

THIS IS THE SHEET METAL AGE.

To make a factory, warehouse, barn, shed or outbuilding of any description, wind, water, snow, fire and lightning proof cover it with which are accurately pressed from the best and most durable British Steel it is possible to procure.

All corrugations are straight and true, assuring an accurate fit at both side and end laps without waste. Special hip and ridge covers make tight, neat joints at these points.

Where warmth is not important "Galt" Corrugated Sheets save three-fourths of the wood sheeting as well as considerable labor, and will give good service for a life time of at least fifty years.

It costs no more for a "Galt" Corrugated Sheet Steel Building than for a wood one. Which do you think is the better investment? Galvanized or painted material always in stock. Complete information in catalog "G-E."

Cooks on top of the stove, bakes in oven at same time

You can cook over every pot-hole and bake in Pandora oven at same time—and get perfect results. That's because cooking draft is also baking draft. Flues are so constructed that heat passes directly under every pot-hole and around oven twice before passing up chimney. No wasted heat—instead fuel does double duty, saving Pandora owners both time and money.

GOSSIP.

The fresh blood of the country which makes the enterprise of cities possible, comes from the boys and girls who warmed their feet on October mornings where the cows laid down; who have been brought up to work on land, to plant and hoe and harvest, and look after live stock. This is all education, and very necessary education. "A sand-pile and dirt in which to dig is the divine right of every child," says Judge Ben Lindsey.

SOME NOTES ABOUT PIGS.

Keep the young pigs growing thriftily. A breeding boar should not be kept fat. Every check or halt in the growth of a pig through its first two months is more expensive than at any later period. A sow with a mean, cross disposition, is always hard to deal with, and often causes the loss of the litter. One advantage with dairying in connection with pig-raising, is the supply of milk that can be had for the growing pigs.

So far as can be done, the sows should be bred to farrow not later than the middle of October. Usually, it is better to have the pigs come a little earlier than this rather than a little later, so that they can secure a good start before cold weather.

While a well-matured sow will readily farrow two good litters of pigs in a year, and if well fed and cared for will keep in good condition, yet when a young sow farrows her first litter in the spring, it is nearly always best to allow her to rest and recuperate during the summer, and then breed her in the winter for a spring litter. In the majority of cases she will prove a better brood sow if this is done.

Sows during pregnancy should have ample exercise in order to producing a strong litter. As a rule, April is early enough to have spring litters farrowed, as the piglets can soon have a run out in the sunshine. Exercise is essential to the health and thrift of the youngsters, too.

W. COLQUHOUN'S NEW IMPORTATION OF CLYDESDALES.

The veteran importer of Clydesdale horses, Wm. Colquhoun, of Mitchell, Ont., has again reached home with an exceptionally strong bunch of stallions, the predominating features of the selections being big size, draft character, and good straight action, all of which he certainly has in this importation. A big, well-balanced lot, on faultless underpinning of strong flat bone, well-sprung ankles, and big, wide feet, about describes them. Golden Chief is a brown-roan, six years old, by Fickle Fashion, dam by Crusader, grandam by Old Times. Here is one of the best horses that ever left Scotland, 2,100 lbs. in weight, immensely flashy, thick and smooth, and his bottom is perfection. Ascot's Heir is a bay five-year-old, by Ascot, dam by Fitz Gallant, grandam by Royal Maid. He is a typical draft horse, smooth to a turn, and stands on a right good bottom. King's Honor is another bay five-year-old that will weigh considerably over the ton, sired by Enigma, dam by Prince Sturdy, grandam by Gold. This is a big, rangy, stylish horse, of ideal draft character, just the kind to get the big, high-priced workers. Nigel is a black four-year-old, by General Hunter, dam by Top Knot, grandam by Orlanda. Here is another horse that will easily go over a ton with a little better fit, and, withal, is smooth, and has a bright, stylish carriage. Baron Tynwald is a bay yearling, by Bay Garland, dam by Lord Fauntleroy, grandam by Prince of Kyle. This is one of the coming horses. He is big, and has a faultless bottom. Baron Hood, that noted sire of champions and prizewinners galore, after breathing the invigorating air of Canada for a year, is in fine fettle. He is nine years old, sired by Baron's Pride, dam by Prince Romeo. Two fillies finished off the shipment. Honeysuckle, a bay three-year-old, by Fyvie Prince, dam by Gallant Prince; and Naomi, a brown three-year-old, by Hiawatha, dam by Scottish Banner. Here are a right good pair. All these horses are for sale.

HELPING THE COLLECTION.

A newly-appointed Scottish minister on his first Sunday in office had reason to complain of the poorness of the collection. "Mon," replied one of the elders, "they are close—vera close. But," confidentially, "the auld meenister he put three or four saxpence into the plate hissel', just to gie them a start. Of course he took the saxpence awa' with him afterwards." The new minister tried the same plan, but the next Sunday he again had to report a dismal failure. The total collection was not only small, but he was grieved to find that his own sixpences were missing. "Ye may be a better preacher than the auld meenister," exclaimed the elder, "but if ye had had the knowledge o' the world, an' o' yer ain flock in particular, ye'd ha' done what he did an' glued the saxpences to the plate."

They Didn't Have to Change.

During the years in which our pure food laws have been put into effect there has been a great hurrying and scurrying on the part of the food manufacturers to change their methods to make them conform to the law.

The Quaker Oats Company is a conspicuous exception. It was admitted that Quaker Oats was as pure and clean as possible and that it was an ideal food. The purity and cleanliness of Quaker Oats is familiar to every one who has compared it with other brands of oatmeal.

It is so cheap that any one can afford it and so nourishing that everyone needs it. The result of last year's experiments at Yale and other points where food values were tested is that Quaker Oats has been adopted by many persons as their food on which they rely for adding vigor and endurance of muscle and brain.
