STOCK MARKETS OF A WEEK

Another Halting Week Upon Wall Street.

The Fashoda Affair and Other Foreign Complications Have Favored the Bear Side—The Electoral Campaign Now in Progress Is, However, the Chief Deterrent to Trading—Big Grain Movement Helps Railways—Notes.

For some weeks past a violent speculative movement has been in progress in the United States.

On Tuesday the list moved neither up nor down, and for the rest of the week an encouraging factor in the shape of an increased movement of grain to the coast for Europe has made itself felt.

The sharp advance in the price of wheat and corn at Liverpool, accompanied by rumors of a Russian prohibition of grain exports, has resulted in the rushing of considerable grain to Atlantic ports. The increased freightage according to the Pacifics, grainers and other railways from this change in the situation, together with the emphasizing of the fact that the world's wheat stocks are small and that therefore the grain movement may be continued, has induced stocks with an improved tone.

The fact that the elevation of the Bank of England's discount rate from 3 to 4 per cent. on Thursday failed to cause any setback in prices might be taken as pointing to permanently improved market conditions.

The likelihood is, however, that the better tone is only temporary. The political campaign across the border in which the Democrats are making a strong showing will in all probability exert a continued unsettling influence until Nov. 4, after which time a bullish trade conditions may send prices higher than they have been since the affair of the Maine.

American rail in London closed unchanged to 3/4 lower than yesterday. C. P. R. stock fell 1/4 to 109 1/2.

Provisional Ontario higher to-day, with a pretty good scattered demand, partly from improvement. Trackers were the best buyers. Receipts of hogs, 17,000, with 35,000 estimated for Monday and 40,000 for next week. The packing West for the week was 355,000 hogs, against 300,000 last year, and shipments for export were very liberal. The close was firm.
