Fall of the Gladstone Ministry.

The Gladstone ministry has been defeated in the British Parliament, by a majority of twelve votes.

It has been weak for the last year or more, and held together mainly by the mastery efforts of the venerable Premier, whose retirement from office will, no doubt, soon be followed by his withdrawal from active participation in public life.

While Gladstone enjoys the respect of the whole empire, as a man of towering ability and high purposes, his policy, by reason of an all-pervading desire to maintain peace, failed to enlist the sympathies of the nation.

He is, no doubt, satisfied to retire from a position, the difficulties and embarrassments of which have so long taxed and strained all his powers, while for the change of Government will, for a time, satisfy popular sentiment.

When we read the London Times saying, as it did last week,—"We are suffering now for the indignities which has missed every opportunity, exaggerated every difficulty, provoked all our indignities, and left every problem untraced to us in our treatment of the Standard."

"The credit and influence of England have sunk to the lowest point in the councils of Europe. We are on the verge of one of our darkest days."

It is evident that popular feeling endorses the turn affairs has taken. Even the near future, however, looks up threateningly for the change, which must have come before long in any event, has been precipitated by elements hard to control in opposition but which will prove as dangerous and treacherous as a rope of sand when relied upon for the promotion of national or general good.

Besides, there does not appear to be any statesman of pre-eminent strength and ability to take the place vacated by Gladstone, so the probability is that the incoming ministry will be short-lived.

Reciprocity.

At a well attended meeting of the Halifax chamber of commerce held on Wednesday evening of last week, the question of reciprocity with the United States was discussed for three hours.

Though both sides of politics were pretty evenly represented, not one of the speakers defended the position assumed by Sir John Macdonald in the matter. When the following resolution was proposed, Mr. J. C. Mackintosh, mayor of the city, and a supporter of the Dominion Government, thought it would do strongly and expressed the opinion that if carried, it would receive more favorable consideration, but when the vote was taken it passed unanimously:

"Whereas, it does not appear that the Dominion Government have taken any steps to renew a reciprocity treaty with the United States;

Resolved, That the Local Government be requested to bring the matter to the notice of the Dominion Government, and to urge the same on the Dominion Government, and to advise the Admiralty to employ the ships of the navy in effecting the fisheries bill a reciprocity treaty with the Dominion Government is effected on fair terms to this province."

Presentation to Bishop Medley, Metropolitan.

To-day is the 40th anniversary of the enthronization of Bishop Medley as Archbishop of Fredericton. His eminence has taken place on St. Barabas Day, 1845. In order that it is interesting an anniversary might be suitably marked, the clergy of the Anglican Church held a meeting at the Cathedral, Fredericton, on the occasion of the late consecration of the Indian of Niagara, to consider in what way the 40th anniversary of Bishop Medley's elevation to the Episcopate might best be commemorated. A committee was appointed composed of the following clergy to prepare an address to be presented to His Lordship, the Rev. Messrs. G. G. Roberts, R. E. Smith, Canon Neales, G. M. Armstrong, D. Forsyth, J. H. Talbot, J. R. Campbell. The address of which we give a copy below will be presented to His Majesty at St. John's, N. B., and affords an evidence of the deep respect and esteem in which the venerable prelate is held by his clergy:

"To His Most Reverend John, by Divine Providence, Lord Bishop of Fredericton, Metropolitan."

We the Clergy of the Diocese of Fredericton, in solemn assembly, with feelings of deep affection and respect on the 40th anniversary of your enthronization as Lord Bishop of the Diocese of Fredericton. Such an anniversary, an occasion for deep thanksgiving to God, affords an opportunity for an expression of the warm personal regard entertained for you as a model.

A period of 40 years has a profound significance for the student of Holy Scripture, and the year of your Episcopate have abounded with events and trials, which have only served to strengthen and cement to our hearts your love and our confidence in the wisdom of your paternal guidance. Your rule over us has been marked by your loving and just administration of our Church, and by your untiring efforts in your many duties, serious and unassuming, which have long been associated with the revival of patriotic learning and ecclesiastical architecture in the Church of the Motherland, and Christ Church Cathedral, Fredericton, the first true Cathedral founded and built since the Reformation, which always bears witness to your taste and skill, and will continue to be regarded as a model.

We dwell with great pleasure on your Lordship's constant and self-denying devotion to the duties of your office, in no way relaxed even in your advancing years, your ever growing attachment to the land of your adoption, on your openhanded generosity, of which all our parishes have received ample proof, and not least, on your fairness and impartiality towards all within your jurisdiction. The fruits of your labors are to be seen in the growing numbers of clergy and faithful laity, in the multiplication of churches, the presence of the buildings in which they worship, in the greater decency and order in the services as are conducted throughout the Diocese, and in the steadily increasing free-will offerings of the people, and in the greater zeal manifested everywhere among us in the work of our Master, Christ, and in the hope that we may be able to offer up to God, as many years the mental and physical vigor of our youth, we regard as an ornament to the Episcopal College, and a bright example to both clergy and laity, and our hearts desire

The Indian Rising.

HOW PROMOTED BY THE OFFICIALS OF THE GOVERNMENT—WASTE, DECEPTION, AND INTIMIDATION—THE INDIANS ORDAINED TO MAKE THEIR DEMANDS IN FORCE.

Correspondence of Toronto [Globe.] BATTLEFORD, June 25.—In a former letter I had something to say of the manner in which the Government had been managed—rather mismanaged—in this country. The information I obtained below has been corroborated and emphasized by the result of my enquiries into the recent events. I will not repeat the method in which "trusty" is dealt out to the Indians is very imperfectly understood. A lax system could not be well maintained, or in any way be made to work, so that it would be impossible probably to invent a system in which a good deal of latitude and discretion would not be left remaining in the hands of the Indian agents or instructors. It is these temptations to wrongdoing which would not be great—in which it would not be matter of the first importance that the character of the men appointed should be one of tried integrity. The temptation to plunder: The Department is unquestionably right. It may be that human nature, associated with poverty is incapable of standing against it. It is a temptation on the line told me that there would not have been the least difficulty in his adding six or eight thousand a year to his income. I do not think it to do.

The Indian is a man of great sensitivity. He feels a rebuff and indignity, and he will not stand for it. He is superstitious. Associated with that, he is revengeful in the extreme. He may be unquestionably deep-forged better; he remembers to the bitter end an insult or a wrong. In the present uprising he has murdered or sought to murder all those who have treated him worst and best—kindly and most respectfully. But these long-continued and oppressive rebuffs and indignities were slowly but surely paving the way to open rebellion.

The Indian began to find that to ignore his requests being granted he had to go to the courts of law, and that he had to appear at the Indian office. When the chief with fifty or a hundred of his men came in and made a request for grub it was always granted. He was not slow to attack the Government, but the Indian who was powerful, and made a display of his power. This feeling grew rapidly among the Indians. They were being insulted, insulted, and his men were being insulted, and the Indians numbered about 100. They ran across a couple of times and retreated and three found shelter and drove the scots back. The latter had three wounded with a bag of traps. He shot and set fire to the house. The Northwest Rebellion.

WINDYBURN, June 7.—Lieut. Governor Aikens has just received a private message from Mr. Middleton, in camp near Fort Pitt, dated June 2nd, the day on which the counter-raid for Battleford. It is as follows:

"Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Quinny, Mr. Cameron and two half-breeds, who have been prisoners with Big Bear, through the assistance of friendly Indians, escaped and are now in Gen. Strang's camp, 12 miles from Fort Pitt. You will be delighted to hear that Mr. Quinny informs me that none of the women have suffered indignities or ill-treatment, and that they would be the case. Gen. Strang's force has come in contact with Big Bear and his brave, who were in a very strong position, and after a slight engagement, in which three of his men were wounded and finding the country impassable, he withdrew a few miles away and camped. Yesterday, while I was on my way to Fort Pitt, I received information from Gen. Strang that Big Bear's band has broken apart, virtually into two parties, and he has still the McLean families and several other prisoners. I am going to follow up the trail with my mounted men and hope to catch him yet."

Fort Pitt, June 5.—Gen. Middleton with Grenadiers, Midland, 90th and B. Batteries and two galleys arrived at Fort Pitt, in the afternoon of May 31, by steamers Alberta, Marquis and Northwest. Bolton's scouts, Brittle Banks, (late French's) scouts and 50 mounted police, who started from the trail and were surprised at the different directions—one south-east to Sounding Lake and one south-west to Black Foot Hills, so that a definite report of Big Bear's whereabouts had to be obtained before action looking to his capture could be taken. It was known that the band had gone north on two different trails and the scouts were afraid Big Bear would be able to strike south of west. On May 29th Rev. Charles Quinny with his family, Cameron, of the Hudson Bay Co's service, and Dufrene, a half-breed, who were taken prisoners after Big Bear,
