Member of 204th Battalion First Death Victim From Heat.

[Special to The Advertiser.] CAMP BORDEN, July 11.-Ali is quiet in Camp Borden tonight. All battalions have thrown out guards and pickets and the camps are surrounded y armed guards at ten paces intervals. Sir Sam Hughes has been here and plainly telling the soldiers that they were here and would stay here.

The distress of the men was slight-alleviated by the roads being inkled and men carrying water. The dust on the parade grounds was as allowed to rinse their mouths and thus addressed the officers briefly along the usual lines, but evidently ordered them to concede some of the demands of the men. Sir Sam bestowed great praise on the 149th Battalion, and they indeed presented a very fine appear-
