CHANCE FOR ANOTHER

Cabinet Not Anxious, But Liberals Confident-F. Armstrong Won't Run.

For the 14th week of their summer engagement at the Alexandra Theatre, Edwards H. Robins has obtained, at what is said to be the biggest royalty ever paid for a stock play in Toronto, the sensational police-detective play of mystery and thrills, "The Conspiracy," by Robert Baker and John Emersor. The action of the play revolves around Margaret Holt, a daring and beautiful young lady, who is helping her brother, Victor Holt, the assistant district attorney, in his crusade against an international gang of criminals called the Scarlet Band. Under an alias she obtains a position with the leader of the band and secures convicting information and a list of the members, but is "caught with the goods" by Alvarez, and in a state of fear kills him and escapes. The regular matiness will be given on Wednesday and Saturdsy, and souvenirs will be given away at the latter performance. Heads of the Ontario Cabinet say there is no chance of a turnover in the coming election in Southwest Toronto; Liberals unanimously predict a win for their candiate, especially if Major Hunter will accept the nomination, while the Conservatives themselves seem to be romewhat divided in opinseem to be formewhat divided in opinion. The feeling is pretty general, tho, that an Independent Conservative candidate would be elected over both straight purty candidates. A reliable authority has it that Ald, McBride will contest the riding as an Independent wards four and five held their pre-election meetings last night and the appointment of delegates came off smoothly without anybody launching into any criticism of the Hearst government. After the outspoken comment at the ward six meeting the night previous, this was somewhat surprising, too. Ward four is conceded

Armstrong Won't Run.

It is certain that Fred Armstrong will not accept the Conservative nomination for the riding. Speaking to the ward four meeting last night, he said he had no doubt about being elected at the coming numination meet. make up his mind just now. There were matters which might make it advisable for film to accept, and on the other hand there were considerations which might make it to the party's interests that he decline. He made it plain that if he runs it will be as an outright supporter of the Hearst government. He said he had always been a Conservative and would stand loyally by the party. Whether the government legislation suits all or a few, it made no difference to him.

A. H. Birmingham delivered an organisation speech in which be called upon the government. Conservatives the southwast Toronto. Conservatives the summer traveling salesman who meets a simple country girl in front of her cottage.

Salite Fields, a big favorite in New York will bring to Toronto the latest New York song-hits, most of them absolutely new in this city.

Nelson Sisters, two charming little ladies who are making their first tour, will appear in a musical and singing production which will be a treat to lovers of the artistic. Both sing well, one pays the violin and the other the piano. Other acts will be added, including another chapter of the popular No.

the southwest Toronto Conservative to stand by the government. "Leave nothing to chance," he said. "It would be a crime if wards four, five and six should allow this seat to go by default o anybody but a Tory standard

Waiting for Third Man, At ward five there was no discussion of speech-making. The meeting merely appointed delegates to the Conservative convention and adjournston or speech-making. The meeting merely appointed delegates to the Conservative convention and adjourned.

A little scouting among the Conservative interest themselves disclosed the fact that there are strong possibilities of an independent candidate taking the field.

"I only control one vote," one man said. "And I know how it will go. Mr. Hearst or any other man has no right to take away privileges from free born Canadians. If an independent candidate comes into the field he will be elected.

Stage setting, with its delightful effect of coolness, is one of the pleasantest places in town in this sweltering weather. The bill will be a "double header." Edmund Breese will be presented in "The Spell of the Yukon," a picturization of Robert W. Service's poem. This is a strong photo-drama with a powerful human appeal, and Edmund Breese has a part which suits him. The funny comedy, "Artie, the Millionaire Kid," will also be presented. Dorothy Kelly has the leading role in this, and fairly surpasses herself in ingenuity and charm. will be elected.

"We all may not agree with some of the government legislation," said another, "but I do not think there is of the government legislation, said another, "but I do not think there is any doubt but what the Conservatives in this riding will stand behind the country girl for the lights and life of government."

And still another said: "I'm waiting for that independent candidate to come out."

The blaze originated among a number of packing cases belonging to the clothing company, and is believed to have been caused by a lighted torch thrown by boys. The cases were piled near the wall, and the heat from the fire broke a window in the factory and singed the ends of a few pieces of cloth. The rear of the fire hall stables was damaged the most and a quantity was damaged the most and a quantity of hay destroyed. Insurance covers the
