ARLINGTON.

As there has not been any items from here for some time we thought a few would not come amiss.

The winter has been a busy one here, the men being engaged in hauling out logs.

Miss Emma McCumber is spending the winter in Blomidon.

Mr. Borden Benjamin has moved in the house recently occupied by Mr. Stephen Metzler.

Two more Arlington boys have donned the Khaki, Morton Ward and Perry Blenkhorn. They are drilling in Amherst.

The pie Social held in the Hall on Sat. night last was a success. We thank all who gave their aid.

The Coasting has been excellent this winter, and the young folks have taken advantage of many moonlight parties.

Miss Grace Ward is spending Easter in Kentville.

Mr. and Mrs. Havelock Franklin and Miss Lola Brown of Hillaton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ward.

Mr. Barry Baxter of Canning spent Sunday with his Aunt Mrs. Chas. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Fraser, of Deep Hollow spent Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Miller Porter.

Miss Winnie Porter has been spending a few days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Porter.

Mrs. Thomas and son Joseph have moved to the West.

Mrs. Crandall Ward has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ward.

Pte. Cris Porter is now in Halifax.

Rev. G. Wright, Congregational Minister, Kingsport, whose brother was lost in the Florizel disaster, is now visiting Newfoundland. He preached in St. Andrew's Church St. John's on the last Sabbath of March. Rev. Gordon Dickie, Pastor.

CANNING.

Mr. Albert Kane, spent Saturday at Kentville.

Get your order in early for Farm Machinery. Delays will be as certain as Prices. G. W. PARKER, Canning, N. S.

The well known Baines farm at Canning was sold at Auction at Kentville on Saturday last and was purchased by Mr. Jos. H. Pineo, for $1850.00.

Mrs. W. H. Farnham, of Yarmouth was called to Kingsport last week by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. E. C. Borden.

Mrs. Charles McFadden, Canning and Mr. W. B. Burbridge, were in Kentville on Saturday on business connected with the estate of Mrs. McFadden's late brother.

For Sale One Durham heifer with calf by her side, also one Durham heifer due to calve in a few weeks. Apply to Geo. T. Parker at farm of W. H. Hardwick, Canning, N. S. sw 4ins.

Canning is much interested in the present war news as at present a large number from this section are in or near the firing line. The publication of casualties is awaited with much concern and it is hoped that few from this section will be reported as having made the great sacrifice.

Rev. F. H. Bone, who has been pastor of the United Baptist Church at Canning, since his graduation from Acadia University three years ago, has resigned his charge here to accept a call to the church at Bear River. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bone have been very active in all kinds of church work and their departure is deeply regretted.

Many here will hear with regret of the death of Lewis B. Payzant, 19 years of age, eldest son of Mrs. L. K. Payzant, of Dartmouth, formerly Miss Belcher, Canning. He was a traveler for his father's firm. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers John and Edw. and two sisters Claire, and Grace. The family will have the sympathy of all in their bereavement. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon.

MARRIED IN ENGLAND AND WELCOMED HOME AT CANNING.

The following is from the Hants and Berks Gazette of Middlesex, Eng. Private Porter referred to is a son of the late Banvard Porter, of Blomidon and a brother of Mrs. C. A. Spinney of Kentville. He was wounded eleven months ago having gone through three engagements. He received his wound while in a raiding party a bullet passing through his body and a piece of shrapnel through his leg. He laid on the battle field 48 hours before being found. He has been in hospital ever since time until of late. He arrived at his home in Cornwallis last week on a hospital ship and his wife will follow him in an early boat this month. His body wound has healed pretty well but his leg still troubles him and he will be obliged to go to a hospital here. Pte Porter has been warmly welcomed by his many friends who met him at Canning station on Monday.

A very pretty wedding took place at the Parish Church on the 9th inst., the contracting parties being Pte. Herman Artherton Porter, of the 25th Batt. Canadian Regt., and Annie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Lilley, of 63, Geo. St. Basingstoke. The bride was tastefully attired in white embroidered silk with wreath of orange blossom and veil, the bodice being draped with real Old Spanish lace, and carried a sheaf of arum lilies (the gift of the bridegroom). She was given away by her father, Mr. T. Lilley. Miss Ruth Lilley (sister), Miss Hilda Marshall (cousin), and Miss Annie Brown (niece), who attended as bridesmaids, were pretty attired in cream, trimmed with pale blue, with hats to match, and wore gold bangles (the gift of the bridegroom). The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. Hall, and Mr. Reginald Leane under-took the duties of best man. The usual wedding festivities were afterwards duly observed at the residence of the bride's parents, where many guests assembled. The happy pair were the recipients of numerous and useful presents from relatives, friends and fellow workers at Messrs. John I. Thornycroft and Co.'s.

RED CROSS TEA AT CANNING.

The Ladies of Institute Served Refreshments at Parker's Hall—very sup. enjoy. Success and evening. After the farmers' meeting which was held there from 2 until 5 o'clock the sum of $27.00 was realized for Red Cross work. It has been suggested that the Ladies repeat this every Saturday evening. Mr. Parker offers the Hall free for the purpose. Maybe some musical talent can add to it and a pleasant evening enjoyed by the people who visit town that evening and help the Red Cross fund at the same time.

The Farmers meeting held on Saturday afternoon was a great success. The speakers were Messrs. Mitchell and Blair.

VALUE OF JERUSALEM.

What the British Gained by Taking the Holy City.

(American Review of Reviews) What is the advantage gained by the British in the possession of Jerusalem? Strategically the same advantage which the possessors of Egypt have always found in the possession of Palestine. That land is a fortress by which to hold the Asiatic invader far away from the Egyptian frontier, and from which to threaten him with attack. True it is not easy of access from Egypt, nevertheless, given a strong, hostile power in Asia,

Egypt has always found it necessary to hold Palestine in order to protect itself. Politically and morally the gain is enormous. The conquest of Jerusalem will find its echo not only among the twelve million Jews, orthodox infidels and believers, who look to Jerusalem as their sacred city and who are rejoicing that its reclamation from Turkish misrule and tyranny may mean a Jewish national revival. Jerusalem is a sacred city for many times twelve million Christians, and many times twelve million Moslems. Its conquest by the British will consolidate politically, by its moral influence, the British position in Egypt, enhance Britain's prestige with its Moslem subjects in India, as also that of her allies in Moslem Africa, and it will tend to range all the Arabic-speaking subjects of Turkey on her side. It will have a profound influence on the minds of countless Russian peasants who look to a pilgrimage to Jerusalem with certainty as great a longing as do the most pious Jews, and it may consequently prove hopeful in the general attitude of Russia toward the allies.

It will touch profoundly also the religious sentiment of France and Italy and Spain and Austria, from which Roman Catholic Pilgrims in thousands yearly visit Jerusalem as a pious act. The simple people in those countries cannot help but look with a certain favor on the Christian power which has redeemed the Holy City and the sacred sites from the infidel. What part pilgrimages to the Holy Land play in all those countries, those only can realize who have visited Palestine. Enormous sums of money have been invested in hospices and institutions of every sort for the entertainment of pilgrims. Schools, hospitals, and religious establishments, Russian, Italian, Spanish, French, Austrian, German, English, Armenian, and even Abyssinian dot the Holy Land, and cluster especially in and about Jerusalem.
