Perhaps it will not satisfy The statesmen charged by the people of Canada with the settlement please the extremists on either side of the school question. They knew two Governments have done has been criminate against no class in the community, that shall remove every legitimate grievance which any class has hitherto labored under, and that shall enable the people of Manitoba to provide for their children that efficient education which, in modern times, all progressive countries regard as the first requisite to national pros-

Such a settlement of the Manitoba school question has been reached. The man who attempts to undo what has been accomplished will incur grave responsibility, and he will fail.

It is announced from Ottawa that culture, will address a number of farmers' gatherings in Ontario and Quebec this month. This popular Minister has not yet spoken in Western Ontario. It is to be hoped that arrangements will be made for his

Mr. Mills and the Senate.

Various Conservative papers are beating Hon, David Mills for accepting a seat in the Senate of Canada. They assert that when he was in the House of Commons he was in favor of the abolition of the chamber. There is no warrant for this assertion. Mr Mills' objection was not to a second chamber, which all nations of the first class possess, but to the manner of filling up vacancies in that body. And did he not have good grounds for his objection?

This is the way Mr. Sam Hughes, Conservative M. P. for North Victoria, wrote when he wanted officials dismissed in order to make way for Conservatives: "I want the office vacant as soon as possible, and shall then name you my man. Meantime, kindly bounce them." We agree with the Halifax Chronicle in the conclusion that the three words of the epistle-"kindly bounce them"-knocks the "business is business" letter into the shade.

Gas Inspection.

London 32 tests were made at various times, and the supply on each occasion is reported up to or above the standard.

Cheap Public Lighting.

The most "electric" village in Euope is Borobeke, in Belgium, where plant has been put in operation according to plans drawn by Prof. Schoentges, of Ghent. All streets, altricity. The great dairy works of the village are worked by electricity. For all this each householder pays only 19 francs ($3 80) per year. In this viled with electricity what many British towns effected with gas twenty years ago. Where the municipality acquires as every street and lane, a very low rate can be maintained, even after paying a perpetual dividend to the original stockholders of a lighting

A POTENT INFLUENCE.

Toronto Week. For a third of a century The Adveriser has been a potent influence in Western Ontario; we heartily congratulate it on its deserved success in the past, and wish it and its founder abundant prosperity in the future.

The complete novel in the December ssue of Lippincott's is"The Chase of an Heiress." by Christian Reid. The scene is in Santo Domingo, a region hitherto unfamiliar to fiction. "The Whipping of Uncle Henry" is a tale of Georgia before the war, in that original and effective vein which is peculiar to Will N. Harben. Pauline Shackleford Colyar tells a Thanksgiving story of "Two Old Boys." "How Timmy Saved the Piece," by Livingston B. Morse, ecords a remarkable event in theatrical annals of the humbler sort. The thods of "Shutting Out the Sea" are set forth by George Ethelbert Walsh. Macdonald writes on "The Land of Taffy," the other name of Wales. "The Evolution of the Poster" is traced by Agnes Carr Sage from the beginnings of advertising, so far as known. Jean Wright has a lively essay on "Flirtation as a Fine Art." The poetry of the number is by Elizabeth Crooks, Grace F. Pennypacker, Emma C. Dowd and Arthur D. F. Randolph.

The publishers of McClure's Magaine announce a Christmas number of quite extraordinary quality, both in its reading matter and its pictures. Ready=Made There is to be a richly printed cover, decorated with one of Botticelli's most famous Madonnas, specially redrawn Clothing by Henry McCarter; reproduc some famous frescoes by Melozzo da Forli, in illustration of a Christmas poem by Harriet Prescott Spofford; and some new and especially important views of Palestine, made under the addition to this, every contribution will be fully illustrated, and among the contributors will be Rudyard Kipling.

Dr. McPhedran, Dr. Wilson, Dr. Oldright and Dr. Fraser appeared on be-half of the medical profession and asked that surgical instruments and appliances and medical books be put on the free list. Surgical instruments were not made in this country, and there was a duty of about 30 per cent

THE SEED TARLET

The seedsmen were represented by Messrs. George Keith, S. E. Briggs, J. A. Simmers, J. Goodall and Robert Rennie. They want clover and grass seed, on which there is now a duty of 10 per cent, put on the free list. They explained that ten farmers needed the seed to one who had it for sale. It cost the Canadian seedsman 16 cents per pound to send seed by post, whereas the American can ship it for 8 cents per pound. They also ask for a tax of 25 per cent on American catalogues. Representatives of the Dominion Millers' Association were next introduced. They asked that the duty on grain and flour remain as at present, and expressed themselves as opposed to reciprocity in farm products.

Publishers and wholesale stationers were heard. Among the recommendations made were these: 1. That fashion magazines be allowed in free to book- wered with free medical advice for any sellers, as they are now to subscribers: 2. That that regulation providing that books for public libraries come in free of duty be amended, so that duty should be paid on all books purchased by libraries, and a rebate allowed on certificate being forwarded to Ottawa. 3. That books for college purposes be brought in by bookbought by colleges direct. 4. That prayer-books and hymn-books be subject to the 6 cent a pound rate. A deputation representing the twine clad. Don't muffle up with a and netted goods industry, asked that the existing duties on fish-lines of the trade be continued; that in some outlying ports gilling twine is admitted free, while a duty of 20 per cent is charged in Toronto. Representatives of the Dominion Furniture Manufacturers' Association asked for the retention of duties as at Tanners asked to have certain changes in the tariff on leather belt-
