WM. C. ARCHIBALD HAS PASSED AWAY.

Wolville.—William Charles Archibald, for many years a highly respected resident of this town and who was well known throughout the province, passed away in a hospital in Virginia, on Saturday, Sept. 27th, in the 82nd year of his age. Mr. Archibald was born in Musquodoboit, and in early life went to Halifax where he engaged in business for several years. At the outbreak of the American Civil War he enlisted and went safely through that campaign, afterwards taking up his residence in Wolville, where he became one of the pioneers in the fruit industry. Mr. Archibald took an active part in the movement which resulted in the founding of the Horticultural School at Wolville, which was the nucleus of the present Agricultural College at Truro. For many years he was a prominent member of the Fruit Growers Association, and was also deeply interested in the work of the Historical Society of which he was a valued member. A staunch Baptist, he took an active part in forwarding the interests of that denomination. Deceased is survived, by his wife, who is at present residing with her son, Dr. Archibald, of Paradise; two daughters, Mrs. J. H. T. Morrison, of Paradise, and Miss Nettie Archibald, of Colorado, and four sons, Dr. W. C. Archibald, Paradise, E. S. Archibald, Boston, I. C. Archibald, Lawrencetown, and H. A. Archibald, Arizona. Three sisters also survive, Mrs. Annie Hill, Tacoma, Mrs. E. G. Lewis, West Brook Mills, and Mrs. E. C. Blich, Brooklyn Corner. The body was brought to Wolville for interment.

THE LIFE FOR WHICH I LONG.

When on my day of life the night is falling,
And in the winds from unsmiling spaces blown,
I hear far voices out of darkness calling, My feet to paths unknown.

Thou who has made my home of life so pleasant,
Leave not its tenant when its walls decay;
O Love Divine, O Helper ever present Be thou my strength and stay!

Be near me when all else is from me drifting—Earth, sky, home pictures, days of shade and shine,
And kindly faces to my own uplifting.
The love which answers mine.

I have but Thee, O Father; let Thy spirit

Be with me then to comfort and uphold;
No gate of pearl, no branch of palm,
I merit.

Nor street of shining gold.

Suffice it if—my good and ill-reconciled,
And both forgiven through Thine abounding grace—
I find myself by hands familiar beckoned Unto my fitting place.

Some humble door among Thy many mansions.

Some sheltering place where sin and striving cease, And flows forever through Heaven's green expansions,
The river of Thy peace, There from the music round about me stealing,

I fain would learn the new and holy song,
And find, at last, beneath Thy tree of healing,
The life for which I long.

EDITOR HAS REMINISCENCES WITH MR. POTTER OF MIDDLETON.

Among the callers at the Eastern Chronicle office recently, was Mr.
Potter, of Middleton, the distinguished father of the senior member of the firm of Potter & Hurst, Dry Goods merchants of New Glasgow. He is, comparatively speaking a young man, but he is no boy, for over a half century ago he was selling organs in Goldenville, N. S., in partnership with Adam Alex McKenzie. In conversation he brought to our recollection incidents and people of that old burg which we had entirely forgotten. One of them was of a young girl who was something of a musical prodigy, who wanted an organ of whom Mr. Potter said that we went to her father and persuaded him to purchase an organ for her. The girl was Maisie Williams who later went along with her family to British Columbia where they have since resided. The girl has long since grown up. It is worth noting that the renowned aviator, Captain Williams was one of her nephews. By these reminiscences Mr.
Potter will see what his kindly visit has led us into—Eastern Chronicle.

COMMUNITY WORKERS HONORED BY FRIENDS.

Granville Ferry—Mr. and Mrs. V.
H. Amberman and family left last week for Middleton, where they will reside.
Mr. Amberman, who, until three years ago, successfully conducted a grocery business here, will conduct the grocery business in Middleton which he recently purchased from Mr.
Shafter.
Both Mr. and Mrs. Amberman have been very active church workers, and interested in the welfare of the community.

In appreciation of the many years of faithful and willing work which Mr. and Mrs. Amberman have done done in the Methodist Church, they were presented, on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Waugh, with an upholstered wicker chair by the members and adherents of the Methodist Church.

WHITES VS BLACKS.

Former May be Forced Out of South Africa by the Aborigines.

Johannesburg, South Africa.—The next twenty-five years probably will decide the question once for all of whether or not the white race is to have any part in the ultimate development of South Africa or be crowded out by the aborigines. This startling statement appears in a government blue book analysis of the 1921 census.

Falling accessions to the ranks of the white race from abroad the blue book states, the whites must forever abandon their respect of maintaining white civilization in South Africa, except as a diminishing minority, and it may then be forced to abandon its domination, or even abandon the country altogether.

The wise learn many things from their foes.

Here and There

The Earl of Leitrim, Irish peer, who has been touring Canada, was much struck with the resemblance between northwest Ireland and the maritime provinces, with their wooded hills, sandy beaches and plentiful fish and game, as playgrounds for the tourist.

What is believed to be the largest salmon ever caught by hook and line in waters adjacent to Vancouver, B.C., was landed at Horseshoe Bay, Howe Sound, recently by A. C.
Cohan. The fish measured four feet, one inch in length and weighed 64 pounds. It took 35 minutes to land it.

Irwin S. Cobb, the famous American humorist, has been hunting in the St. Maurice valley, served by Canadian Pacific lines. This is by no means his first trip to Canadian hunting and fishing centres, as he is a keen sportsman and has visited the wilds in Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Among the passengers landing at Quebec from the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Scotland," recently was: Miss Margaret Bond-field, M.P., a member of the Cabinet of the Macdonald Government of Great Britain. Miss Bondfield is in Canada to study conditions as they affect female immigrants.

Some interesting facts were made public by E. J. Belleisle, superintendent of the fish and game department of the Province of Quebec, when in Montreal recently. The province is now teeming with wild life, he says, mainly because of its conservation policy, whereby preserves are rented to fish and game clubs on the understanding that they appoint wardens. There are 500 such clubs employing a total of over 1,000 wardens.

The Trans-Canada Limited, crack transcontinental express of the Canadian Pacific Railway, completed its last run of the season on September 17th, and will not be operated again until next May. The train, which is the fastest long-distance express in North America, covered 753,748 miles in the season, or three times the distance between the earth and the moon, in its 238 runs, and carried the equivalent of 95,000 passengers for varying distances.

The new wing of the Chateau Lake Louise, the Canadian Pacific Railway's hotel at Lake Louise, one of the choicest beauty spots in the Rockies, is now under construction to replace that portion destroyed by fire some months ago. It will be a nine-story, fire-proof, steel-frame structure of stucco, brick and terracotta, richly furnished in the best style of a mountain hotel, and will contain 250 bedrooms, bringing the total in the hotel up to 390.

The hunt for fur is extending northward each year, according to officials of the Hudson's Bay Company and Revillon Freres. They have already despatched their steamers on their annual tour of the northern posts which each season are being located farther and farther north as the field of the pellet hunters is extended into the Arctic. The Hudson's Bay Company now has a numerous chain of posts in Baffinland and other areas north of Hudson Strait.

ADMIRAL FIELD WANTED TO BREAK RECORD

Admiralty Refused to Permit Test of Hood's Speed on Account of Fuel Cost.

London.—The Special Service Squadron which made a round the world tour under Admiral Field and in the course of its travels spent some weeks in Canada is expected to reach its home port on Monday. Thus will end a ten months cruise on the day fixed by the schedule prepared twelve months ago.

The fine condition of the vessels after their voyage is indicated by the request of the Admiralty forwarded by Admiral Field that he be allowed to attempt to break the Atlantic record on the return voyage with the Hood. The Admiralty refused that request on account of the expense of the cost of fuel.

The main purpose of the trip was admittedly to circulate propaganda for the British navy through the Dominions and opinions will naturally differ. The average Englishman is unable to comprehend the attitude of the Dominions, who leap to the support of the Empire in time of war with millions of men and money but are indifferent to naval co-operation in time of peace.

The London Times, commenting on the voyage, says that the security of the British Empire remorselessly demands small daily unostentatious sacrifices as well as war heroisms and wonders if the people of the Empire will meet these small obligations.
"On the answer to this question," says the Times, "hang the destinies of England and all those sister states with the destinies also of all that they revere and guard."

MRS. MATILDA OLIVIA HAINES OF FREEPORT, NOVA SCOTIA IS 101 YEARS OLD.

The history of Long Island, of which Freeport forms a part, chronicles but one centenarian, namely Mrs. Matilda Haines, who celebrated her 101st birthday on Sunday, Sept.
28th, 1924.

Born during the reign of George IV she has lived through the reign of four sovereigns and so far into that of George V.

Mrs. Haines enjoys good health, being much more alert, mentally and physically, than most women at the age of eighty years.

She easily performs the little every day work about her rooms, including her washing.

Quite recently she was made quite indignant because the friends who live in the house would not allow her to shovel in a portion of her winter's coal.

A year or so ago, she was heard to remark, as she was looking over some winter garments, "Why, they will last me two or three winters yet," so evidently the old lady does not feel the approach of old age.

Mrs. Haines reads without the aid of spectacles, the daily papers and magazines.

Her birthday coming on Sunday no special celebration was held this but she was the recipient of many congratulatory cards, and letters from distant friends, as well as several money gifts from relatives. Most of Mrs. Haines' family have predeceased her, there being but three grandchildren left of a large list of relatives.

The house in Freeport in which she now lives has been her home for nearly 80 years.

Westport, Sept. 28th, 1924. to Mrs Augustus Haines, Freeport.

Five score and one, to us how vast,
To you, what memories of the past;
When you look back, you doubtless say Where are those years of yesterday?

What changes in this world there's been.
Since early youth, you've known and seen.
No postage stamps, and no steel pen, No steamboats on the waters then.

No electric lights, no telegraph, Just candles then to light your path, No railroads then, or gasoline, No motor boats, or limousine.

No aeroplanes, no phonograph, No movies then to make one laugh;
It took one weeks, it far away To visit friends,—now scarce a day.

Swifter than eagle's sweep through air, O'er land, 'neath seas and everywhere Our finite minds can scarcely grasp The great advance in Century past.

Here's wishing more Birthdays you'll see
Before the Pilot calls for thee,
To meet the loved one's gone before,
Who watch and wait on yonder shore.
E. C. B.
