CHICAGO MARKET.

WHEAT BOOMS—PROVISIONS DULL
BUT FIRM—CORN STEADY.

Chicago, May 22.

Wheat opened steady without any great show of strength. The absence of the Liverpool markets was rather a damper to the trade. It was also adversely affected by reports of beneficial rains throughout the winter wheat section, during the early hours, but the Visible Supply caused the shorts to cover in lively shape.

The market to-day will rest very much on its own merits as all cables and statistics are interrupted owing to the Whitsuntide holidays.

There has been considerable decrease in the Argentine shipments during the last week encouraging the belief of some that the maximum movement from that country is over.

There is no doubt that there has been considerable damage done in several parts of the wheat belt by the unfavorable weather. This is perhaps particularly noticeable throughout Kansas and in some parts of Minnesota, and although winter wheat has made favorable progress in much of its territory, yet the general promise has been materially reduced from a week ago.

The following is the visible supply of grain in New York on the dates mentioned:

May 22, 1899. May 15, 1899. May 23, 1899.

The amount of wheat on passage to the United Kingdom shows a decrease of 1,040,000 bushels compared with a week ago, and an increase of 5,760,000 with a year ago.

The amount of wheat on passage to the Continent shows an increase of 240,000 bushels compared with a week ago, and a decrease of 8,000,000 with a year ago.

The total amount of wheat in sight shows a decrease of 1,380,000 bushels compared with a week ago, and an increase of 1,000,000 with a year ago.

The wheat in sight, with comparisons, is as follows:
