LADIES' SKEL-ETON WA-TERPROOF CLOAK. (To BE MADE WITH ONE OR TWO CAPES) (For Illustrations see Page 292.)

No. 8558.-This cloak is also shown at figure No. 205 T in this number of THE DELIN-EATOR.

This serviceable and stylish storm cloak is one of the most comfortable garments of its kind. It is here pictured made of blue cravenette and finished with two rows of machinestitching. The fronts are fitted by under-arm dartsandarelapped and closed indouble breasted style with button-holesand buttons. The body of the back is cut from lining goods and lapped over and stitched flatly to the back-skirt sections, thecenter seam ending at the top of coat-laps that are closed with buttons and button-holes in a Side-back flv. gores complete the adjustment, the seams joining them to the backsdisappearing below the waistundercoatplaits. Ripples appear below the hips. Openings are left in the side seams below the waist to permit the hands to pass through and raise the skirt, and are finished with underfacings and underlaps. belt istacked underneath to the center and sideback seams to hold the back close to the figure. Pocket-laps

FIGURE No. 201 T .- This illustrates Ladies' Costume .- The pattern is No. 8609 (copyright), price 1s. 8d. or 40 cents.

(For Description see Page 288.)

conceal openings to deep pockets inserted in the fronts. neck of the cloak is completed by a standing collar and a rolling collar with flaring ends finishes the double cape, which is remov-consists of a Ladies' basque and skirt. The basque pattern, which is No. 8602 and costs 1s. 3d. or 30 cents, is in thirteen sizes for ladies from twenty-eight to forty-six inches, bust meas-able. The long cape is shaped by side seams extending over shoulders the while the short cape is seamless, and both hang in graceful ripples all round. The short cape may be omitted, the effect thus attained being pictured. The cape is fastened to the cloak at the neck with hooks and loops and is secured at the throat by a fancifully shaped strap. A ribbon loop is sewed underneath to the long cape near each front edge for hands to the pass through.

Cravenette is a popular material for a utility garment of this kind as it is thoroughwaterproof and devoid of the unpleasant odor of rubber. Travelling cloaks of cheviot, tweed, etc., made in this style are also commended.

We have pattern No. 8558 in ten sizes for ladies from twen ty-eight to forty-six inches, bust measure. For a lady of medium the cloak will require eight yards of material forty-five inches wide, or six yards and a half fifty-four inches wide, or five yards and five-eighths sixty inches wide. Price of pattern, 1s. 6d. or 35 cents.

FIGURE No. 203 T .- LADIES' TAILOR-MADE SUIT. (For Illustration see Page 233.)

FIGURE No. 203T. —This