WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF THE Y.

M. C. A.

There was a large attendance at the monthly meeting on Monday afternoon of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian Association. The reports of the several committees were very encouraging, especially that of the finance, which reported having collected during the past month $29.40. The president made an earnest appeal that all the members would make a special effort for work in the future. Special attention was given to the plans of the social committee, who have arranged for entertainments for the young men, to be held in the parlors once a month, the first of the series to be on Friday next, it being designated an "Apple Social." The New Year's day reception was also talked over, when the ladies took for a great success, and hope for assistance from all the auxiliary's members. Eleven new members were proposed and accepted.

SOLDIERS TO RECEIVE WATCHES.

Gold Timepieces To Be Souvenirs of the African Campaign

If the Council Supplies the Necessary
$2,000—Military Concert and Parade—London Wants a Gun.

Every Londoner who fought in South Africa will be given a gold watch as a souvenir of the campaign, and a token of the pride that the city takes in its soldiers. A motion to this effect, made by Ald. Douglass and supported by Mayor Rumball and others, was carried almost unanimously, at a meeting of the reception committee held last night. A sub-committee, comprising Messrs. J. W. Jones, R. A. Carrodus, E. J. Macdonald and ex-Mayor Wilson, was appointed to wait upon the council and ask for the necessary funds, which will probably amount to something over $2,000. These will doubtless be forthcoming, as many of the aldermen were present last night, and apparently favored the proposition. The watches will have cases of pure gold, and upon motion of Ald. Gerratt, to those who already have watches, a money equivalent will be given.

An unexpected delay in accepting tenders occurred through a misunderstanding respecting them. While making some inquiries about the tenders, Mr. Peter Bartwistle referred to Mr. Thomas Gleason being upon the committee, while also submitting tenders, to which the latter warmly re-

Dissolution of Partnership.

The partnership heretofore existing between John S. Brown and R. C. Brown, shoe merchants, at 145 Dundas street, under the firm name of "J. S. Brown & Co.," has been dissolved, and John S. Brown has entered into partnership with his brother, Frank A. Brown, under the firm name of "Brown Brothers." This firm will open their new Boot Shop, 182 Dundas street, adjoining Strong's Drug Store, on or about Dec. 1. In the meantime Mr. Jack Brown (the name he is better known by) will be at the Bargain Shoe Store, where he will be pleased to meet his friends who may require footwear that he can recommend and at prices extremely low. It is not old, shelf-worn stock one is getting when purchases are made at that store, but new, up-to-date, reliable footwear; and, while the present stock lasts, boots and shoes will be sold at a lower figure than ever known in London before for such goods, as a complete clearance must be made before moving. Don't forget the place—BARGAIN SHOE STORE, 182 Dundas Street.

pled. He resented the suggestion of any underhand work, and withdrew both his name and tender from the committee. This the other members refused to allow, as they were agreed that he had been absolutely fair. To overcome the possibility of objection, Mr. Brown's name was added to the committee, all tenders already received will be returned, and new ones for solid gold only will be called for.

Ald. Jolly's idea was to give each man a gold medal about the size of a $10 gold piece, as Toronto is doing. Ex-Ald. J. W. Jones said that he favored anything tangible, but he wanted no beer to be supplied to the men.

A grand military concert will be held when the men return. The suggestion was made by Ald. Winnett, who believed that if a small fee were charged, $500 might thus be realized. The committee that will arrange for it consists of Messrs. Little, MacRobert, Gleason, Love, Wray, Gerry, Winnett, Bartlett and Lieut.-Col. Stacey. Col. Stacey thought that it would be best to have the reception in the afternoon, when a fine procession might be held. This will be arranged by a committee.

According to a motion made by Ald. Stevenson, Mayor Rumball will immediately take steps to procure one or more of the guns captured from the Boers.

The names of Messrs. Wardell, Wilkey and Bartwistle were added to the committee.

DEATH OF MISS FREEL.

Miss Hattie B. Freel, well known to many Londoners, died on Tuesday morning at the residence of her brother-in-law, Rev. Rural Dean Hodgins, Seaford. Miss Freel was the youngest daughter of Mr. Morgan Freel, of Thamesford, and was a bright, clever young woman. On her entrance examination she won the Hegler medal at the Thamesford public school, and afterwards attended the London Collegiate Institute, where she obtained her second class university professional certificate. After teaching a year near Delaware, she attended the Ottawa Normal, where she attracted the attention of Inspector Gleasham. He offered her a position in the city school system, where she successfully for over twelve years. A severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism, followed by typhoid, left her with heart trouble. A year ago the heart gave her leave of absence, and it is supposed that all the ailments she might regain her health. During the summer her health improved somewhat, but recently she was taken with a bad attack of heart weakness, which proved fatal. Her funeral takes place at Thamesford tomorrow.

DRIVEN ASHORE.

FOOD IN NEW YORK:

An Experienced Physician's Work.

Dr. Hyland MacGrath in experimenting on the result of food on his own body, says: "After eating four heaping teaspoons of Grape-Nuts with a little cream, I had occasion to walk about fourteen miles, and was surprised at my feeling of strength and buoyancy. On other occasions, when I have taken careful note of my feelings and sensations, I have discovered that intellectual tasks are comparatively easy when using Grape-Nuts at each meal."

"Of course, I understand that the theory regarding Grape-Nuts is practically perfect. That is, the food contains elements that are well known, and furnished in a concentrated and quite delicious form, it is reasonable to expect results, but the physical demonstration of these results is more satisfactory, always, than the mere statement of theory."

"Grape-Nuts, combined with fruit and reasonable vegetables, I prescribe to adding women and delicate men, and have not had a case yet that has not furnished gratifying results. A nervous, irritable man of 72 became fat and amiable using Grape-Nuts food as a regular (but not exclusive) diet."

"I have found slender, anemic girls improved rapidly in health, spirits, weight and looks on Grape-Nuts food. It would be a blessing to thousands of such girls if this food was used more largely in boarding schools and seminaries, not to be administered as medicine, but as a pure, healthful and highly nourishing food." Dr. MacGrath lives at 96 Fifth Avenue, New York.

The Necessity Of a Change....

It is necessary for the welfare of our being, in order to preserve our health, that we should have an occasional change.

A change of dress is as essential as a change of climate. Means are required to accomplish either.

In the matter of dress, Fit-Reform disposes of this question, as it gives to the consumer two suits at the cost of one as offered by the merchant tailor, and thus answers one of nature's demands.

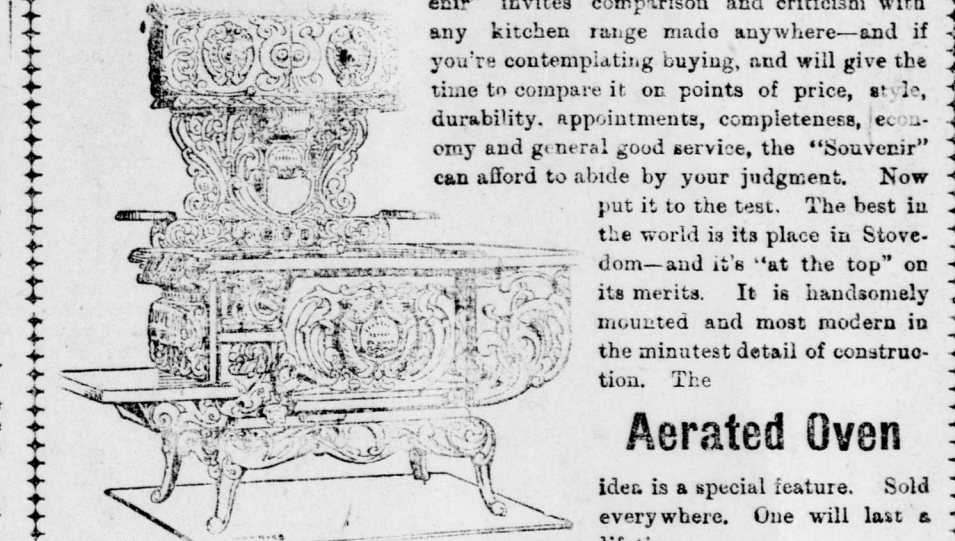

We invite inspection at our health resort.

"SOUVENIR" the Best by Test

"Test and try before you buy" is a homely, old, commercial invitation, but it's good to give and to get in the purchasing of a new range. The "Souvenir" invites comparison and criticism with any kitchen range made anywhere—and if you're contemplating buying, and will give the time to compare it on points of price, style, durability, appointments, completeness, economy and general good service, the "Souvenir" can afford to abide by your judgment. Now put it to the test. The best in the world is its place in Stove-dom—and it's "at the top" on its merits. It is handsomely mounted and most modern in the minutest detail of construction. The

A SWORD FOR GEN. CRONJE.

Pauls and the whiterobed choristers, surrounded by thousands of spectators, met the procession. As the great doors flew open the sunlight streamed in and the voices of the choir, strong and sweet, broke the solemn silence. Standing on chairs, the vast congregation strained every nerve to get a glimpse of the coffin, which was almost hidden beneath wreaths of flowers. Around the opening which led to the crypt this inscription was worked in flowers: "His sun has gone down while it was yet day." Sir John Stainer led the choir in singing another selection from "The Light of the World."

Archdeacon Sinclair read the latter part of the service, and then the coffin was lowered into the crypt, the silence being broken only by the quiet sobbing of a few women. The benediction was solemnly given by the dean, and then there occurred what had never before been heard in St. Paul's. Fifty women, all dressed in the deepest black, and the same number of men gathered near the coffin, arose from their knees. They were the chorus of the Savoy Theater. In quivering, trembling tones they commenced to sing Sullivan's "Brother, thou art gone before us." A great hush fell on the crowd that had started to leave the building. Gathering courage, the women's voices swelled out until every corner of the vast cathedral re-echoed the sad requiem. Then the organ took up the majestic strains of the Dead March from "Saul," the choir, clergy and mourners filed out, and one of the most impressive national funerals ever held in England came to an end.

Just as Mr. Choate, with Charles Wyndham, George R. Sims and other well-known persons arrived at the Chapel Royal, the attendants received orders to close the doors, as the chapel was full. Mr. Choate expostulated and showed his card of admission, but all to no avail. Mr. Sims remarked in a low tone: "The Anglo-American entente cordial is shattered after all these years." For ten minutes the U. S. ambassador was kept waiting, but finally the attendants were ordered to admit him and the other distinguished persons with him. The service was now well advanced.

$12,500,000 FOR GUNS.

The bringing of the Indian army up to modern standards is going to be expensive, but the government mean to face the situation. The present proportion of guns to men is something over two per thousand. In the case of the Indian field army at least this must be raised to over four. To do this it is found that 400 lakhs of rupees ($12,500,000) must be spent.

The British Museum has been enriched by a complete set of Kruger coinage from the Pretoria mint.
