

POLICE BLAMED FOR ROSENTHAL MURDER

Owner of Murder Car Says Police Knew He Was to be Murdered.

Bald Jack Rose and Big Jack Selig Now in the Limelight.

New York, July 22.—The murder plot that brought Herman Rosenthal to his death that the gambler might tell no tales against his kind or grafting policemen is to-day being hourly brought closer to the "police system."

William Shapiro, part owner of the "murder car," is giving the public prosecutor information bit by bit that strengthens the belief that the slaying of Rosenthal did not spring from the enmity of a gamblers' clique. Shapiro admits that when his motor car was engaged he was told that policemen had knowledge of what was going to happen and that nobody was in any danger.

"Bald Jack" Rose, gambler, and a friend of Police Lieut. Becker, who surrendered himself to the police, has given the name of a gambler and a gun-fighter who was in the car the night that Rosenthal was shot down in front of the Hotel Metropole. His name is Schapps, and detectives are scouring the town for him.

What "Bald Jack" Rose told Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty makes the police official quite anxious to know more about "Bridgie" Webber, poolroom keeper and friend of Rosenthal. Rose said when he left the murder car up town he dropped in on Webber, but later it appears that Webber turned up at the Hotel Metropole just before Rosenthal was shot and shook hands with the gambler. Later Webber was seen at the hotel after the shooting.

Police Lieutenant Becker has been stationed at police headquarters, and no one was more surprised at the unexpected appearance of "Bald Jack" Rose at headquarters yesterday than Becker, the head of the so-called "strong-arm" squad, which has been engaged in looking after the gambling houses.

William Shapiro is willing to tell more of the circumstances that led up to the shooting of Rosenthal, but he won't tell them to the police. Shapiro won't tell them to the police, Shapiro, a had situation, and hopes that he will be dealt with leniently if he tells all he knows of the murderer and the killing. Shapiro is willing to take his chances with the district attorney, but he won't talk to the police.

For the first time the name of "Big Jack" Selig, the gang leader and gambler of the east side, who recently was brought into the case today. Detectives heard that Selig, who is known as the right-hand man of Sam Pain, an east side gang leader, was seen talking to Rose the night of the murder. According to the story, Rose was trying to get Selig to do something for him, and Selig was promised a reward freedom from the charge of carrying a concealed weapon, now pending against him. Selig's lawyer says he is not in town, and has not been since July 1.

Developments are expected to-day from a three-hours conference District Attorney Whitman had early to-day at his home with a mysterious man, said to have been a friend of Rosenthal. Mr. Whitman said after the meeting: "I shall have nothing to say now concerning the man who called on me. Perhaps later I'll have matters so arranged that I shall be in a position to give the details of what I have learned."

He intimated he had discovered important evidence. To-day he will issue subpoenas on the strength of the man's statements. Whitman's visitor is said to be a well-known gambler.

Private citizens have promised funds for a private investigation by private detectives to clear up the mystery in which the police are involved. With the advent of private detectives, five distinct investigations will be under way in connection with the Rosenthal murder. The police and district attorney are conducting inquiries along separate lines, the grand jury is working on still another line. The Mayor is having a quiet investigation in his own way, and the private detectives make the fifth. The private detectives are understood to be all men entirely unknown in New York, and their object is to find out not only who committed the Rosenthal murder, but the cause of it.

TOOK A WALK FOR HIS HEALTH. New York, July 22.—An extraordinary night was thrown upon the Rosenthal murder by Assemblyman Aaron Levy, counsel for Libbey and Shapiro, in telling of the experience of one of his clients, a well-known gambler, called "Dollar John," whose real name is Langer. When Rosenthal's place was raided the bank roll of $5,700 was seized by the police and has never turned up. "Dollar Jack" threatened to raise "high jinks" if the money was not forthcoming. "Dollar Jack" suddenly disappeared, and this is the message he left.

"I'm going right off to Canada (and sure enough he did go about noon). I don't think it's good for my health to stay around here. In fact, I know it isn't. This is the situation: "After I left the court-room Monday, you know I talked about $5,700. Well, somebody came along and said that they'd heard I might be going to help Rosenthal in his case with the district attorney. I knew Rosenthal wanted me to, but I hadn't told him I would. Now, this person who spoke about it remarked that if I knew what was best for myself I'd take a nice long walk before growing much older.

"I laughed, but saw there was something serious behind it. Still, I didn't think much about it till I heard of Rosenthal's murder early this morning. I have concluded to take a perfectly good piece of advice and go on that long walk before anything further is fixed up."

REBEL ROW. Six Mexicans Killed in a Fight Over a Woman. Madera, State of Chihuahua, Mexico, July 22.—Six rebels were killed, another fatally injured and a half-dozen others more or less seriously wounded in a brawl that almost provoked a mutiny yesterday among the insurrecto troops here.

Two men fought over a woman and one was killed. General Rojas had ordered the murderer executed, when friends of the condemned man intervened. Bullets flew for a few minutes, until the arrival of General Luis Fernandez, who suppressed the trouble.

The incident served to reveal, however, the temper of the 1,500 rebel troops quartered here. The heavy rains have made camp life uncomfortable, rations are short and the contemplated invasion of Sonora means many hardships over bad trails with few horses, all of which has created a mutinous spirit.

SHOT GIRL. Hypnotized Into Infatuation for Her, It Was Said. Denver, Colo., July 22.—Eugene Miller, 23 years old, and married, last night shot Miss Georgia Lichtenwalter, who, the man's wife says, had hypnotized him into an infatuation for her. Miss Lichtenwalter, who is 19 years old, is not expected to live. Miller shot the girl twice and started away. He saw her get up, returned, shot again and left. A second time he looked, saw her getting up and returned and shot her. The victim is a stenographer at the Y. M. C. A.

Miller, after shooting the girl, notified the residents of a house nearby that a young woman on the sidewalk needed help and then fled. Early today he had not been found by the police.

DID NOT SINK. Paris, July 22.—The rumors current at the Toulon naval station last night that the French torpedo boat destroyer Cavalier had been sunk in a collision while participating in the manoeuvres and that a large number of the crew were drowned were declared by the admiralty to-day to be unfounded.

TRAIN WRECKED. Charlotte, N. C., July 22.—Telegrams received here state that an excursion train returning to Charlotte from Johnson City, Tenn., was wrecked. Two persons are reported killed and fifteen injured. One of the injured wired to his relatives from Bristol, and it is thought the wreck occurred somewhere near that point.

Hard work is the best cure for hard luck.

MAN KILLED Auto Collides With Freight Train at Crossing.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 22.—An automobile party of four from this city while returning from Scranton early to-day was run down by a freight train on a crossing at Moosic, Pa., and Henry Fainburg, a travelling salesman of this city, one of the occupants of the machine, was killed and three others injured.

Henry Roderick, who was at the wheel, says he did not see the engine until the automobile was on the track. Then he put on full power and the front part of the machine passed over the rails safely, the rear was struck by the locomotive and demolished, throwing occupants in all directions. Roderick escaped by jumping.

ROYALIST RAID Into Portugal Now Declared Complete Failure.

Lots of Money, Etc., But Portuguese Did Not Rise.

London, July 22.—A correspondent of the Times, telegraphing from Verin, Spain, says: The Royalist raid in Portugal seems already to have spent its force. The invaders were in sufficient strength to strike a very severe blow, and if active sympathy had been forthcoming in Portugal itself their attempt to restore the monarchy might well have succeeded, but their friends in Portugal never went beyond extending passive sympathy.

The Royalists planned to cross the frontier at Valencia and Chaves, and after seizing these positions to await a sympathetic rising from within. Both attempts miscarried.

The Royalists have plenty of ammunition made in Toledo, and cartridges bearing the Toledo mark. Their gains are from the Spanish Government works at Oviedo.

Indeed the arms traffic which has been going on through Spanish ports lately has assumed serious proportions. Last Sunday a barge was run ashore near Coruna. Fifteen motor cars which were waiting were heavily laden with cartridges. No fewer than 40,000 rounds were left behind in the boat. These cartridges were bought in Toledo by Paraguayan for export to South America. They were escorted to the boat by a Spanish officer.

The Royalists have also plenty of funds. Twenty thousand pesetas are lying at the railway station at Guiliarey, near Valencia.

ALL VETOED. Chinese Premier's Cabinet Nominees Turned Down.

Peking, China, July 22.—The National Assembly to-day vetoed all President Yuan Shi Kai's nominees for cabinet portfolios. As a result of the assembly's action the Premier, Lu Cheng Hsiang, alone is left in office, and he threatens to resign immediately.

The rejection of the names proposed by the President of the Republic was the result of the opposition of the Tung Men Hui, the name by which the party of ex-Premier Tang Shao Yi is known, and the dissatisfaction in some of the parties because of the alleged insufficient representation of these factors in the Cabinet. The National Assembly also was opposed to some of the nominees on personal grounds.

A deputation representing all the parties was appointed to wait on President Shi Kai and to discuss the matter with him.

AUTO FATALITY Inquest Opened—Serious Condition of Injured.

Toronto despatch: Coroner M. M. Crawford opened an inquest yesterday afternoon into the death of Mr. R. A. Smith, who was killed in an auto accident near Richmond Hill, Wednesday night, when returning from the Conservative picnic at Jackson's Point. After the jury had been chosen and had viewed the body, adjournment was made until Tuesday evening, July 30, when it will be resumed in the City Morgue.

Of those who were injured in the accident, reports last night from St. Michael's Hospital were most hopeful. Mr. J. Lorne Campbell, who was at first thought to have sustained a concussion of the brain, is suffering from fracture of the left clavicle (collar-bone), fracture of left ribs, and severe laceration of the scalp. He is resting comfortably.

Mr. Victor Ross, financial editor of the Globe, is in a more critical condition, although the highest hopes for his recovery are entertained by those in attendance. His right leg is broken above the knee, his back is injured, and he is suffering from shock.

MRS. CHADWICK AGAIN. Cleveland, July 22.—An echo of the famous operations of Mrs. Cassie Chadwick is contained in the report filed in insolvency court by Receiver Frank R. Ginn, showing that the Euclid Trust and Savings Co., wrecked through loans made by Mrs. Chadwick, would, after ten years of waiting, be able to pay depositors dollar for dollar with interest at six per cent. After paying depositors there will be a balance of $43,793, besides two notes for $31,188 signed by Mrs. Chadwick.

DUBLIN WELCOME FOR MR. ASQUITH

Received Enthusiastically by Populace of Dublin.

Suffragettes Attempt to Set Fire to Theatre.

One Throws Hatchet at Asquith's Carriage.

Dublin, July 22.—The British Prime Minister received a vociferous popular welcome here to-night. On his arrival he was met by Mr. Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, the Nationalist leaders and the mayors of Dublin, Cork and other cities. A torchlight procession, with forty bands and thousands of lights, escorted the carriage to a hotel, amid a sustained roar of welcome. The Premier constantly standing in his carriage and bowing his acknowledgements and Mrs. Asquith scattering flowers among the crowd.

Suffragettes chartered small boats at Kingstown, about seven miles from Dublin, with a view of making a demonstration on the arrival of the Premier's boat, but were prevented from doing so by the vigilance of the authorities. A serious affair, seemingly of suffragette origin, occurred however, at the Dublin Theatre, where Mr. Asquith will speak to-morrow. During an entertainment a blazing chair, apparently oil-soaked, was thrown from a box into the orchestra. The curtain of the box caught on fire, and the audience was thrown into a panic. Attendees extinguished the flames and order was restored. A woman who occupied the box made her escape from the theatre.

It developed later that a second woman was in the box and aided in the incendiaryism. In the confusion one of the women got away, but the other was arrested. She will be examined by a magistrate to-morrow. She is said to be an English suffragette.

Another outrage occurred while the procession was passing Princess street. A woman threw a hatchet at the Premier's carriage, but nobody was injured. On the arrival of the carriage at the hotel, Premier Asquith and Mrs. Asquith, John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, and the Lord Mayor of Dublin proceeded to an elaborated decorated balcony, where Mr. Redmond publicly welcomed the Prime Minister. Great crowds gathered in the street gave Asquith an ovation.

Mr. Asquith in a brief speech, said that this was the first time the Chief Minister of the Crown had visited Ireland since the act of union, and it was beyond his power adequately to thank the people for their magnificent and memorable welcome. He came on a mission of peace between artificially estranged peoples. They would not forget Grattan and Parnell, now that they were entering into the fruits of the labors of these men.

The Premier said that he was the ambassador of a treaty of perpetual peace between Ireland and Great Britain, and he assured the Irish people on behalf of the Liberal party and British democracy that he meant to bring their cause to a speedy issue.

The procession then reformed, and the party drove to the Vice-Regal Lodge, where they will be the guests of Lord and Lady Aberdeen during their stay in Dublin.

The woman arrested at the theatre gave the name of Gladys Evans. She said she came from England. It is reported that a supply of petrol was found in the box.

According to latest reports the hatchet which was thrown at the Prime Minister's carriage, struck Mr. Redmond on the head, inflicting a slight wound. It was a heavy weapon, but was not thrown with much force, otherwise it must have caused serious injury to the Nationalist leader.

HOME RULE Condemned at Conference of Grand Orange Council.

Glasgow, July 22.—The next triennial conference of the Imperial Grand Orange Council will be held in Winnipeg.

The feature of the proceedings to-day was an emphatic denunciation of Irish Home Rule for the colonies. A letter was read from the Earl of Erne, Imperial Grand Master, in which he declared that if Home Rule were introduced the Orange institutions would be the first to be singled out for attack by the enemies of Protestantism.

Resolutions were received condemning Home Rule as a measure calculated to do irreparable injury to British supremacy.

Colonel Scott said that no loyal subject of the Crown could stand idly by while old Ireland, an integral part of the Empire from time immemorial, was being ruthlessly torn away from her moorings.

Do not for one repulse forego the purpose that you resolve to effect.—Shakespeare.

SWAM ASHORE Lightning Set Fire to Jamaica Bay Houseboat.

New York, July 22.—Lightning struck the houseboat occupied by William Frederick, an oysterman, his wife and five children, which was anchored in Jamaica Bay, about 200 yards off Broad Channel, at 11:45 last night. Frederick and his family awoke to find the boat in flames.

Their only chance to reach shore was by swimming, and the father and a 17-year-old boy helped the other children, only one of whom, a lad of 12, could swim. Mrs. Frederick, almost as good a swimmer as her husband, needed no help.

The family had a hard time in the water, which was kicked up into a choppy seaway by the high wind, but they all reached shore. The boat was burned to the water's edge.

TALKS TO KING Mr. Borden Had Interview With King George.

Ten Thousand Invited Guests at Garden Party.

London cable: The King and Queen, accompanied by several members of the Royal family, gave a mammoth garden party on the east lawn at Windsor Castle this afternoon. Among the 10,000 invited guests were peers and peeresses, members of Parliament, representatives of the church, the army and the navy, and the learned societies. Canadians were also much in evidence, and among those present, in addition to the visiting Cabinet Ministers, were Lord Strathcona, Sir Joseph Pope, J. J. Carrick, M. P., and Hamar Greenwood, M. P.

His Majesty had scarcely taken his seat in the Indian tent, after the procession of the Royal household through the grounds, when he enquired for Right Hon. R. L. Borden, who had not yet arrived, however. It transpired that the Canadian Premier's motor trip, in company with Hon. L. E. Pelletier and Hon. C. J. Doherty, had been characterized by a slight delay. On his arrival, Mr. Borden was immediately ushered into His Majesty's presence, accompanied by Lewis Harcourt, Secretary of State for the Colonies, where they chatted for some time, and partook of refreshments.

Mrs. Borden is still confined to her room, but it is expected that she will be able to be present at the State ball to-morrow evening at Buckingham palace.

Lord Strathcona was present as a member of the Royal Society. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick was also at the garden party, accompanied by his daughter, who was presented to His Majesty, as also was Cameron Stanton, Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

On their return from Windsor, Premier Borden and his colleagues will hold a conference to consider the recent naval negotiations with a view to definite action. This morning, Mr. Borden had a lengthy talk with Sir William White, formerly naval constructor for the Government, and Lord Brassey.

CHICAGO WHEAT Excited by Report of Fight in the Dardanelles.

Chicago, Ill., July 22.—Excited trading in wheat and corn resulted here from the news of the sinking of Italian war vessels in the Dardanelles and the closing of the passage. Shutting off grain from the Black Sea ports of Russia and other countries, meaning the stoppage of one of the chief sources of European supply and coming wholly without warning, set speculators here wild. Wheat prices jumped as much as 2 1/2 cents, and corn 2 cents. After the rush to buy was ended, fully half the advance was lost.

A MASSACRE Three Hundred Mexican Rebels Killed by Indians.

Mexico City, July 22.—Passengers arriving over the Mexican Northwestern from Madera to-day brought stories of a bloody massacre of rebels in Dolores Mountain Pass, southwest of Madera, at the entrance to the State of Sonora. They declared that the vanguard of the column commanded by General Antonio Rojas, was caught in a canyon at Dolores, by nearly one thousand Indians, and that of five hundred rebels, less than two hundred returned to Madera in safety.

That a force of government volunteers was operating behind Dolores to prevent an entrance of the rebels from Sonora, was generally known here, but it was not believed any Yaqui Indians were enlisted in the cause of the government except the six hundred fighting for General Sanjines at Colona Oaxaca, in Northern Sonora. Federal officers in Sonora preferred to await more definite advices before commenting on the report.
