

PAUL VERLAINE.

Was this brown tawny-throated little bird
The being who flung such music down our vale?
Then not by this, but by the song we heard,
Let us remember now the nightingale.