

glorious Office of the Holy Spirit which we have received in baptism by the washing of a pure water, and the anointing of a good conscience by the word of God, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, which is the seal of our adoption, and the earnest of our inheritance, until we receive the redemption of our bodies, which is the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come. And we are bound to keep the commandments of God, that we may abide in His love, and that
 forth much fruit to the glory of the Father.

And we are bound to keep the commandments of God,
 forth much fruit to the glory of the Father.
 And we are bound to keep the commandments of God,
