THEY ARE BOUGHT HERE ALL KINDS'OF LOTTERY TICKETS MAYBE PULCHASED.

The Sale Largely Increased Since the Big Prize was won by the Syndicate—Montreal Trying to get hid of the Tremendous Evil—

It is quite likely that some attention will tickets here in the near future. At present they are sold openly and the authorities do not object, though it is contrary to the law. The demand for the tickets of the Honed has been simply tremendous sir coone a card, or the speed of a horse."

of the tickets held by the "syndicate" here "Investigation in Montreal has a few months ago drew $15,000. The result has been that thousands of dollars go out of the city every month on the chance of winning something in this, or the Mexi-cin or Montreal lotteries. The Mexican is n t patronized here to the same extent but its New York and Boston agents are well aware that there is ate as to choose the right members; and such a place as St. John and that the proportion of gullible people who live here is quite as large as in other cities.

The newspapers dare not publish the adertisements of these concerns. They could get the business readily enough if they would take the risk but after the law passed by Sir John Thomsonp came in force the only paper in New Brunswick who took the rick had to drop the announcement from its

In this city there has been a question of lotteries at church fairs and in one or two instances they have been frowned upon. Commercial schemes connected with something that might be construed as a lottery have had to be abandoned but the sale of Hondures, Hamburg and Mexican lotteries to say nothing of the cheaper Quebec games of chance goes on merrily just the same. Everybody who wants to get a ticket can get one. They do not come in the mails but by express. The United States wont allow their mails to be used for such s purpose but an express parcel can contain almost anything. The lists with the prize winners do not arrive until the tickets for the next month come. Several large prizes tave come to St. John. A young man named Foster who was at that time in the Bank of New Brunswick drew $15,000 one day. Two of his fellow bank clerks who also held tickets were invited to pool the result and divide even a few days before the drawing but they retured. They might have had $5,000 each had they done so. Rev. Mr. Mowatt. the well-known Presbyterian minister who used to preach in Fredricton and often in St. John but who is now in 'Montreal has joined in the crusades against the gambling spirit in Mon-treal He pictures the evil as it is and his words will give PROGRESS readers a good ides of how the chance business has grown. He says that attention is being called to it as never before in the history of the city. and the public conscience is being quickened and aroused to be extent and enormity of into the fight with the gigantic evil. The horrible octopus, that, with its long arms, is dragging down to perdition so much hope and throwing its inky blackness all around where it lurks and works. Montreal has this unenviable reutation, that to cay there are more species of gambling tolerated here than anywhere on the continent of America, and these dens of vice in many cases hold city charters. We have seven gambling institutions in the shape of lotteries and policy establishments, and they take out of the pockets of the people more than two million dollars annually, and their returns to those who patronize them, in the end, are wrecked fortunes, ruined prospects, blast-ed hopes, lost souls. We are proud of our educational institutions, and the very cream of the youth of the Dominion are attracted to our city. Our public-spirited wealthy men, moved high and boly impulses, are put ting their millions into the glorious work of education, and they cannot do better for their country. But alongeide of these noble endowments of their benevolence, are those other institutions, and the education received there is of a very different character, And the very fact that there are so many of them in full blast, only are so many of them in full blast, only goes to show how well patronized they are. Students as a rule are here on short allowance, barely enough to get them through, S. S. Company was still before the public and some time may what kept him? He carried Montreal time.

thing of it trom my own knowledge. Let me quote in brief words what others say: "A greater source of mischief than drink," says Justice Will. "A gambler," says Sims, "will let his wife and children starve he will starve himselt, and still risk his last coin on the bazard of the dice, the turn of "Investigation in Montreal has revealed the undeniable fact that the latteries prey upon the most defenceless members of the commurity. It is the youth with little knowledge of the world who imsgines that there are run for his advantage lotteries and gaming houses, where he can really get a fortune for a triff; if he be so fortunate as to choose the right members; and derable. Consequently the young clerk, the raw country lad, the stranger, the friendless girl, even the errand boy and domestic, are drawn into the net of the gambling establishment, and there are deprived of money they keenly need. If it were possible to tell the full story of the losses suffered in one large gambling house, it would be a chapter in real life more dramatic and more tragic than ro mance ever dreamed of. It would tell of terrible falls, positions lost, wrong and "Some of there p'aces are run in the name and in the interests of Art, others the name and interests of Benevolence, others still in the name and interests of Religion. Think of this. A gambling den was raided. The keeper put torward in his defence a letter from a rural priest who asserted that the concern was run for the benefit of his parish and that be received the money. Think of Pau' getting money out of the black art business of old Ephesus, and thus sparing the concern the fire! And yet that wicked thing is done here in our the Holy Ghost. But it is of the devil. Kindle a fire here in Montreal as vonder in Ephesus, and burn up the evil business root and branch.

"It is pleasing to know that lotteries are now no longer legal in any part of the that country has put itself on record 'that lotteries are demoralizing in their effects, no matter how carefully regulated.' The court declares, further, that 'they' disturb the checks and balances of a well ordered community.' that 'society built on such a foundation would almost of necessity bring forth a population of speculators and gam-

"And so the evil thing has been driven out of the land. Is it not full time that this country rise in its might, and declare through its legislative ball; and law courts that lotteries are only evil, and that they eration of gamblers to make its laws, do its resources, build its cities! O, Holy Ghost, all sin, that we will rise in thy might and cast it from us! Open our eyes that we may see the peril our sons and daughters are in with this terrible vice facing them in all its attractiveness and at every corner, and let the aggressive movement that seems to have begun, go on and deepen and widen, still no happy expectant groom till it is cast out from our midst."

Mr. Geo, F, Baird's Death. The death of Geo. F. Baird last Satur day removes an enterprising young man from our midst. Coming so soon after the death of Mr. Pittid the loss to the community is emphasized. Both of these gentlemen did much to help the city slong. Their private enterprises were for the good of the public and some time may and the temptation is great to try to double or triple the little they have by the turn of a wheel, or the throw of the dice, or the drawing of a lucky number. But in the end it is ruination, infamy, repuration gone, plucked for ever. gone, plucked for ever.

> AN INTERESCING AUCTION SILB The Last of the Furlong Liquer Business—

The auction sale Tuesday at the cld liquor store of Thomas Furlong-but more recently of Mr. McWilliams-was interesting inasmuch as this was one of the oldest and best known saloons in the city. At one time there was no bar so handsome, none in which the fittings were of so elaborate a character. There was apparatus of all kinds there suited to the business, and the number of liquor men who gathered at the sale expected to find something that would

Many of them did. There were some bargains but in the main the most of the stuff sold at a fair valuation. Champagne that had seen many days and perhaps in some cases lost a littl : of its sparkling effervescense was captured by an enterprising Israelite at 32 cents a bottle. A well known citizen bought eleven dozen of English sods for $2. Perhaps the most interesting thing put up was a handsome punch bowl that had eviden ly cost a good deal of money. Auctioneer Lantalum explained that it was the punch bowl of the first St. Patrick society formed in St. John but in spite of that fact the bowl sold for seven or eight dollars

This closes as it were, the liquor bus ness of the Furlongs, in St. John. All though Mr. Furlong has not been connected with this business for some time still the fact that his old employes were conducting it on their own account always patrons all over the country who regarded the place as a familiar land mark where they had spent many a dollar and made new acquantances.

Mesers. Crowley and McWilliams se cured the business from the Furlong trustess. The first named died when he was approaching the goal of success. Mr. McWilliam's brother took his place but he too died a short tim? ago. Now Mr. Doberty of Woodstock has secured the premises. He did not buy any of the stock but a good many of the fixtures and glassware. Woodstock is a Scott Act town and fines are frequent and Mr. Doberty prefers to pay the heavy rent and license charges in St. John. He will be be open in a lew days.

A BAD QUARTER OF AN HOUR. A Groom Carried Montreal Time and kept

Every man who has gone through the ordeal of the marriage ceremony will no doubt remember the one or two trying that lotteries are only evil, and that they doubt remember the one or two trying the evil. "Let us hail it as the dawn of a brighter day for the city's moral and spiritual health, when our leading dailies are ought to be as bad for Montreal. Let the ought to be as bad for Montreal. Let the other day they reversed the order that they had gone that they had gone the limit with the good natured referee and that they had gone that the should produce them. Everything minutes during which he had to stand at the ropes and told them is the ropes and told them. Everything has not gone along smoothly in connection might have had an idea that they had gone the limit with the good natured referee and that they had gone the limit with the good natured referee and that they had gone the limit with the good natured referee and that they had gone the limit with the good natured referee and that they had gone the limit with the good natured referee and that they had gone the limit with the good natured referee and that they had gone the limit with the good natured referee and that they had gone the limit with the good natured referee and the limit with the should produce them. Everything has not gone along smoothly in connection might have had an idea that they had gone the limit with the good natured referee and that they had so the come his bride. But it is not gone along smoothly in connection with the Kings County Almshouse, but the limit with the good natured referee and the commission of the lady who was to be come his bride. But it is not gone along smoothly in connection with the Kings County Almshouse, but the limit with the good natured referee and the commission of the lady who was to be the noise. The gang kept quiet. They Ghost so fill and burn in ue, that we will of things. A gentleman from Monnot rest till the vice of gambling is cast out.

Think of thousands of our young men in espouse one of its fair daughters. The one way or other drawn into it. It seems day and hour were set for the ceremony, incredible, but so it is said by those who and a very large number of friends, of the have been behind the scenes and know. bride more particularly, assembled in one What a future for this country, with a gen- of the large churches there to witness the ceremony. The bride arrived promp'ly business, manage its finances, develop sits accompanied by her relatives and friends and of course proceeded at once to the come in thy power to this city, and to this altar, but the groom was not there. The country, and so reveal to us this sin, and wait was a painful one. One, two, three minutes past and still he did not come. When the time had reached five minutes it seemed to the audience as if it was an hour. but how long must it have seemed to the bride ? The I mit of endurance was passed when ten minutes had gone. peared. Then several energetic friends of the lady went out looking for him. Of course they knew there must be some mistake they could not tell what caused the delay. They discovered him in the office of his hotel. He was taking things easy. He had, as he thought twenty minutes to spare and naturally did not want to arrive too soon to be stared at by a crowd of curious people. But what kept him? He carried Montreal

MONDAY AFTER SUNDAY

PRIZE FIGHTS MONDAY BUT NO The Attentive Police Give an air of Law

If a stranger had gone to the Mechanics have imagined that St. John was a town where he could not buy a cigar or a glass of soda water on Sunday.

There were more than a thousand people in the old historic bu ling and they sat in the same seats as men and women did when they went once to hear a famous preacher to see a popular and charming actress, or to hear a lecturer of world wide fame. But there was no sermon preached Monday nights neither was there a lecture or a pl. y, but—a fight, called by court sy a boxing

If the stranger had come from some wicked American city where even fistic meetings are barred he would naturally have posed that when a captain of police and an officer stood at the door and acted as ticket takers that the affair was going to be of the very mildest character and if when te looked about the audience and especially in the galleries, and heard the row that was bring made he felt a little doubtful, even that must have been set at rest when he saw the chief of police in all his glo-y stride down the aisle and make his way to the wings of the stage. There were other officers around it they were wanted. They must have been on duty all day because with the present scarcity of men on the force so many could not have been spared from the night force.

A Boston man told Progress that such a gathering was a revelation to him. He s an enthusiast and will task fight all day. but they were not able in Boston to go and see what they can in St. John The reason for the gathering was osten sibly a ten round fight between Fenton, s Boston man, and Littlejohn of this city. There were other things thrown in of course to amuse the crowd and the first attraction was a "set to " between a pair of youngsters. Then others a little older followed and then after some scientific work on the part of two aspirants for honors in the prize ring and a good deal of delay the m in event was brought on.

The referee was Jack Powers and le made a speech before the fight began. He told the crowd which had been noisy that the chief of police was there, and he had all to say about whether the bout would go on or not. It they made a noise the fight would stop. So by means of threats of this kind he kept the crowd in fair order. One man began to hies at something and the referee insinuated that any cn; who used that sort of an argument wouldn't pay his way in. he gave the crowd in the gallery when they began their shouts about fouls and such like. Powers got mad and he leaned over the ropes and told them he thought they that he might take a notion to make a trip

The bout, or fight, ended in a draw and the big crowd dispersed glad to get a breath of tresh sir.

It the legislators who made the Sunday law in Fredericton this year could have managed to be present at the interesting event described above-and then compar ed it with the pleasant health giving recreation and rest of a Sunday excursion river trip they might have concluded that a law for Monday was needed worse than one for Sunday observance.

WILL MAKE AN INQUIRY.

The Kings County Alms House Commission Meet on Monday in Norton.

The Kings County Almshouse Commissioners meet on Monday morning at Norton. There is likely to be some inquires into the statements made by a correspondent and printed in PROGRESS two or three weeks ago. In the last issue of the paper, these statements were denied by Councillor Gillilland, who is Chairman of the committee, but he will not be satisfied with that and prosposes on Monday to make some sort of an inquiry into the matter.

Councillor Moore his already stated in the Sussex Record that the statements were talse The language which he used towards the writer of them was certainly quite vigorous and enough to bring forth any additional facts if that is possible. PROGBESS can only say that the statements That wasn't anything to the calling down as printed came from a reputable resident of Norton, and were accepted in good

One of the commissioners is a lady, Dr. Mary McLaod she lives in St. John and it seems that there is an impression among her friends, being a doctor, she should have charge of the medical work connected with the institution. It did not seem to the committee however, that one of the Alashouse commissioners could be employed by them in that capacity, so instructions were given at one time that if medical attendance was needed, Dr. Colwell, who lived near at hand, should be called in.

Last year however, the committee decided to ask for tenders for medical attendance, and the contract for supplying, the patients with advice, pills and anything in the way of medicine that was necessary was awarded to Dr. McLean for the very reasonable sum of $59 a year. When it is considered that the doctor supplies his own drugs the conclusion must be arrived at that Kings County people—even the Almshouse people— are a very healthy
