

ALLIANCE PRESIDENTS FROM THREE PROVINCES

Temperance Leaders Address Field
Day Mass Meeting at Massey Hall.

Temperance and local option was the theme of more than 200 sermons and addresses yesterday, delivered from pulpits and platforms. It was a "field day" under the auspices of the Ontario Alliance. The chief meetings were in Massey Hall in the afternoon and an after service meeting in Trinity Methodist Church last night.

Three provincial alliance presidents addressed the afternoon meeting. The hall was almost filled by the large and enthusiastic audience, which attended. An appropriate program of music was furnished by the large choir, Victoria University Glee Club, and A. C. Adams, baritone, of Denver, Colorado.

Controller F. S. Spence presided. He said that not even the great reform of Christianity itself, in proportion to the time in which the modern temperance movement had been in progress, had so taken hold of the hearts and minds of women and men. Temperance was one of the big issues in the British elections. When the Dominion Alliance was organized for Ontario there were 6185 licenses which had been reduced to 1950.

"Way Down East."
Rev. G. A. Lawson, Halifax, president Nova Scotia Alliance, said that prohibition prevailed in all the municipalities in that province with the single exception of Halifax. The law of Nova Scotia only required a majority vote. If a petition was signed by a fourth of the electors of Halifax for local option it would have to be taken, and a majority of one vote would be sufficient. There were 50,000 people in Halifax, and the licenses had been reduced from 240 to 50, a present ratio of one to the thousand. This had been made the maximum by act of the Nova Scotia Legislature.

Ald. S. J. Carter, president of the Quebec Alliance, had come, as he thought, representing the province having the greatest proportion under prohibition, but after hearing what Rev. G. A. Lawson had to say he would have to content himself with claiming at least second place. In the past the temperance people of Quebec had watched Ontario's great area of prohibition, and felt they would ultimately be left behind if they did not make great endeavors to catch up. He was glad to say these endeavors had been made, and that to-day Quebec was second in sobriety only to the far-advanced Province of Nova Scotia.

At the last session of the Quebec Legislature a deputation composed of 300 of the leading judges, doctors, lawyers, and business men went to Quebec in the interest of prohibition, the first time so influential a delegation for the cause of temperance had waited upon a government of that province, and also for the first time in Quebec's history, were most favorably received. Shortly afterward, to counteract this, the liquor men sent a large deputation of saloonkeepers and brewers to ask that the requests of the temperance deputation be not granted. They went in a very gentle manner and came out with a pronounced limp, and the members of the delegation declared they would not dare go thru the ordeal again.

The Anti-Alcohol League, representing the Catholic Church, and the Dominion Alliance, representing the Protestants, were working harmoniously together for the good of the cause.

A Critic of Toronto.
Joe Gibson, Ingersoll, president Ontario Alliance, said the people of Toronto in their efforts on behalf of the young men were working on the wrong end of the job. They had donated three-quarters of a million dollars to the Young Men's Christian Association, while the temperance people were working on the wrong end of the job. The needs of the work, as the friends of the young men had been made, there would be ample money forthcoming for the support of the anti-harlem crusade.

Out of the 410 places which adopted local option in Ontario the liquor party in 406 acknowledged that at the present time they were not in a position to repeal it. The law was so well enforced by the Ontario Government that five violators were in jail and two others were fugitives.

Rev. G. A. Woodside, Owen Sound, said the temperance people there were well satisfied with the effects of local option, but the liquor party were not at all satisfied. That was pretty significant. The chief question of consequence raised against local prohibition there had been that of the municipal revenue. Owen Sound, however, had a much larger revenue now than it did before local option came into force. In regard to the enforcement of the law, the Ontario Government had adopted local option as a government policy, and in order to maintain public confidence in the government the administration had to rigidly enforce the act. This was being done to the complete satisfaction of the supporters of the law.

Four Reasons of Success.
Rev. Henry Harper, Orangeville, said that Dufferin County was now free of saloons, with the exception of two licensed in Orangeville. He gave four reasons for the temperance people's success: Churches working together; a well-organized; splendid work of W.C.T.U.; and aid from the Dominion Alliance.

Rev. W. M. Kinnear, Strathroy, told of how much his town had prospered since the liquor licenses were voted out May 1 last. The three-fifths majority was obtained in spite of the fact that the Strathroy newspapers gave no assistance to the banish-the-bar advocates and that a joint stock brewery had many of the citizens interested financially in it.

NEW B. C. LEGISLATOR.
VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—Alex. Lucas, formerly Conservative organizer in British Columbia, was Saturday elected by acclamation in a by-election in Yale, a constituency made vacant by resignation of Premier McBride, who also sits for Victoria City. The Liberals decided not to contest the seat, which at the general election gave the premier a large majority.

Stuart Henderson, the sitting member, is about sixty years of age, was born in Ontario, and was the pioneer newspaper man of Calgary.

The Case for a Harbor Commission.
The Canadian Club is expecting one of the best addresses of the present season to-day, when Controller Spence is to speak on the above subject, with perhaps some references to government by commission in general. Controller Spence has devoted a lot of time to the study of this subject, one of the most vital now before the Toronto ratepayers.

Palpitation of The Heart

When the heart begins to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip beats, beats fast for a time, then so slow as to seem almost to stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.

The least excitement or exertion seems to affect it.

Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, through this unnatural action of the heart.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills can give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. John Thompson, Mill Cove, N.B., writes: "Just a few lines to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I have been troubled with weakness and palpitation of the heart; would have severe choking spells, and could scarcely get down at all. I tried many remedies but got none to answer my case like your pills did. I can recommend them richly to all suffering with heart and nerve trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box or 2 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Public Amusements

To-night at the Royal Alexandra it is predicted that the Grace Van Studdford Opera Company will clearly demonstrate that there is still no popular form of musical diversion for our theatregoers than clean and wholesome comic opera of the kind that used to be the rage when the famous Bostonians were singing "Rob-in Hood." A crowded house is certain to welcome this splendid aggregation of vocalists and comedians among whom are Maude Odell, Harry Macar, Benie Merston, George Leon Moore, Robert Philkin, H. David Todd and Florence Kolb.

Raymond Hitchcock and his large company of comedians, singers and dancers arrived in the city yesterday, and will be the attraction at the Princess Theatre all this week. In Geo. M. Cohan's best musical play, "The Man Who Owns Broadway," the story is said to be brimful of rich comedy. Mr. Cohan's aim being to make an audience laugh for two and a half hours. As for Raymond Hitchcock, he is the most irresistible comedian on the comic opera stage. The supporting cast includes Elaine, Gertrude Webster, Lella Rhodes, John Hendricks, Mark Sullivan, Francis Lieb and Richard Taber. There is also a very large chorus. The engagement will include Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Manager Shea has a great show at Shea's Theatre this week, headed by the favorite, Edward Davis, in "The Picture of Dorian Gray," by Oscar Wilde. This is Mr. Davis' own dramatization and has been the greatest success a sketch has seen in many seasons. The special features are: Jack Wilson & Co. in "An Upheaval in Darktown," and Howard and North, "Those Were Happy Days." Others on this week's bill are: Jack Connolly.

Woodstock's New Chimes.
WOODSTOCK, Nov. 27.—(Special.)—Edward Taylor, aged nine, lies at the point of death in the hospital as the result of being kicked by a colt, fracturing his skull.

A chime of ten bells pealed out from St. Paul's Church to-night in the playing of "The Maple Leaf," the Doxology and other airs. The chimes were purchased with the $500 left the church by the late William Gray, and were played to-day for the first time.

In time of war the account of each siege makes interesting reading, but in time of peace to hear the many incidents related and see pictures made by one who has been on the battlefield, makes an evening of entertainment and instruction. Such will be the illustrated war talk by student and artist, the noted war correspondent, Frederick H. Brown, at Massey Hall on Saturday, Dec. 3. The talk will be illustrated by 20 line-art views. The plan opens to-day at Massey Hall.

Alto Signor Alessandro Bonci's greatest successes in the States have been on the stages of the Manhattan and Metropolitan Opera Houses, and the he has been universally declared by the metropolitan critics to be the only living tenor who is able to satisfactorily handle the tenor roles in the operas of the Italian school, he has forsaken opera to make his first appearance in concert. He will appear on Thursday, Dec. 1, when he will sing a program which will bring out all the beauty of his velvety and flexible voice. The plan opens to-day.

The honorary governors who will visit the Toronto General Hospital this week are: A. W. Austin and Walter J. Barr.
