Gompers Pays Respects to Legal-Profession - Wants Better Legislation to Protect Employees.

NEW YORK, Nov.22.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, paid his respects to the legal profession today at the opening session of the National Civic Federation's annual meeting. He was iscussing the need in this country of new laws to cover the subject of employers' liability and to provide adequate compensation to wage-earners injured by accidents.

"The lawyers will prevent our getting the best and wisest law in this matter," he said. John Mitchell, who spoke at the afternoon session said: "The natural conditions of mining in this country are more safe than in Europe, but nearly five out every thousand employes are killed annually, whereas in Belgium, England and Germany, the average is about one to a thousand. The fact is that in America it is cheaper to kill men than to protect them. First of all, our laws should aim to protect our work-

"More than half of the millions annually spent for the relief of damaged woorkmen goes to the lawyers and the workmen themselves get only 20 or 30 per cent. of the total."

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 23-After fruitless night's search for traces cf the murderer of Charles H. Fellows, a grecer at Bow, who was shot as he was about to enter his yard late last night, the assistance of the county authorities was invoked today. Mr. Fellows kept a store about a mile from his home, and was in the habit of driving to and from the store with considerable money in his pocket. He returned at 11.30 p. m. and just before he drove into his yard two shots were fired, evidently at close range. One bullet entered the right breast and passd through the body, while wounded man staggered into the house and gasping "I am shot," expired in Addresses Given-Bishop Richardson and Chairman Hilyard Heard.

Between 250 and 300 men sat in the schoolroom of St. Luke's Church last evening at tables arranged in the form of a St. George's cross, to eat a church, and to listen to addresses. So appreciative were the men of the work done by the ladies that a standing vote of thanks was passed in recognition of the efforts.

Upon the central table stood a huge birthday cake, three feet high, decked with 140 candles, in keeping with the event, which is being celebrated throughout the week. Chairman Hilyard, with Bishop Richardson and Archdeacon Raymond at his side, sat at a beautifully decorated table at the end of the room.

The only reason for these hysterics. to be sure, is the announced intention of the leader of the majority of the apperhouse to offer a resolution to refuse assent to the budget until the country has had an opportunity to pass a verdict upon the radical measure. But the agitation is not as absurd as this fact would lead one to believe. England is more deeply stirred at the present moment than at any time in nodern political history.

Public opinion, however, can only be described as chaotic. There is no clearly defined question before the country which must be decided in anuary among the inextricable issues, on all of which no thinking elector can be of one opinion. The Government would like to fight the battle on the question of the constitutional rights of the second chamber. Even could they do so their success would be more than doubtful, considering the democratic terms of the Lords' pro-

The Unionists, if they had their erms against the general socialistic policy of the Government: but the ssue which will chiefly decide the election will really be the question of tariff or free trade. This is so complicated with other budget matters, ome general and some local, that nobody on either side is willing to commit himself to a definite prophecy as to the result. In fact it is generally onceded that the majority in the new Parliament will be small on either side. This will be unfortunate, for with the Irish members holding the palance of power no settled policy can be hoped for, and another election in

AN AMAZON CAMPAIGN. There is one feature of the impending campaign which will command worldwide attention. It is to be essentially an amazon campaign. The moment Parliament is dissolved a great army of women will plunge into the fray. This does not mean the suffragettes alone. These will number a beggarly quarter of a million, according to their own figures. No doubt they will furnish the most picturesque and excit-ing features of the feminine section of the struggle; millions of other women will take an active part in the campaign. This has long been a prominent phase of English elections, but this year the women canvassers will far outnumber the men in all parts of the country. Their work and influence have by no means been unimportant in the past, and this year they represent the largest unknown factor in the campaign.

PERCENTAGE OF INCREASES.

Reduced to percentages, the exports from the States to British North America in two months of the Payne tariff above the two months of 1908 have jumped 36.5 per centum, while the imports from British North America to the United States have increased nearly 20 per centum. In order to give a clear idea of the annual volume of trade between the United States and its neighbor, figures for 1907 and 1908 are given. Trade from Canada to the United States increased nearly $2,000,0000 from 1907 to 1908. During the latter year it reached $75,131,666, as compared with $73,334,615 in 1907. Much the larger half of this came in after paying a duty, and the increase was accompanied by an increase in the goods upon which there is imposed a tariff. The proportion which passed free of duty during the fire year considered was $28,908,938, and last year it increased to $32,595,874. Export trade from the United States to Canada was less in 1908, when it totalled $167,035,947, than in the year prior, when it reached a total of $183,-206,067. In the Canadian trade $9,193,-152 was classed as foreign exports. This downward movement has bee succeeded by an increase in both sides
