Held For Murder

Bartender Who Killed Jack McLean Being Held Pending McCarthy's Condition.

Boston, Mar. 25.—James J. Connor, the bartender, who shot and killed Larry McCarthy, well known baseball player, formerly of Frederickton, N. B., and dangerously wounding John F. McCarthy, as a result to a barroom brawl, is still being held this morning in the local jail, the case against him being held up at the request of the police pending the result of the fight which the doctors are making to save the life of McCarthy. He has been kept alive since the shooting by means of blood transfusion, his mother and brother having given a quantity of their blood in an effort to save him, but the doctors at the hospital this morning stated his condition was still critical and very little hope is held out for his recovery.

The charge against Connor is murder in the case of McCarthy, and assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of McCarthy. It was stated this morning that no further steps would be taken in prosecuting these charges until McCarthy's fate is definitely known.

Basketball Games
Saturday Night

Y. M. C. I. Intermediates Defeated Orioles—Post Series Should Be Interesting.

The fast Y. M. C. I. Intermediates defeated the Orioles by a score of 24 to 12 in a postponed game played in the Y. M. C. I. gym last Saturday night. Although the game was a good one, the Intermediates had things much their own way and are justified in the thought that they have fought their own way to the leadership of the junior section of the City Basketball League. The well earned honor of Y. M. C. I. of the High School and the Y. M. C. I.

It now rests with the two "Y's" and the High School to play out and determine to whom the honor of being champion of the league shall go. This post series should prove a most interesting one, and the fans will look forward with anticipation to whatever line match, which will be drawn up to meet the needs of the situation.

The line-up of the two teams who played Saturday night follows:

Y. M. C. I.—Barnes, McCreary, McCreary, and Tunnison; centre, Fraser; de-Orion, McCreary, Fraser, and T. McCreary, centre, McCreary, Fraser, and T. McCreary.

Seeks Reason For Rejection of Work

Millionaire Sculptor's Nude Statue Refused Place in Exhibition at New York.

New York, March 25.—Charles Cary Rumsey, sculptor, pole player, and son-in-law of Mrs. E. H. Harriman, obtained an order from Supreme Court Justice Newburger today requiring the committee on sculpture to show cause for its refusal to exhibit his latest work, a female nude, entitled "The Dawn," in the League's annual exhibition in the Metropolitan Museum next month.

Rumsey charged that the committee had refused the work after his chairman, John Gregory, had promised to exhibit it, and his action in court was to learn what the trouble was.

Artists who have seen "The Dawn" and have known of the dimensions of it, said today that there was no question of morality involved, and so far as an exhibition was concerned, "The Dawn" was a first class job; an improved work, as a matter of fact, for it is the second Rumsey did from the original clay model.

One Miss Rumsey.

The first, it was said, was destroyed by the fire which consumed in the galleries of the Architectural League in January, 1919, when the exhibition that year was being arranged. The refusal of the committee to accept the duplicate of this duplicate statue is the main reason for Mr. Rumsey's action.

Mr. Rumsey is in view of the favorable manner in which the work was received last year. The Architectural League had no objection to the work, and Rumsey was backed by several artist friends who praised the work.

Rumsey declared he was not concerned with the "Dawn" statue, but was concerned with the "Dawn" statue.
