Dear Mr. Meighen:

I regret very much that your assumption that I have made a fortune in Home Oil is not well founded. It is true that I have a few thousand shares of this stock, which I consider fairly valuable, but I have sold very few, if any, of the shares. Consequently my wealth so far in that connection is all on printed stock certificates and I never count their value more than what they cost until they are turned into the coin of the realm. It does look as though this property were going to earn very valuable returns on our venture there and it might be that with luck following us as it has so far the stock I hold may make me financially independent. I more than thank you for the spirit of your letter. There is no one that I would rather have wishes of success from or congratulations on success from more than yourself.

I am enclosing check for $3,000.00. I think this is the amount of the first payment on these shares. At any rate it is enough to guarantee that I will come through with the balance due when forced to do so. At the present time this is all that I can spare. In the meantime accept my thanks for having held these shares for me. I hope that you and all those investing with you in this venture, having done good nationally, will receive good profits on their holdings in the near future.

With kindest personal regards,

I am,

Yours sincerely,
