Keep Your Hens Laying

Your hens are wasting time when they are hatching chickens. They are much better profit-producers when they are laying eggs. One can handle as many eggs as ten hens and produce infinitely better results. It costs less for oil for a Chatham Incubator than it costs for food for the hens and the Chatham doesn't require half the attention and gives you none of the worry. The Chatham Incubator produces healthy, sturdy chicks, free from vermin, which is practically impossible with hens.

Chatham Incubator

We sell the Chatham Incubator on the easy payment plan—you can have three years to pay for it in. Write for our Catalogue and full particulars to-day.

GOSSIP.

The prosecuting Attorney: "Was the prisoner in the habit of singing when he was alone?"

Pat McGuire (witness): "Shure, an' I can't say, for Oi was niver with him when he was alone."

Aunt Dinah, when she put the eggs in the saucepan, invariably began singing, "Rock of Ages," and sang through two verses. "Aunt Dinah," asked the man who tells the story, "are there not three verses in that hymn?" "Dar is, massa, but I sings only two when I wants 'em soft, and three when I wants 'em hard."

Mark Twain was once travelling on a lecture tour, and a friend had been drawing the humorist out on the subject of his experiences. "What sort of audience," he asked, "do you like best? Who, in your opinion, make the most responsive and sympathetic listeners?" "College men," replied Mark, after a moment's thought—"College men and convicts."

An Englishman in Shanghai was given by his Chinese boy a dinner of unusual excellence, but instead of being grateful he began, as is the way with some Anglo-Saxons, to chaff his young cook. "What was it? Suppose you killed one of the street dogs, eh?" Wun Lee looked pained, and made a sign of dissent. "No kille dog," he said indignantly, "him long time dead when I him pickee up!"

A citizen of Scotch origin had been in the habit of wearing a pair of ear-laps these cold days.

A friend met him, and said: "Why are you not wearing the laps now?"

"I met an accident with them and have dropped them."

"What was the accident?"

"I was going down street a fortnight ago, wearing them over my lugs, accompanied by a friend. He said to me: 'Donal, will ye hae a drink?' and I didna hear him!"
