GIFTS TO NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM

Rare and Ancient Books Among Recent Valuable Acquisitions — One Was Printed in 1626.

The Natural History Society has been fortunate in receiving many gifts of rarity and value during the last few weeks. Mrs. James S. Harding has added some most acceptable gifts to her recent donations and Rev. George Scott and Miss Jessie L. Lawson have also been among its recent benefactors.

Mrs. Harding has presented to the society three extremely old books of high value. The oldest is dated 1626 and was printed in Geneva in Latin. It is a large volume about fourteen inches by eight inches and the original leather binding has been closely copied in its re-binding. The letter press is in excellent preservation. The subject matter of the book is a treatise on the meaning and usages of the Catholic sacraments. The title page has the following wording: "Daniels Chamier, Delphinensis, Zanstratiae, Catholicae, Tomus Quartus, De Sacramento. Genevae Typis Roverianis, MDCXXVI."

Two volumes dated 1777 and published by J. Cooke at Shakespeare's Head, No. 17 Paternoster Row which Mrs. Harding has also presented deal with a "System of Geography" and are curious and most interesting in their typography as well as in their reading material. They contain many old engravings and strange old maps, and are bound in their original heavy calf. Some fine specimens of Nova Scotian gold, polished on one side, and a cocoa fibre armband made and worn by the women in the South Sea Islands, are some of the other donations made to the society by Mrs. Harding.

Rev. George Scott's gift will be of special interest to stamp collectors. It is a complete set of the proofs of a new issue of stamps for the Republic of Columbia sent out for approval by the firm of Perkins, Baker and Company, Limited, London, the firm which has designed and engraved the British postage stamps since they were first used, and which also designed the earlier Canadian issues. Mr. Scott received the proofs from his brother who is a designer for the firm and executed the work on several of the eleven stamps which have been given to the society. The stamps, if approved, will be issued in the fall.

Miss Lawson's gift is one that will be greatly prized. It is a copy of the Oration of Demosthenes with both Latin and Greek text. It is a small volume, bound in vellum and the lettering is very curious.

A SAD FRAGEDY
