than one year. The mission is represented in India by 36 stations and 450 missionaries, European and native. From Toronto, Miss E. N. Lea-Wilson (doctor), Miss M. M. Underhill (evangelist), and Miss Cottis (nurse) have gone out.

A feature of yesterday's meeting was an address by Miss McKinney, for a number of years engaged in evangelistic work among the women of India.

Hon. S. H. Blake urged the necessity for a forward movement along all lines. The elevation of the women of India was worthy of the best effort of Canadian women. The report of Mrs. Hodgins, the treasurer, showed receipts for year of $1794.26. The officers elected are: Mrs. Duncan Clarke, president; Mrs. Henry O'Brien, first vice-president; Mrs. Boddy, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Boddy, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ferguson Burke, recording secretary; Mrs. Hodgins; for orphans, Miss Kathleen O'Brien; for literature, Miss C. L. Thacker. The committee are: Mrs. Timothy Eaton, Mrs. Robert Gooderham, Mrs. T. G. Harris, Mrs. Geo. Kerr, Mrs. R. F. S. McMaster, Miss Thacker and Miss N. C. Ross. Advisory board: Hon, S. H. Blake, S. C. Duncan Clarke, Dr. Elmore Harris, Henry O'Brien and Elias Rogers.

Patrons can therefore rest assured that the store's regular specialists will personally attend to them in the choosing of precious stones. Indeed, in every department the "heads" are available aiways to assist and counsel in the deaiways to assist and counsel in the de-ciding upon Christmas purchases. The fact that the majority of the extra clerks are college men goes far towards accounting for their aptness in adopting the business methods in-culcated by store practice and unique instruction classes conducted for their training. The plan of having half-day relays during the first week or so of December makes the task of training an easier one, and also allows attendance at college studies during the off-half of the day.

Altogether, the various departments of Ryrle Bros., Limited, are employing about one hundred extra assistants this Christmas.

CURLING ASSOCIATION CORRECTED NOTICE.

"Gay New York," which will be given its first production in this city at the Grand Opera House next Monday evening, is a farce-comedy with musical trimmings of an elaborate nature, and with a story of some consistency that is not forgotten in a maze of song and dance. The original source of the plot is said to have been found on the German stage, but the process of Americanization has been carried out thoroughly. There is certainly no Teutonic heaviness in the production. It is splightly to a degree. In the cast are Dan Mason, Louise Sanford, Lillian Hoerlein, Charles E. Foreman and 40 others, Club, Huron-street, Toronto, on Thursda Dec. 14th, 1905, at 8 p.m. JULIUS MILES, Secretary-treasurer,

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Madame Johanna Gadski, the great Wagnerian soprano, who makes her first appearance in Canada at Montreal to-night, comes here for a recital at Massey Hall on Saturday evening. She is one of the really great prima donnas, and as a Wagnerian soprano is the successor of Lilli Lehmann, and ranks, if anything, in this particular role, higher than Nordica. The scale of prices has been made lower than for any other prima donna, simply because it is the policy of the management of Massey Hall to make the prices as low as can be permitted, aitho in the cities of the United States or in the old world, for a recital by Madame Gadski the prices are the same as are charged for Sembrich, Melba and Caive.
