FIRE SITUATION AGAIN SERIOUS

Fredericton, N. B., June 11.—Fanned by heavy winds, New Brunswick's forest fires, which have been burning throughout the past week, have again assumed serious proportions, and the general situation in the northern part of the province was admitted this morning as being bad. That section is extremely dry, the light rains of the past week not having extended far into northern New Brunswick, while the valley of the St. Lawrence River and the Gulf coast is experiencing similar conditions.

The most serious fire was reached during the week-end at White's Brook on the international branch of the Canadian National Railways. This blaze progressed toward some six miles threatening the village. A relief train was sent out of Campbellton yesterday afternoon. An unofficial report this morning stated that four buildings had been destroyed.

Federal Aid Asked.

On instructions from Hon. C. W. Robinson, Minister of Lands and Mines, Col. T. Loggie, deputy minister, has telegraphed to Ottawa requesting that the federal authorities send a detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to the country along the International Railway in an effort to stop the setting of fires by settlers. Constables already are in that centre to make the attempt.

PLAN FOR A SPLIT IN PRESBYTERIANS ON CHURCH UNION

Manitoba College President Would Delay Completion Until 1931

Suggests a Joint Committee for 1929 General Assembly to Divide Church Equity—Antagonists Challenge Authority of 1916 Assembly.

(By Canadian Press.)

Port Arthur, Ont., June 11.—The debate on church union reached its high tide in the Presbyterian General Assembly this morning and new developments in an effort to reach a compromise are planned.

President McKay, of Manitoba College, is scheduled to submit a project which will take the form of an amendment to the constitution. His plan recognizes the irreconcilable difference of opinion in the church, which, he says, has come to the parting of the ways. They should part in the spirit of love, and in order to allow time for rancor to abate, there should be a "rest" period of five years to await completion of union in 1931. In the meantime all partisan propaganda should cease and at the general assembly of 1929 a committee of seven, consisting of three "antis" three "pros" and a chairman mutually approved or appointed by the Chief Justice of Canada, should divide the church equity. The antagonists of union, could then organize into whatever body suited them and could take whatever name they pleased.

A document drawn up by the antagonists of union and signed by the irreconcilables has been prepared wherein they challenge the right of the 1916 assembly in Winnipeg to commit the church to union. They adhere to the present principles of church government and declare that the prevailing party in the present assembly, by reason of its "illegal action," has subverted the assembly and thereby, in effect, seceded from the Presbyterian Church in Canada. They protest that all such "illegal acts" shall have no force or effect in the church. The antagonists of union, in this document, disclaim all responsibility for the schism.
