she was induced to make a novena to Our Lady. Last Saturday morning was the last day. On that morning she arose with the assistance of her sister and made pre-parations for going to church in the carri-age when it should come. Promptly at 6.30 o'clock it arrived, and, supported on one side by the banister of the stairs and on the other by her sister, the descent to the street door was begun. It was a labori-ous, painful proceeding, and required several minutes. Finally they arrived at the church in time for the 7 o'clock mass. After being assisted into the edifice the patient knelt near Our Lady's altar, and immediately lost all sense of her sur-roundings. She remained in this state during the mass, and was only aroused to consciousness by the priest's voice pro-

Another well-attested case of miracul-ous cure at the Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help occurred last week. Miss Ellen F. T. Meagher, who resides at 304 Harrison avenue, had been sick for three years, and her friends several times thought her on the point of death. Physi-cians seemed to do her no good. And at last, on the advice of one of the fathers, she was induced to make a novena to Our Turf, Field and Farm.

"I have been working at it ever since I was large enough to bend a pin." The above remark was addressed to Mr. Seth Green, the veteran fish culturist, who is known to the entire world, and his reply indicates the extent of his labors. "When I was quite young," he contin-ued, "I would lie on the limbs of trees that reached out over the water entire afternoons watching the movements of that she might receive communion, which was done. She continued on her knees in meditation for some time longer, until the blessing for the sick had been pro-nounced at Our Lady's altar, when she suddenly arose without any special inten-tion of doing so, and stood up without assistance. Two of her sisters were pres-ent at the time, and were delighted to see her walk down the aisle unassisted. A great many others present also witnessed the proceeding, and were, to say the least, not a little surprised thereat. She returned home in a carriage, ascended the stairs how a nitite surprised thereat. She returned home in a carriage, ascended the stairs without any difficulty or assistance what-ever, and subsequently partook of break-fast, which she relished keenly. This was last Sunday. At noon the physician called and was astonished at the great chance that had taken place. Since then

"As we have never attempted to count them it will be impossible to say. They extend away up into the millions though. We shipped over three millions out of the ponds this year and there seemed to be as many hybrids." "You speak of hybrids, Mr. Green. What do you mean by that ?" "I have experimented for years in cross-ing the breed of the various fish and am still working upon it. We cross the female salmon trout with the male brook trout, and thus produce a hybrid. Then we cross the hybrid with the brook trout, which gives us three cnarter brook trout and gives us three quarter brook trout and one-quarter salmon trout. This makes one of the finest fishes in the world. He has all the habits of the book trout, lives in both streams and lakes, develops ver-In both streams and lakes, develops ver-million spots on his sides, rises readily to a fly, is far more vigorous and fully one-third larger than ordinary brook trout of the same age. The possibilities of develop-ment in the fish world are great and we are rapidly ascertaining what they are." As the man of news watched the coun-tenance of Mr. Greap while he ma citize tenance of Mr. Green while he was givin tenance of Mr. Green while he was giving the above account, he could but feel that he was in the presence of one of the few investigators who, from a rich and life-long experience, bring great benefit to the world. Let the reader great benefit to the world. Let the reader imagine a strong and stalwart frame, sur-mounted by a head strongly resembling that of Socrates, and covered with a white silky beard and luxuriant gray hair. Seth Green, the father of fish culture, is a picture of health, and the reporter could not help remarking so. "If you had seen me the last winter and spring, young man, you might have thought differently," said the veteran. "How is that? One would think, to look at you, that sickness was something hands can do; and the mind in knowledge, accomplishment and taste, that she may be a delight and a help in her home. She will know as many useful and beautiful things as she can; and she will never pre-terd to know anything of which she is ignorant. Ignorance of things is not shameful, though there is such a thing as shameful ignorance—for instance, not look at you, that sickness was something of which you knew nothing "And so it was until last winter. I went down into Florida in the fall to see what kind of fish they had in that state and study their habits, and was attacked and study their nabits, and was attacated with malaria in its severest form, and when I came home I realized for the first time in my life that I was sick. My symptoms were terrible. I had dull, symptoms were terrible. I had dull, aching pains in my head, limbs and around my back. My appetite was wholly gone, and I felt a lack of energy such as I had often heard described but had never ex. often heard described but had never ex-perienced. Any one who has ever had a severe attack of malaria can appreciate my condition. I went to bed and re-mained there all the spring, and if there ever was a sick man I was the one." "It seems hardly possible. How did you come to recover so completely." "My brother, who had been afflicted by a severe kidney trouble and threatened a severe kidney trouble and threatened with Bright's disease was completely cured by a remedy in which I had great con-fidence. I therefore tried the same rem-edy for way make a severe the same remdepict of the same remains and a same rem-edy for my malaria and am happy to say I am a well man to-day and through the instrumentality of Warner's Safe Cure, which I believe to be one of the most which I believe to be one of the most valuable of medicines. Indeed, I see it is endorsed by the United States medical college of New York, and that Dr. Gunn, dean of that institution, has written a long article concerning its value." "And are you now as well as formerly?" "Apparently so. I keep the remedy on hand all the while though and do not hesi-tate to recommend it to others."

The numerous fish exhibitions which are taking place in all parts of Europe and the unusual interest which is being manifested in this subject throughout the world all owe their origin to the process above described as originated and conductabove described as originated and conduct-ed by Seth Green. It is certainly cause for congratulation to every American that this country produces so many men whose genius brings value to the world, and it is proof positive of the greatest merit that a remedy even with such high standing as Warner's Safe Cure is known to have should be so strongly endorsed and recom-mended by one so reputable and reliable as Seth Green.

FORTHE (IDNEYS, LIVER & URINARY ORGANS

THE BEST BLOOD PURIFIER. There is only one way by which any disease can be cared, and that is by removing the cause—whatever it may be. The great medi-cal authorities of the day declare that nearly every disease is caused by deranged kidneys or liver. To restore these therefore is the only way by which health can be secured. Here is where WARNER'S SAFE CURE has achieved its great reputation. It acts directly upon the kidneys and liver and by placing them in a healthy condition drives disease and pain from the system. For all Kidney, Liver and Urinary troubles; for the distress-ing disorders of women; for Malaria, and physical troubles generally, this great rem-edy has no equal. Beware of impostors, imitations and concoctions said to be just as good.

The cause of the intense hostility of the Irish people to England has been discov-ered, if we can believe the N.Y. Herald, which says: "England has been searching many years for the handle of the Irish re-volution, and now her unparalleled labors are rewarded, and we may henceforward look for peace and plenty, or, at any rate, happy and contented starvation, in the Emerald Isle. A large corps of detectives have been at work to discover the reason why Irish children speak even profanely of the paternal and maternal affection of the British government. It has cost hunthe British government. It has cost hun-dreds and thousands of pounds to get at the secret; but everybody knows that when England begins a work, either good or bad, she always carries it to a successful

Her little prayer was said, And from her chamber now She passed forth with the light Of heaven upon her brow. issue. It is now an undisputed fact that into the schools of Ireland a certain in-flammatory document has found its way, and that it has so affected the little ones that they say England just as an indig-nant man says damn. This document consists of an allegory in which a strong and hearly and courageous young man disposesses an ugly and old ogre of his castle and is supposed to point to the way in which the national party hopes to take possession of Dubin Castle. It seems positively wicked to teach the young Irish idea to shoot at this target, and to furtively prejudice his tender intellect against the policy of the dear mother country. It may be necessary to punish Ireland for so atrocious an act by closing all the schools and compelling the children to grow up in the densest ignor-ance. If England can only thr ust Ireland back into barbarism she might possibly be excused for a continuance of her present mode of procedure, and would closely resemble the quack doctor who, no matter what was the matter with his patients, tried to throw him into fits, saying that he could cure fits every time. But the worst part of this document is that it contains sev-eral times repeated, a very malicious and ominons quartrain which the children are to learn under the old time advice of Talley-rand. "Let me make the songs of the people, and I care not who makes their lawa." This quartrain is revolutionary to the last degree, but we fear that it is too late to suppress it, since it is known by Saint Anselm. THE CHRISTIAN PHILOSOPHER.—St. Anselm, one of the most eminent and grandest minds of the ages of faith, im-ported philosophy into religion, in order to clear up that which religion makes accessible to the human intelligence ; and religion he imported into philosophy, to make up to philosophy for its own insuli-ciency. He should be regarded as the founder of modern philosophy, for he laid down all those principles which Descartes and Malbranche developed at a subsequent period. Having been created archbishop of Canterbury, he displayed as much pru-dence as gentleness, as great zeal and firm-nad piety when a religious of the abbey of Bec, and science and talent while em-ployed in the capacity of teacher of polite laws." This quartrain is revolutionary to the last degree, but we fear that it is too of Bec, and science and talent while em-ployed in the capacity of teacher of polite literature and philosophy. He was always animated with a tender devotion to the Blessed Virgin, to whom his conversion was due, and the treatises he composed in her wraise breathe the sweetest piety. His late to suppress it, since it is known by heart by every child who is able to make mud pies. It runs thus :--"Fee, fie, fo, fum, I smell the blood of an Englishman; Be he alive or be he dead, I'll grind him up to make my bread. her praise breathe the sweetest piety. SS. Alexander and Epipodius.

HOLY FRIENDSHIP,-Alexander and Epipodius were fast bound in friendship from their earliest childhood, while study. ing under the same master; and this friendship was so much the more sincere and inviolate because it was of a saintly character religion forming the character, religion forming the ground-work thereof. Being wont to encourage each other in well-doing, they reckoned sufficiently upon one another to leave them tranquil-minded as to their mutual perseverance. During the persecution of Lucius Verus, having been cast into chains in their character of Christians, they enkinds of totture. Despairing of being able to get the upper hand, the judge had them separated, and caused them to appear at the tribunal in turns; he tried even to paraudo and them to the tried even to persuade one of them that his friend, yielding to better counsel, had renounced yielding to better counsel, had renounced Christianity; but they were not the dupes of this perfidious manœuvre; they perse-vered apart even as they had perse-vered when in company. Epipodius was beheaded, and Alexander expired upon the cross. This martyrdom was carried out at Lyons towards the year 165

The other day a Michigan avenue grocer had about 250 cocoanuts piled up in front of his doors. To-day he hasn't a single one. The other day he thought he was stuck for about §25. To-day he realizes that he has made more clear profit on cocoanuts than any other retailer in Detroit. The grocer was reading in his paper about some one down East who smuggled whisky by filling coccanuts with it, and he finished the article, drew down his left el eye and called out to his clerk: "Thomas Jefferson Bangs, go out and huy me a gallon of mean whisky."

At 7 o'clock next morn-ing an employe of a livery stable called in and asked : fore she will love religion for God's sake and the sake of poor humanity. Saint Adalbert.

Adabert, dedicated to the Blessed Virgin through the piety of his parents, and care-fully trained in the love of religion by a bis-hop of Magdeburg, called in like manner Adalbert, received the last sigh of Dieth-mar, bishop of Prague, from whom he had received holy orders, and who expired in utter despair, reproaching himself with never having sought anything but the advantages and honours of this world. This spectacle produced such an impression upon him that it never left his mind, and upon him that it never left his mind, and he proposed to himself to have but one aim for the remainder of his life, that, namely, of gaining heaven, cost what it might. Having himself become bishop of Prague, he displayed incomparable zeal, piety, humility, and charity; but his dio cesans not corresponding with his pious desires, he was empowered by the sover eign pontiff to leave them is not highly be avered by the sover desires, he was empowered by the sover-eign pontiff to leave them in order to devote himself to the conversion of the unbelievers. He evangelized Hungary, Poland, and Prussia, and had the happiness of baptizing thousands of idolaters. He at length met his death in an island near Dantzic, from the hand of an idolatrous priest, on the 23rd April, 997.

Persons of weakly constitution derive from Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda a degree of vigor obtainable and Soda a degree of vigor obtainable from no other source, and it has proved itself a most efficient protection to those troubled with a hereditary tendency to consumption. ## Travelling on a Bicycle to Say Mass.

The Rev. Father Sabela held an open. The Rev. Father Sabela held an open-air service at Billingsboro', Lincolnshire, England, which was well attended, a large number of Protestants being present. It will be remembered that it was by means of such missionary efforts that the foun-dation of the new Mission was laid by Father Sabela a few years ago, and their usefulness in a large and Protestant dis-trict such as that of which Father Sabela thas charge can hardly be overestimated. ary, nowever, must be very considerable, as Sunday's service involved a bicycle ride of thirty-two miles, between High Mass and the evening service. The distance from Sleaford to Billingaboro' is only twelve miles by the road, but owing to a recent heavy rainfall, a brook which lies heart. midway was impassable, and thus an addi-tional four miles was added to the journey to and fro.

P. M. Markell, West Jeddore, N. S., writes: I wish to inform you of the won-derful qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. I had a harse so lame that he could scarcely walk; the trouble was in the knee; and two or three explicition of the second

C. S. Judson, Wallaceburg, says; Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for Summer Complaints, is a splendid prepar-ation, and I do not know of a single case in which it has not given satisfaction, but on the contrary have had many testimonials to its efficacy.

Mrs. E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, War-ren Co., N. Y., writes : She has been troubled with asthma for four years, had shameful ignorance-for instance, not knowing that which we ought to have and knowing that which we ought to have and might have learned. But otherwise, one need no more be ashamed of knowing less than another person than of being less in stature. Acquirement, in extent, is largely accidental. A lady will know all those things that beft her station, and as many more as she can. These qualities will keep her always at her case; a lady is always natural; and calm self-respect and respect for others are two of the unseen but real shields that protect ladies even in associa-tions which must surely stain or injure natures of lower culture and less poise. A lady's outward and inward "appearance" will correspond. She will no more obtrude lady's outward and inward "appearance" will correspond. She will no more obtrude in dress or manner than in spirit. Com-mon sense, good taste, and love of the beautiful will appear in both. She will be so dressed that no one will look at her be-cause of her dress. There is a lady hidden in every woman, as there is a lady hidden in every man; and no matter how far the actual may be from the possible, one thing is certain, that a true lady or a true gen-tleman is always recognized and acknowl-edged by this secret nobility in the human heart.

"Little Less than Prophetic."

It is a remarkable thing that the emi-nent German Protestant historian, Johann Frederick Boehmer, wrote in 1850: "Would to God that the next Pope, who has been predicted as a lumen de cælo, would look upon the truth-loving, serious science of history, as a 'light from heaven' in the darkness and errors of the want of principle of the present day !" The "next Pope" has come in the per-son of Leo XIII., and after perusing his remarkable letter to the three Cardinals on this very subject, the words of Boeh-mer read as little less than prophetic.— London Tablet, September 1.

There is no remedy known to medical science that is more positive in its effect, to cure Cholera Morbus, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Infantum, and all Bowel Complaints than Dr. Fowler's Ex-tract of Wild Strawberry.

"One question more. How many ponds of fish have you here and how are they divided."

divided." Well, we have 43 ponds which are divi-ded up as follows: 22 ponds of brook trout, 2 ponds of salmon trout, 4 of McCloud river or rainbow trout, 2 ponds of German trout, 3 of California moun-tain trout, 2 ponds of hybrids, 4 of one-quarter salmon and three quarters brook trout, 2 ponds of gold fish, and one pond of carp. Then we have what we call the of carp. Then we have what we call the centennial pond or 'happy family,' con-sisting of crosses of different fish, includ-ing Kennebec salmon, Land Locked salmon, California salmon, brook trout, salmon trout and hybrids. These fish range in size from minnows to be sup-BENZIGER BROTHERS,
