VESSELS NOW BUILDING.
The returns compiled by Lloyd's Register of Shipping, which only take into account vessels the construction of which has actually begun, show that, excluding warships, there were 543 vessels of 2,003,241 tons gross under construction in the United Kingdom at the close of the quarter ended 30th June, 1913.
The tonnage now under construction is 69,000 tons less than that which was in hand at the end of last quarter, but exceeds by about 229,000 tons the tonnage building in June, 1912.
Of the vessels under construction in the United Kingdom at the end of June, 434 or 1,538,198 tons are under construction in the United Kingdom of Lloyd's Register with a view to classification by this society. In addition, 125 vessels of 659,600 tons are building abroad under the society's survey.

The annual Sunday service of the Royal Kennebec Yacht Club was held yesterday at Sand Point, opposite Hilldale, and proved a fitting end to the most successful cruise since the inception of the club. Fully eight hundred people attended, while over one hundred and fifty yachts, both large and small, took in unaccustomed manner the deep interest taken in the occasion.
Besides the regular members of the club visitors thronged the grounds to attend the service. Hundreds of people went up from the city while the yachtsmen in their summer flannels made a picture that will linger long in the memory of all. The service itself was impressive and entirely appropriate to the occasion. The Rev. G. M. Campbell, preached the sermon. Service Commodore Fraser Gregory made a brief address in which he expressed his pleasure at the success of the cruise. He extended the thanks of the R. N. Y. C. to the Automobile and Boat Club of Fredericton for their kindness and the excellent manner in which they entertained the yachtsmen during their visit to the capital. He also extended the sincere thanks of the club to the residents of Gagetown, Upper Gagetown and Ormonet, and the places along the river at which they stopped, for their hospitality and for the entertainment provided for them.
The singing during the service was of the usual high order and besides the numbers of the sextette composed of members of the club was heard in a sacred selection.

THE FLEET LEFT GORHAM'S BLUFF ON SATURDAY MORNING and on the face of a severe wind storm which blew up a gale, causing a considerable sea to make its appearance upon the Reach and the lower river. The yachts which left Gorham's Bluff on schedule time were fortunate in escaping the worst of the storm which made sailing unpleasant although not dangerous. The others who for various causes were delayed, were forced to put into Brown's Flats for the night. This came on down to Sand Point early yesterday morning, under a favoring breeze.

of Jesus Christ. Therefore, I hold out my hand of welcome to all men and all workers, so long as, and in so far as, in Christ's name, they are doing His work in the world.
Notice the other side of this truth. He that is not for Christ is against Him. Why did Christ become incarnate? Why did He suffer and die upon the tree? Is not this the answer? To conquer the sin, the misery, the poverty, the despair of the world by the sacrifice of His own life? And is it not all summed up in one symbol—the Cross? And what is the enemy of the Cross? It is the power of the world that seeks to harm and not to help it.
Selfishness that abandons to grasp and appropriate the things of self and forgetful of the claims and rights of others, is another enemy of the Cross of Jesus Christ.
Indifference, unconcern, carelessness about the eternal interests of men, near to us and far from us, is a third enemy, not less than either malice or selfishness.
The greatest enemy of the Cross, the real enemy of the spirit of self-sacrifice, whether found in the nature of God or the heart of man, is the one who, after listening to the sublime argument of Calvary, the instructions of the Great Teacher regarding the nature and issues of the campaign, declares that he is neutral and with-stands love by the inertia of selfish indifference and unconcern.
When on earth who were the friends and enemies of Jesus Christ? The Apostles who made the great sacrifice and followed after Him, Mary and Martha of Bethany, who ministered to His feet, and who, in His living words, these were the friends of Jesus Christ.
The Devil seeking to persuade Him to conquer the world by some other method than that of sacrifice; Peter who tried to dissuade Him from Jerusalem and the cross; James and John with the shadow of the cross falling upon their pathway making selfish requests for place and power in the kingdom were the enemies of Jesus Christ.
The men who make haste to get sick, who sit at the feet of Mammon, whose goal it is that they shall be lifted, and not that they may do evil; to whom it matters not that once there was a cross upon the earth, that still it gleams o'er city dome and spire, who ignore their responsibilities; to whom the cross is a legend, the Resurrection a myth, and who murder every pure ambition and unselfish impulse—the enemies of Jesus Christ.
He that despise his father and his mother; he that removeth his neighbor's land mark; he that perverteth judgment for the stranger; the poor, the widow and the orphan; he that maketh the blind and innocent to wander out of the way; he that violates God's law, written on his body, mind and soul—is an enemy of Jesus Christ. Every man or woman whose life is not hallowed by sacrifice to the world to God, whose object is not to bear the world's burdens and sorrows; but to avoid every burden and sorrow is an enemy of Jesus Christ. He that makes no choice has already made a wrong choice; that he who steers no course is drifting in his doom.
He that decides, know that he that makes no choice has already made a wrong choice; that he who steers no course is drifting in his doom.
Many voices speak to you—your voice, your words, your actions—and God is in them all, calling you to enlist to battle and to victory.

Service Commodore Fraser Gregory made a brief address in which he expressed his pleasure at the success of the cruise. He extended the thanks of the R. N. Y. C. to the Automobile and Boat Club of Fredericton for their kindness and the excellent manner in which they entertained the yachtsmen during their visit to the capital. He also extended the sincere thanks of the club to the residents of Gagetown, Upper Gagetown and Ormonet, and the places along the river at which they stopped, for their hospitality and for the entertainment provided for them.
The singing during the service was of the usual high order and besides the numbers of the sextette composed of members of the club was heard in a sacred selection.
