It Saves Doctors' Bills!

This is the Rev. A. D. McLeod's opinion of Zam-Buk. This clergyman, who lives at Harcourt, N.B., writing to the proprietors, remarks upon the unusual popularity which Zam-Buk enjoys in the homes of the people of his parish. He says: "I know of nothing that can compare with it. Having charge of an extensive mission, over which I travel constantly, I meet with many sick and afflicted people, and I have been amazed at the good which Zam-Buk is doing daily. I have learned, as an absolute fact, that for bad ulcers, old wounds, eczema and skin diseases of all kinds the healing powers of Zam-Buk are simply marvellous. For the painful ailment, piles, also, it is excellent. Many a doctor's bill is saved by the use of Zam-Buk." For cuts, burns and scalds Zam-Buk is equally good. Nothing ends pain and heals so quickly. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send 1c. stamp for free trial box.

ZOUAVES WILL BE POPULAR

Idea Applied to Both Skirt and Jacket in Collection of Spring Models From Paris.

Possibly the most salient feature of the collection of models for spring brought over to New York from Paris is the prominence of the zouave idea. This does not apply only to the skirt, for the elongated jacket is a feature of the zouave dress, as is also the bound-in hipline, and these features are all repeated and played upon in this collection.

While it may not seem that there is anything startlingly new in a dropped waistline, the manner in which the hips are bound, the jacket and the showing of the blouse section under the jacket is distinctive. It produces really another silhouette which, although narrow, is not straight and binds in around the hips.

DAINTY BOUDOIR CAP

Sometimes you see a thing and you call it pretty or beautiful for lack of a word that would express the real exquisiteness and charm of the thing you were describing. This unusual boudir cap is just that sort of thing. It has that Dutch effect, new this season, but which has been in vogue on and off for many years. The Venetian lace is held in place with a narrow pique blue ribbon.

Long Capes.

The long capes are shown in plush, in panne velvet and in various furs, and also heavily brocaded satin. Such models invariably have a tendency to the "tube" lines, so smart a season or two back. This line gives even the unfortunately "heavy set" matron the slimmer appearance so dear to the heart of her, and this is bound to be more popular than is the voluminous folds of a very few capes daringly exhibited.

A novelty for smokers is a small metal matchbox to be clamped on the stem of a pipe.

Honesty

Honesty of purpose is indeed a rare gem and is admirable so long as exercised in the right direction. We should be honest in all our endeavors if we wish them crowned with success. The most successful business men will tell you of the three I's—Industry, Intelligence, Integrity. Added to this, economy, and one's business career will be a success, not a venture. We are prone to wonder if the very rich that we read about, but very seldom see, have acquired their wealth honestly and honorably. Are they really captains of industry or rogues of society? It is certainly beyond the calibre of most men to accumulate money to the million mark. They who have made this amount of money were gifted with brain power above the average and have used it with a purpose. As a reformer I may not agree with the methods by which they are permitted to accumulate money in this fashion, but if you should place yourself in their position you probably would not have the calibre to fill their shoes. Why then should we lesser mortals complain of the greater? What one man can do another man may not be endowed to do. We are all born equal in a sense to make the best of ourselves, but some are born stronger physically and mentally than others, and with fair sailing, cannot avoid getting rich. How they make their money and spend it is a matter of their own conscience. But that there are many who prosper for a time by dishonest methods we cannot deny, but we know their end is not good. Robert Burns has said that an honest man is the noblest work of God, and if we seek for ideals of perfection in man we must not look to the rich and crafty, who may have developed certain lines of their nature, at the expense of other and more important attributes of their soul, but to the honest men of Robert Burns' idea, who, while passing through this world have not set their hearts upon riches and the vanity of the world, but have stood fearlessly for the best and noblest traits of human character.

Foul Air And Disease

"Free as the air we breathe" is not applicable to foul air. Like most other commodities the later exacts a toll from everyone who uses it. Lowered vitality, with a consequent predisposition to such diseases as colds, pneumonia and tuberculosis is the price that is paid for breathing impure air. It is probably true that a large percentage of the homes in countries possessing a climate similar to Canada's, are, to a greater or less extent, breeding places for such diseases, especially during the winter months. This is the outstanding reason for the marked prevalence of such diseases in Canada, diseases for which fresh air is the potent remedy, says "Conservation," a Dominion government publication.

Tightly closed rooms, constructed for the sole purpose of retaining heat, soon become filled with poisonous gasses, exhaled by the inmates. The remedy is, of course, better ventilation. It can be only a question of time when our governments insist that scientific ventilating systems be installed in all new buildings. Public health and public opinion will demand it. In older buildings, where the only ventilation is obtained from windows, the air may be "flushed" by opening the windows at intervals for a few moments. This means a loss of some heat, but if the windows are not left open too long, the saving in doctors' bills will more than offset the extra cost of fuel.

ATTACKED BY ASTHMA. The first fearful sensation is of suffocation, which hour by hour becomes more desperate and hopeless. To such a case the relief afforded by Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy seems nothing less than miraculous. Its help is quickly apparent and soon the dreadful attack is mastered. The asthmatic who has found out the dependability of this sterling remedy will never be without it. It is sold everywhere.

Mica deposits sufficiently large to develop are known to exist in twenty states.

An amendment to the national insurance act, now pending before the British parliament, provides a government dowsy of $10 to every English working girl who marries.

In the future no American women except those imperatively needed in relief work officially sanctioned by the United States government will be permitted to sail for France.
