Newcastle, N.H., Aug. 1.—A surprise party marked this morning's play in the tennis tournament. Budlong, whom everyone had considered invincible, was defeated in a two-set match by W. M. Sudder of St. Paul School. The result of this match puts the finals in doubt, and there will be a hard fight for the first honors. The first match of the morning was a double between Terry and Hinckley and Wright and Davis, which was won by the former pair in two sets. Leo Ware, the interscholastic champion, defeated J. Bertram®Read of Harvard in a very pretty match.

sociation to lay probably this fall a cinder path between the rails on the Kingston-road, from the Woodbine racing track to the top of the hill at Main-street, East Toronto, a distance of about one and a half miles, is well received by the business men and hotelkeepers along the route, who, with the local bicycle clubs, are willing to do their share in contributing towards it.

The Kingston-road is undoubtedly the best and most popular highway anywhere near the City of Toronto, and with the cinder path, which it is now proposed to lay along that portion of it lying in Norway, where a steep and rough grade exists, it should attract more bicyclists than ever.

As to the cinder path being obstructed by the Scarboro' electric service, regular cars leave the Woodbine each day of the week, except Saturday, when one more car is added, at intervals of 13 minutes, and even with the extra car and special excursions taken into
