

of the Dominion to the Motherland, and this from no sentimental point of view, but in the conviction that it is absolutely essential to national greatness. The Dominion of Canada has given, and will give, of her best. Surely not all in vain!