

spirit which animates you, has ever most zealously labored for the dissemination of truly Christian principles in teaching. I hardly need mention his name, you already anticipate it—the honored U. E. Archambault, Director-General of the Catholic Schools in this city.

Christian Education.

'Tis by Christian education
That the spirit of a nation
Will develop animation,
And grow strong ;
Can there be a better token,
Where the law divine is spoken,
Than to seldom see it broken
By a wrong ?

We note a coun. 's waning
By its lack of moral training,
While its scoffers are disdain
The true God ;
What's the human now sophistic
With a doctrine atheistic,
In the mirror of the mystic,
But a clod.
