

WOMAN'S WORLD.

A SMART COAT SUIT.

No. 6822 and 6823—Now that the high priestess of fashion has commanded that there be no hips, the styles in coats, as well as waists, must follow. Here is shown a very attractive street suit in herringbone cheviot, which is fitted by single darts in front and by gores in back. The closing is single-breasted, and the neck finished with an abbreviated Tuxedo collar. The skirt is in five gores and may be in sweep or round length, with a back under box pleat or in hank style. The manner of trimming suggests a front panel, and this is recommended for those of full figure, or one who is short. The suit is one which will become a woman of almost any figure, being especially flattering to her of full proportions. For the medium size, 8 yards of 54-inch material are needed.

Two patterns: No. 6822, sizes 32 to 42 inches bust measure; No. 6823, sizes 20 to 32 inches waist measure. The price of these patterns is 20 cents, but either will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents. Mention size desired and bust measurement.

The New Leaf. Did you watch the old year out and the new year in with all sorts of good resolutions stirring in your heart? Do you really intend to "turn over a new leaf" to give up some of these cherished little habits of self-indulgence which you feel are almost sinful, to walk a path, oh, so much straighter and narrower?

One woman said to me, "Oh, I never make any resolutions. What's the use? I only break them again and then I feel worse than if I had never made them. This year I shall not make any resolutions, just worry along from day to day, doing the best I can, with the opportunities allowed me."

"That's a resolution in itself," said someone, and there was a general laugh. "After all," said a man, "you can't get away from the new year's resolutions. About the woe man's hours of New Year's morning, when you are lying half-awake and your room is full of dim indeterminate shapes that give you all sorts of fearful ideas, you are sure to have a little heart-to-heart talk with yourself over all the things you've left undone, and the things that unfortunately you haven't left undone."

"Then you get cold feet for your chances of life hereafter, and that's where the new year's resolution gets in its deadly work."

Everyone smiled at this masterly summing up and one bright little girl cried out, "I tell you good stout. Let's each tell what new year's resolutions we want to make, or should make. That will give us some good ideas."

"It was a 'local option' town we were in, and one of the boys laughed, "I'm going to swear off importing booze. It costs me too much and we're all getting into bad habits. We get stuff in the house and drink it which we never would have dreamed of drinking when we had a hotel in the town. His mother applauded this vigorously and said, "I'll try to stop being envious of the woman who makes a better speech than I at the club, or who has a little more time for reading, or a little prettier clothes."

"Such a feminine ending," laughed her daughter. "I don't envy anyone any material assets, but I do wish Kitty," she nodded to the bright little girl, "that you would give me some of your energy. I'm so hopelessly lazy. That's a habit I should do something about. That disinclination to exertion, when I do get up. This whole business of frittering away my days and never accomplishing anything, disgusts me with myself."

Kitty said rather dolefully, "Yes, I'm energetic enough, but I'm such a procrastinator. I'm doing something always, but I'm sure to do to-day what I should do to-morrow, and vice versa."

"I have a fatal habit of putting off the really important things and basing my energies in doing things that don't count."

Here the man of the house came in.

MANITOBA TELEPHONE NOTE WHY A PART WAS ADVERSE

Sections Which Defeated the By-law Know Little of the Use of the Instruments and Were Stamped by Specious Arguments of Increased Taxation. Winnipeg, Jan. 1.—(Special.)—A statement, made up from official and non-official returns, has been prepared, showing the result of the vote on the telephone legislation for the whole province. Official returns from 33 municipalities are yet to be received, but it is not anticipated that these will differ materially from the unofficial information to hand, so that the statement is an absolutely reliable indication of the verdict recorded in the matter of public ownership of telephones by the people of Manitoba.

There were 67 municipalities which gave a majority in support of the government legislation, and 6 a minority, leaving a majority of 11 for public ownership. In those municipalities where the Bell Telephone Company is known that company has been voted down and out. In those municipalities which have recorded a minority vote the people have little or no knowledge of a telephone, and do not appreciate its value as a utility; hence they were indifferent to the subject.

Further than this, the farmers in a number of these municipalities are largely made up of French, German, and Italian. These people require a considerable amount of educating before they will become progressive enough to desire a telephone service. They were undoubtedly scared into voting "no" by the bores of increased taxation, which was cunningly held up to their view by Bell supporters and in Bell literature.

"In my opinion," said E. Daggert, the provincial telephone expert, "our three months' campaign has been in every way successful, and I am convinced that the results of the campaign will bear fruit in those districts which, for lack of a proper appreciation of the situation, voted in the negative. It is a matter of a very short time before, even in the most remote districts of Manitoba, the people will be clamoring for the establishment of a publicly owned telephone service."

60 YEARS!

Medical Science has reached its highest pinnacle in the discovery of Zam-Buk. The healing power of this herbal balm is absolutely unrepresented. A case has just been reported to the proprietors, in which Zam-Buk has closed and healed ulcers which for 60 years had defied every remedy known. 60 years ago, the lady in question was bitten on the leg by a dog, and intervals the place broke out in bad ulcerated sores. Zam-Buk has ended the mischief once and for all. This case and that which follows should convince all sufferers from skin disease or injuries that Zam-Buk is on an entirely different plane to ordinary remedies. Send one cent stamp for free sample box and test it at our expense.

Mrs. W. E. Rice, of London Junction, (Ont.) says:—"I cannot be thankful enough for the day Zam-Buk came to Canada. For nine years I had been a sufferer from running sores on my legs caused by blood-poisoning. I had tried every kind of ointment and salve, but had heard of, but none of them seemed equal to Zam-Buk. Last winter I was worse than ever, and could not bear to stand on my feet for five minutes. The pain was so acute that I could not bear to have my slippers on."

"I heard of Zam-Buk and decided to give it a fair trial. From first commencing with it I did me good, and it has now cured me. Whereas before I could not stand on my feet for five minutes at a time, I can now not only stand but walk about without feeling any pain whatever. I feel like a new woman. I have waited to see if the cure was permanent before making any statement, and now I am very willing to give my testimony. I shall be pleased to answer any inquiries and if any one cares to come and see me, I shall be pleased to tell them what Zam-Buk has done for me."
