SCOUT NEWS
 Mission Church Troop

Members of the Mission Church Troop had a most enjoyable time last Saturday, when they hiked as far as the old golf links. Many of the boys endeavored to qualify for their second class badges by adding to their knowledge of outdoor scouting. They successfully cooked their own meal and then returned to headquarters. The Rev. J. V. Young and A. S. M. Blair were in charge. The troop held their usual meeting on Tuesday evening at their headquarters, under the Rev. J. V. Young and A. S. M. Blair. A most instructive time was spent, the boys receiving further lessons in scouting and physical drill. B. C. Waring visited the troop and was well received by the boys who held great attention to his few remarks.

Scouts Movements on Wednesday

On Wednesday many of the city Boy Scouts took the opportunity of spending the time out doors, and adding to their knowledge of scouting by going out to the far side of Rockwood Park. Strolling, scout games and the cooking of their dinners were the principal things they carried out. St. Paul's Troop. Members of St. Paul's Church Troop spent an enjoyable time at their headquarters on Monday evening under Scoutmaster McPherson. Some thirty boys were present and they received valuable instruction in scouting. While some of them were examined for their second class badges by A. S. M. Hamm, B. C. Waring, district scoutmaster, was a visitor during the evening. St. James Troop. The St. James Troop held their last meeting for the season, on Thursday night, and spent most of the time cleaning up their headquarters, with the assistance of S. M. Ellis and A. S. M. Kee.

Letters to a Patrol Leader

But when you make inquiries, you will find that they are all really working together, for they all get their orders from the same foreman, and the foreman could not carry out his job unless he obeyed all the measurements given on a complete plan made out by the architect. Somebody must be at the head to give the orders, and everybody must be ready to obey him. Otherwise you could never build a house, or an aeroplane, or a Scout movement, or a patrol of Kangaroos, or anything else. Every place of work in the world that is successful is carried out by one fellow being put in command and by others being ready to carry out his orders. That is the only way to play the game. Obeying orders is the most important part of the rules. The thing is to learn the rules of the game as soon as you begin. Then, later on, you will be made captain, and you will be all the better as a captain of the team for having played the game properly when you were a junior. It has been said that you cannot command unless you know how to obey. The reason is that unless you have made a practice of obeying the orders of those who are over you, you will be no good at giving fair and straightforward orders to those who are put under you. It is the same question of each fellow playing his part for the honor and success of the team.

METHODIST

At the social union held in Boston last week, the Rev. Dr. Dillon Brown, in introducing Dr. Workman, delegate to the General Conference from the Wesleyan Church, England, said among other things "A part of the cream of the General Conference has come to us, and is our guest tonight. He is president of Westminster College, a senator of Oxford, and one of the committees of the legal one hundred of the British Conference. Dr. Workman has been giving a series of lectures in the South. We welcome him tonight because he is a Methodist and represents the great Wesleyan Church, which is now making great sacrifices. When this war is over we shall begin the thousand years of peace."
 Dr. Workman's address, of which we can only quote some sentences, was a discussion of "The Twentieth Century Call for Service." Peace when it comes, he said, must be founded on such a destruction of militarism that it will last for generations. It will be a general peace, not a peace that does not want the destruction of Germany, but a peace that lies in the hearts of generous people.
 The Rev. George Stiel, D.D., was cordially welcomed on Sunday last at the three appointments he took on the "Kewick" Circuit, his services were highly appreciated by the people, and to them stimulating and helpful.

Monday, Rev. L. Marshall, chairman of the Fredericton District, with Revs. Thomas Hicks, and Dr. Steel, met the quarterly official board of the circuit. An unanimous vote of thanks was passed to the Missionary Society for the help it has afforded in the field in the past, and pledging itself to become self-maintaining in the future. The board also invited the present pastor, Rev. W. R. Turner to return for next year. It was one of the best representative and largely attended meetings in the history of this interesting field.
 The many friends of Rev. L. Dawson, M.A., of P. E. Island, will deeply sympathize with him and his family in the loss they have sustained by the death of Mrs. Dawson.
 Special services are to be held at Phillips New Park, during the week of Philip Embury, a pioneer worker as a local preacher Methodism owes so much. One of the Bishops will have charge of the service.
 Rev. E. B. Chappell, D.D., of the M. E. Church, South, speaking in the General Conference, said: "The war which is destroying the manhood and the resources of other nations has brought us financial advantages which we could not have had by any other peaceful industry. When a nation is really dazed by its success in money-getting, funds opening before it the alluring prospects of still larger gains made possible through the dire misfortunes of its neighbors, it is time for all who have its true welfare at heart to sound the note of warning, for it must be clear even to the most superficial observer that such a situation must eventually result in an exaggerate the dangers which are the ordinary accompaniments of an era of great prosperity."

BAPTIST

Rev. I. W. Williamson has charge now of the correspondence department of the Maritime Baptists. He will answer in the paper all questions sent him dealing with Sunday school work, excepting doctrine and interpretation. His address is Box 117, Wolfville, N. S.
 Some have failed to understand thoroughly the meaning of the ideal independence of the local church among Baptists. A Baptist church in thorough accord with the remark of the great American general, "I take all the advice that I can get and then do as I please."
 Many are interested to know how Rev. J. E. Davis contracted the death of his family. The following sentences are from a recent article in the Maritime Baptist:
 In the fall of 1901 when assisting the native workmen in tearing down some temporary sheds erected to accommodate the papers while permanent quarters were preparing in the Kellogg Home at Ramachandrapuram, a silver penetrated his hand and he contracted the malarial. Eighteen months passed before it became apparent that the virus of the disease finally conquered that splendid physique.
 We are informed that the Publication Society is bringing out a new edition of Dr. Charles L. White's book, Lincoln, Dodge, Layman, of which 11,000 copies have already found their way into the hands of lovers of missions. The layman purchased 1,500 copies of this little volume, and scattered them throughout the nations where our missionaries are at work, and sent a copy to each young man studying for the ministry enrolled in our academies.
 Rev. F. W. Patterson, First Church, was the only person chosen this year by McMaster University to receive at the hands of that institution the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity. The Canadian Baptist says: "Dr. Patterson is a worthy recipient of the degree. He is a scholar without having been a college man; he is a student every day and week of the year; he is a prophet with vision, and a doer with great efficiency and energy; he commands the confidence and love of his brethren and is a man of outstanding influence in Alberta, and in Western Canada."
 Capt. Rev. J. H. MacDonald is now at work in the office of the Director of Chaplain Services, London.
 Rev. A. Cahoon, D.D., of Wolfville, mourns the death of Mrs. Cahoon, which occurred on May 8.
 Rev. G. A. Lamson has presented his resignation to the First Church, Moncton. He will begin duty at once as chaplain of the 145th Battalion. The Baptists of the United States sail under about eleven different names. These vary in extent from just plain Baptist to the old two-sided in the spirit Predestinarian. Some practise open communion, others close communion; some worship on Sunday, others on Saturday; some believe in, while others deny the freedom of the will. May most of them live long and prosper.

Church of England

The Secretary of the Board of Church Literature has just received the following letter from the Venerable Archdeacon Armitage, of Halifax: "The new Canadian Prayer Book will be ready in July, but is only one day before it became apparent that the Reverend Canon Armstrong, rector of Trinity church, has moved with his family to his summer home at Hampton. The many friends of the worthy canon trust that he may be greatly improved by his outing, and that he will come back in the fall able to take up his regular work once more."
 That the Rev. F. W. Ellis has been appointed as Rector of the important parish of Shediac is good news. Mr. Ellis has done excellent work in the parish of Musquoddy, and will be all the better for his interest in his work in his new field.
 A few days ago the "old country" was much pleased to read that the Victoria Cross had been conferred upon a "Londoner" during his temporary chaplain of the forces. On three successive days he, during very heavy fighting, went repeatedly backwards and forwards, under continuous and heavy shell and machine gun fire, between our original trenches and those captured from the enemy, in order to tend and rescue wounded men. In the first two days he brought in twenty-two who had been badly wounded, and three were actually killed while he was dressing their wounds. Then, next day he took charge of a party of volunteers and once more went out to bring in those who remained.
 "This splendid work," says the official notification, "was quite voluntary on his part, and outside the scope of his ordinary duties."
 A secular London paper comments thus on ideas connected with the above phrase: "Only foolish people slight the ordinary duties of a chaplain of the forces. They are not despised by the men of the regiment to which the 'address' are attached. There is a overwhelming testimony that among the manifold influences which pervade the front, the spirit of religion is strong and strengthening, and the chaplain performs his ordinary duties in a way which wins for them the respect and often the affection of the men. Though non-combatants, they cheerfully take their share of the heaviest work, and their ministrations are required, and their quiet, serene cour-

PRESBYTERIAN

Every adult son of the foreign missionaries of the Presbyterian church in Canada is wearing the "King's uniform."
 The staff of Canadian Presbyterian missionaries in Nonan China, forwarded to the treasurer of the church at home in 1915 the sum of $4,000 to be devoted to the "Schemes of the Church." Had the home church given in the same proportion the total would have been $14,000,000.
 In spite of the strain of the war, Grace church, Calgary, has taken a forward step, having decided to become responsible for the support of a foreign missionary, choosing as its representative Dr. Alexander Nugent of Ujlain, in the Central Indian Mission.
 New schools are to be erected in connection with the Canadian Presbyterian mission at San Fernando, Trinidad. During the whole period of our educational work there the accommodation for the students has been meagre and altogether inadequate. Now for the first time a building will be constructed commensurate with the needs and importance of the work. A park of six acres will surround the new school. Through a system of careful and far-sighted finance, this is secured without any additional cost to the church at home. The new appointments to work abroad made at the recent meeting of the Board of Foreign Missions include:—Dr. Leslie G. Pearce and Mrs. Pearce to medical work in India; Miss Emma Palet being an Evangelical work in India; Miss Gertrude Cass to evangelical work in Korea; Miss Grace Beattie to Girls' School in Trinidad; Dr. W. Schell, Mrs. Schell and Miss Eleanor Hughes (nurse) to Severance Medical College, Korea.
 The Presbyterian Publication Board will be ready with an encouraging report for the general assembly. The receipts in 1915 increased fourteen per cent. over the preceding year. There are now twenty-one periodicals published by the board with a circulation of 11,000,000 individuals copies annually. The new Departmental Grade Lessons, begun last year, have proved very popular, and it is interesting to know that the Canadian Methodists are issuing an edition of our Graded Lessons for their schools, with a saving to our publications committee through a cooperative arrangement in regard to printing.
 General Assembly.
 In a few days commissioners from all parts of the Presbyterian church in Canada will be leaving for the city of Winnipeg to attend the meeting of the General Assembly which opens in Westminster church, that city, on the evening of the first Wednesday of June. This is the annual parliament of the church. The representation is by presbyteries, each presbytery being entitled to one-sixth of its ministerial members, and an equal number of elders. The annual parliament of qualified commissioners in attendance at the assembly of 1915 was 491, while members of committees through out of assembly besides a few visitors brought the attendance up to six hundred. The assembly will be in session for more than a week, during which time consideration will be given to the different departments of the entire work of the church. The retiring moderator is Rev. Malcolm Macgillivray, D. D., of Chalmers church, Kingston, Ont. The names of several prominent ministers have been put forward for nomination as his successor. At this distance it looks as though the choice will lie between Prof. A. B. Baird, D. D., of Manitoba College, Winnipeg, and Rev. John Neil, D. D., of Knox church, Toronto. This is the fourth occasion on which the assembly will have met in Winnipeg, the first being in 1887 when it was but a fair-sized town. The moderator-elect of that meeting was the well-known Rev. R. F. Burns, D. D., of Fort Massary church, Halifax. The full representation of the New Brunswick Presbyteries in this assembly will be twenty-two, eleven ministers and eleven elders. Those attending from St. John presbytery are Revs. Dr. W. H. Smith, T. A. Mitchell, W. K. Read, T. P. Drummond, H. D. Anderson, Gordon Tringale, M. H. Manuel, ministers and Messrs. W. S. Clawson, A. F. Bentley, Robert Scott, P. Campbell, Jas. Scott, J. E. Bryant, elders. The commissioners elected by Miramichi presbytery at its quarterly meeting were Revs. D. Henderson, A. Craise, W. M. Matthews and John Harris, with alternates A. R. Kettle, J. M. Sutherland, J. R. Miller and S. J. MacArthur; and Messrs. J. Robertson, G. R. Vanderbeck, J. Henderson and A. R. Matthews, elders.
 The Union Question.
 It is generally thought that the "burning question" at this assembly will be that of Church Union, not because it is a new question, but because it has reached the point of definite decision one way or the other as no preceding assembly. A vote
