell, of St. Marys; Watson, of Ayr; Elliott, of London. Before the N. P. was, these men were. Today, after twelve years of protection, they are in a worse condition that they were in in 1878.—[St. Thomas Journal.

The farmers of Canada will judge a neglectful and oppressive Government by its twelve years of ill-treatment and not by gilded promises in the face of an elec-tion.

It is not the duties upon grain, live stock and flour that the farmers have been pro-testing against, but the excessive taxes upon woolen goods, ironware, furniture, household utensils, cottons and other neceshousehold utensits, cottons and other necessaries. Yet the Government proposes to keep up the duties upon those articles that combines may flourish. They propose to make the farmers face unlimited competition with American agricultural products, but will continue to protect the comesters. - [Quebec Telegraph.

It is all very well to wave the "old flag"
—to yell out undying loyalty to England, and to proclaim that the country is prosperous. What though a flag floats from every schoolhouse—will that pay the mortgages on our farms, or even a portion of the interest? Not one cent. But we do know that if farmers have free admission for their produce to the markets of the United States it will give them more money than they are getting to-day; and this, while adding to the profits of the farm, will also add at once to its selling value, if the farmer wishes to sell.

A Tory canvasser it endeavoring to make farmers hereabouts believe that if we had reciprocity with the States, the value of wheat in this market would decline. He gives a Conservative miller as authority for the statement that millers would not care anything about local supply; that they would bring in their wheat from Detroit in car load lots. The story won't bear investigation. The market price of wheat in Chatham on Saturday was 95 cents. In Detroit the same day No. 2 red was quoted at $1 003. Add 3 cents for freight, and leave commission and handling out of the calculation altogether, and the Catham miller would pay $1 03\frac{3}{2} for what he can buy at home for 95 cents! The cost of every barrel of flour would be increased 40 cents. People can't be humbugged with such yarns as that of the Tory canvasser. Put the case in another way. Wheat in Chatham, 95 cents; freight, 3 cents-98 cents. In Detroit, $1 03\frac{3}{2}. Profit in shipping Kent wheat to American market, 2\frac{3}{2} cents. How would reciprocity work in that case?—[Chatham Banner.
