CZERNOWITZ, CAPITAL OF BUKOWINA, MENACED BY RUSSIAN ADVANCE

Bridgehead at Zaleszczyky on the River Dneister, 30 Miles Northwest, Attacked—Austrians Reported Routed by Czar's Troops.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

PETROGRAD, June 12.—(via London, 4.27 p.m.)—Russian troops yesterday approached the outskirts of Czernowitz, the capital of Bukowina, the war office announced today.

The statement also says that Russian troops attacked the bridgehead Zaleszczyky.

Czernowitz, the objective of the Russian drive on this part of the front, was in possession of the Russians for some time early in the war, but they were compelled to evacuate the city during the progress of the Austro-German offensive.

Zaleszczyky is on the River Dneister, 30 miles northwest of Czernowitz. It was in this region that some of the heaviest fighting of the Russian offensive last spring occurred.

SMALL REVERSE, SAYS BERLIN

BERLIN, June 12.—(via London) — Russian troops attempted to advance northeast of Bucacz, Galicia, and were repulsed, the war office announced today. More than 1,300 Russians were captured.

The statement follows: "Eastern front: German and Austro-Hungarian troops belonging to the army of General Von Bothmer repulsed Russian detachments which were advancing northeast of Bucacz, on the Stripa. More than 1,300 Russians remained in our hands. Otherwise the situation of the German troops is unchanged."

AUSTRIANS ROUTED

The complete rout of the Austrian armies near Czernowitz was announced here to-day by the Russian embassy.

Two entire divisions, with all their generals, artillery and ammunition, were captured. The Russians are in full pursuit, the Cossacks over-running the territory at the rear of the fleeing armies.

"FEELING FINE" SAY COL. "MAC"

Lt.-Col. Colquhoun Talks to the Courier—Received D.S.O. From King.

A Courier man had a chat to-day with Lieut.-Col. Colquhoun over the long distance phone.

"How are you feeling, Mac?" asked the scribe.

"First rate."

"You got that decoration all right?"

"Oh, yes. The D.S.O. It was pinned on my breast at Buckingham Palace by King George."

"For what did you get it?"

"The reason given was 'Distinguished Service.'"

"How were things at the front when you left?"

"As fierce as ever. There will be only one result but it will take some time."

"Mac," who has been staying to-day at the home of his brother-in-law in Toronto, said that he was looking forward to seeing Brantford people again with the greatest of pleasure.

His one hope was that they wouldn't put it on "too thick" in connection with the reception which he had heard was to be given him.

"The rebellious element claims that it was the recent violence which led to the re-opening of the Home Rule question, arguing that by holding further violence as a threat over the heads of the authorities they can bargain better and get any terms they want."

CANUCKS PLAYED PART OF HEROES IN STANDING OFF GERMAN DRIVE

Single Figures Here and There Refused to Obey the Order to Retire, but Got Over the Broken Parapets and Rushed Forward to Meet the Enemy.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

LONDON, June 12.—(New York Times cable).—The correspondent of the Daily Chronicle with the British armies in the field, describing the attack on the Canadian front of the Ypres salient on June 2, gives many instances of Canadian heroism under the terrific German onslaught. He says:

"Although the order for retirement had been given, single figures here and there were seen to get over the broken parapets and go forward to meet the enemy halfway. They died to a man fighting.

FOUGHT TO THE END

"The officer in command of one of the support companies brought several men out of a trench, but did not follow on. He turned again, facing the enemy, and was last seen as he fired a revolver and then flung it into a German's face.

"Near the place called Cumberland dugout was a small square between the trenches, and here Colonel Shaw, commanding a battalion of Canadian riflemen, collected a small party of men and made a last stand against the enemy, who had worked round through a gap in the rear and advanced upon him. They fought it out there, each man with any weapon that remained to him—a bomb, bayonet, revolver, or trench spade. The Canadians called to the Germans during them to come on. There were fierce shouts, louder than the cries of the wounded and the last groans of the men who fell. The Germans were kept at bay some time, but flung their bombs into the square.

FIERCELY CONTEMPTUOUS OF ENEMY

"Very few remained alive, and when only eight were still fighting among the bodies of their comrades, these tattered and blood-splashed men, standing there fiercely contemptuous of the enemy and death, were ordered to retire by the last officer among them.

"There were many acts of self-sacrifice done by the Canadian lads. I heard of one young private soldier from Kamsac, Saskatchewan. He had been crouching behind a shelter of some sandbags with one of his officers and an N.C.O. and the man who was his best friend. All three men were wounded, and this young soldier from Kamsac had banded them, but his comrade was most badly wounded, and when the shell fire lifted and there was a chance of escape it was utterly impossible to move him. The young soldier said, 'You go' to the other wounded men who were just able to walk, and then he sat down again by his comrade's side and said, 'I'm staying.' So he stayed with his friend."

BULGARS TO THE WEST.

London, June 12 (New York Times cable)—A Geneva despatch to The Daily Express says:

"Bulgarian troops are expected at Innsbruck shortly, and reinforce the Isonzo front, where the Austrians expect an Italian offensive.

NO CAPTAIN JEAKINS.

In the Canadian casualty list, which came through on Sunday, there was the name:

"John Whitehead Jeakins, St. Jude's Church, Brantford, Ont." Many who read the bulletin boards thought that this referred to Rev Mr. Jeakins of St. Jude's church, who left as chaplain for the front, but such was not the case. It was a younger brother, who was hurt, as the Courier related two or three days ago. The father, Rev. Mr. Jeakins, now in charge of St. Jude's received a telegram on Saturday announcing that the son has now been removed to a hospital in England. His wound is in the back.

Pte. Thomas Charles Wright, 9 Superior street, city, is listed among the casualties to-day as wounded. Lieut. Lattimer of Burford, is officially reported as prisoner in the hands of the Germans. He was listed as "missing" a few days ago.

HUGHES JUMPS INTO THE FIGHT

Republican Candidate for President Eager for the Fray

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Washington, June 12.—Charles E. Hughes after six years spent in seclusion from politics, to-day jumped into his presidential campaign. Without awaiting formal notification that he had been chosen to lead the Republican national ticket, he arranged to go to New York to-day to confer with party leaders there.

Plans for the coming campaign, selection of a national committee chairman and questions to be emphasized in the official notification were to be discussed it was said. It was expected that Mr. Hughes would meet former Attorney-General George W. Wicksham, Frederick C. Tanner, chairman of the New York state Republican committee; Frank H. Hitchcock, leader of the Hughes' boom at Chicago; Governor Whitman and others. He has not announced his plans for returning.

Mr. Hughes is anxious to get into the fight actively, his friends say. He has been out of intimate touch with politics so long, however, he wants to get information and guidance from close friends in New York.

The new presidential candidate was the object of much interest in Washington yesterday. Many persons had dropped past his residence in the hope of getting a glimpse of the former justice and so many moving picture men swarmed about him on his way to church that the Hughes family was late to service.

Tried to Slip Loose Commerce Raiders in The Great Sea Fight

Probably Intention of the Germans in Venturing Out to Sea to Let Commerce Destroyers Slip Past British Grand Fleet During the Action.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, June 12.—(New York Times cable)—A despatch to The Times from Amsterdam says:

"The very interesting fact has just come to light as to the German admiralty's intentions in connection with the naval battle on May 31. A large number of very fast commerce destroyers were conveyed by the German battle fleet on the night preceding the battle, the intention being to evade the British grand fleet during the fighting, which was probably not intended to amount to a general engagement.

"The Germans wished to give the commerce raiders an opportunity to repeat the exploits of the Emden and the Moewe. In this there is every reason to believe that they badly failed, and that few if any of the ships destined for that purpose returned to port."
