...to place itself on record as objecting to the excessive rates charged for the use of telephones by the Bell Telephone company on the grounds that instead of decreasing charges with the increase of the volume of business done by them they have increased just as soon as their business necessitated an increase in the capital expenditure, and urges on the Dominion and Provincial governments that this convention is in favor of government ownership.

Mr. Dagher welcomed the opportunity afforded him to meet the Convention, because he believed it would assist him to secure information regarding local conditions which would be of much assistance to him in solving the problem which the Bell company had intrusted him, that of deciding the best method of securing to the people of the province a satisfactory telephone service at reasonable rates, and moreover one that should reach out to the rural communities and enable every farmer to enjoy its benefits.

Mr. Dagher classified the problem as concerned with (a) long distance; (b) local exchanges; and (c) rural telephones. He believed that long distance lines should be owned and operated by the Government, or if not, absolutely controlled by them, because it was a dangerous principle to place in the hands of a company that which allowed them to dictate terms to the cities, towns and villages through which the line passed.

Officers of the union were elected as follows:—President, R. S. Cook, Prince Albert; vice president, J. A. Sissons, Rouleau; secretary-treasurer, J. H. Bradbrook, Yorkton; W. P. Gilchrist, Regina; J. A. Gregory, North Battleford; J. H. Bunnell, Moose Jaw. The next convention also will be held at Regina.

the Manitoba Telephone committee, that company had a rural system radiating from Yorkton comprising over 130 miles of line, averaging one telephone to every two miles, at a rental of $18 a year. The cost of constructing this system was about $50 per mile without the telephones.

A great deal had been said about telephone rates, which on this continent were the highest in the world. Why that should be the case he did not know, for the cost of construction in Europe was higher than in this country. In Great Britain one could telephone 65 miles for 12c, in Germany 62 miles for 12c, in Russia 106 miles, 25c, in Italy 100 miles, 20c, in Belgium and Holland about 240 miles, 20c, in Norway and Denmark 93 miles, 13 1/2c, in Switzerland, 62 miles, 10c.

Regarding municipal ownership, he held that local telephone exchanges should be controlled locally. Centralized public management of such a system would be practically the same as management by the Bell company or any other large private corporation. Whether Regina and other towns in Saskatchewan were ripe for municipal ownership he did not know, but he was certain that the time would come when in all countries under the British flag municipalities would own and control their local telephone systems, just as they owned water and electric light systems today. Municipal ownership, as Mr. Chamberlain said, ought to apply to all those utilities which the public could not manage better than a private company would, and he believed on that account it applied to ratepayers.

Mr. Locke explained that the low cost of installation at Yorkton was partly due to the fact that the farmers were persuaded to haul the poles, and to dig the holes at a nominal cost. At present the charge in the town was $12 for poles and $15 for business phones. The city was issuing debentures to get a controlling interest in the Yorkton electrical company, and so to improve the system.

The resolution moved by Mr. Hunter was passed and a vote of thanks accorded to Mr. Dagher.

THE COOP FOR RINGE SING

Galician Gets into Trouble for Misappropriation of Wood

From Thursday's Morning Leader. A twelve-headed Galician with the musical name of Ringe Sing appeared in custody at the police court yesterday morning, before Magistrate McCausland. A. T. Hunter accused him of having stolen a quantity of wood on August 5th, and as the prisoner pleaded guilty, the case was disposed of within an hour and a quarter. Ringe Sing talked in Slavonic to his interpreter, who gathered that he wanted a lawyer, so Mr. McCausland was sent for. The pair retired with him into an adjoining room, and in about fifteen minutes Mr. McCausland, Jr., emerged to ask the prosecutor for some details of the theft. Mr. Hunter said Ringe Sing stole three marked sticks, and Mr. McCausland, Jr., thinking the story reasonable, announced that he would tell his client to plead guilty. This the Galician seems to have done. But in the meanwhile, the presence of a second magistrate having been required, Mr. Edgar was sent for. More explanation by the interpreter. More detail. At length the prosecutor expressed his willingness not to press the charge, and released the prisoner for an appointment in another court, imposed on the prisoner the payment of costs. The interpreter, between thirty whiffs of his cigarette, discussed the financial problem thus raised: "I am thinking," he remarked at length, "that he cannot pay this money, he'd better go to the 'coop.' And the 'coop' poor Ringe Sing was sent.

CHINAMAN MUST FACE GRAVE CHARGE

POISONED PORRIDGE EATEN BY EIGHT BOARDERS WITH SERIOUS RESULTS

Suspicious Circumstances Surround Poisoning of Nine Persons at Lorne Street Restaurant. Chinese Proprietor of Rival Restaurant Under Grave Suspicion. Arsenic Believed to Have Been Poison Employed. Three Men in Hospital.

From Friday's Morning Leader. A number of persons at the Capital restaurant, Lorne Street, are suffering from arsenical poisoning, and a Chinaman concerned in the management of the eating house, next door is under arrest in connection with the affair. Beyond a doubt the oatmeal porridge eaten by the restaurant guests partook contained a strong solution of arsenic, and at least nine persons are affected, some gravely. Criminal evidence may be given at the police court this morning, when a Celestial known locally as "Mac", part, or sole proprietor of the eating house referred to, will be confronted with a serious charge.

From statements made yesterday to The Leader representative, the Chinaman, W. Steele, the owner of the Capital restaurant, has been a successful business rival of "Mac" and his colleague "Charlie", some of the Chinaman's boarders having transferred their custom. "Mac" betrayed no ill-feeling, however, and the two men continued to be on good terms. "He has always been very kind to my children," remarked Mr. Steele yesterday, pointing to little ones at his side. In these circumstances, the landlord of the "Capital", when asked on Wednesday morning, had no hesitation in supplying his neighbor with a quantity of oatmeal. For whatever purpose the meal was wanted it could hardly have been so satisfactory to the needs of the customers since, according to an invoice, a quantity had been purchased about two weeks before, and the stock was not exhausted. Before breakfast-time on Thursday, the oatmeal was returned, and Mr. Steele used some of it for seven half past six and seven o'clock, the boarders, in number, nine or more, began their morning meal. Mr. Steele, who remained in the kitchen to prepare the food, and so escaped partaking of the porridge, was aware of the arsenic which he had before the effects of the poison, thus unconsciously taken, were noticed. Hearing a movement in the dining room, the landlord called to know what was the matter. His wife made some reassuring reply, but a few moments later most of the guests were seen with severe internal pains and numbness of the fingers, had risen from the table and rushed outside. Mrs. Steele, herself, was soon overtaken by the effects of the poison. Some of the boarders vomited all the tainted porridge they had eaten; others, including Harry Stewart, Cyrus Wint, and E. O. Shalk, suffered much more severely. Medical attention was sought at once. Drs. Thompson and Meek attended the patients, of whom three, Stewart, Winters, and Fortune, were taken to the Victoria hospital. The first one, Harry Campbell, received first aid at the premises of his employers, J. Case Co., 2, a Scotchman, of Regina, became ill at George McKay's, one—Mrs. Steele—remained at her home, and two were overcome. The infected livery stable nearby, and a portion of the premises, was disinfected, and a portion underfoot, certified to the presence of arsenic.

Early this morning The Leader was informed that no improvement in the condition of the three men at the hospital can be reported. The police will probably apprehend Charley as soon as they can find him.

From Saturday's Morning Leader. The residence representative of the Capital restaurant, Lorne Street, are suffering from arsenical poisoning, and a Chinaman concerned in the management of the eating house, next door is under arrest in connection with the affair. Beyond a doubt the oatmeal porridge eaten by the restaurant guests partook contained a strong solution of arsenic, and at least nine persons are affected, some gravely. B.T. SECRETARY GIVES A GOOD INTERIM REPORT

PUBLICITY COMMISSIONER SHOWS GOOD RECORD FOR FOUR MONTHS

Question of Public Stockyards and Monthly Sales Discussed at Some Length. Delegation Appointed to Wait on City Council. D. A. McDonald Strongly Opposes Proposal. W. Laird and Reciprocal Demurrage.

From Friday Morning's Leader. Publicity Commissioner Lawson's report for the first six months of the year constituted one of the chief items of last night's well attended meeting of the Board of Trade.

Mr. Lawson in his report dealt exhaustively with the work done by the board during the few months he has been in office and showed that under him the position has been no empty affair. Since April 1st 18 new members have been added to the board, which now numbers 138 members in good standing. As showing of the advances made by the city as a whole since he took office, it was pointed out in the report that during the last four months the council had made 18 sales of warehouse track sites. Dealing with the actual publicity work done by himself, Mr. Lawson showed that he had been able during his tenure of office to get articles about Regina into a large number of influential papers and magazines, both in Canada, the States and the old country.

The adoption of the report was moved by D. J. Taylor and seconded by C. O. Hodgkins, who both spoke in glowing terms of the good work to which it testified. W. McCausland and P. McArthur, Jr. congratulated Mr. Lawson upon the statement which he had been able to present. The report was carried with applause.

Regina as Stock Centre. The question of permanent stockyards and sales stables in connection with the exhibition was brought up by Mr. Laird and evoked considerable discussion. Almost a year ago the proposal was first made that the stock sales should be held and steps taken to make the city the live stock centre for the province. Much had been done by the board during the few months he has been in office and showed that under him the position has been no empty affair. Winnipeg Delegates Report

A report was read from the delegation consisting of H. W. Laird and A. T. Hunter, which represented the board at the sitting of the Railway Commission in Winnipeg. A report stated that the delegates did not see fit to deliver into the past, believing the Railway Commission to be acquainted with all the facts.

Mr. Taylor said that as the board had last year adopted the idea of reciprocal demurrage, he would like some explanation of the attitude adopted by the Regina delegates on the subject.

Mr. Laird stated that they had acted on the decision of the special transportation committee of the board.

Mr. Taylor said that his recollection was that the special transportation committee of the board had endorsed the principle of reciprocal demurrage.

The report was allowed to pass, it being held that it did not in any way bind the board to the sentiments contained in it.
