THEY DIDN'T BREAK THE LAW.

Acting under instructions from Mr. Bastedo, Game Warden Timothy McQueen has been investigating the case of three citizens who the Banner said caught 100 bass at the mouth of the river. The law only permits the catching by one person in one day of twelve black bass. Mr. McQueen found that there was no evidence of these citizens having broken the law. "It was just a fish story," he says. They were counting in little perch, sunfish, and everything they hauled up, and even at that I could not find enough information to justify me in doing anything." He is strongly of opinion from the inquiries he made, that the gentlemen in question did not break the law.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

The Canadians Who Sailed Form a Minority—Boer Mercenaries Sent Off.

London, October 2.—A Pretoria despatch says:—The six companies of the Royal Canadian Regiment now on their way home, their term of service in South Africa having expired, form a minority of the command. Col. Otter, the commander of the regiment, with headquarters and a majority of the troops, remain here. A Lorenzo Marques despatch says: The Austrian steamer Styria Lloyd, has sailed from here, having on board four hundred Transvaal refugees, part of them being Irish-Americans. All their expenses have been paid by the Transvaal Government. Each man received thirty shillings ($7.50), and will be paid £8 10s ($62.50) on landing at any port which may be selected by them.

THEORIES ABOUT CATARRH

Peculiar Ideas Regarding a Common Disease.

Mark Twain's cure for a cold in the head was simple, but he claims very effective in his own case; his plan was to eat nothing for twenty-four hours, or presumably until the trouble had disappeared.

Although not able to speak from personal experience as to the effectiveness of this treatment, it certainly has the merit of extreme economy, but it occurs to us that the application of it to a case of nasal catarrh might be attended with difficulties.

Catarrh, as everyone knows, is a chronic cold in the head, and Mr. Twain's treatment, if it should become a fad, would make us a nation of fasters, an army, emulating the example of the immortal Tanager who achieved world wide fame, by fasting forty days.

Catarrh is certainly becoming a national disease and there is little doubt but that errors in diet, particularly over eating is a very common cause. Most people, however, are more interested in the cure of the trouble than in the cause, and modern medical science has produced more effective and less heroic remedies than Mr. Twain's.

Guaiacol is a new remedy, very effective in some cases of catarrh. Eucalyptol is another which on account of its antiseptic properties is very valuable, while many severe cases of chronic catarrh have been cured by the use of menthol or extract of blood root alone.

Within a year an enterprising chemist has combined all of these remedies in tablet form, and the superiority of this tablet over other catarrh remedies is so apparent that all druggists now carry them in stock to supply the popular demand.

They are called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and it is doubtful if any medicine has achieved a national popularity in so short a time as this. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are used by thousands of travelling men because they can be carried in the pocket and used any time and in any quantity, being free from Cocaine, opiate or any poisonous drug.

They clear the head and throat from the disgusting secretions of catarrh, very often in a few hours' time.

For nasal catarrh, they are far superior to any wash, lotion, or ointment the use of which is often as inconvenient as any annoying as the disease itself.

For coughs, colds, bronchial catarrh and catarrh of the stomach, these tablets give immediate relief and a permanent cure where lotions, douches and inhalers make no impression whatever.

This preparation is a boon to catarrh sufferers, and any druggist will tell you that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is a remedy that has come to stay.

IT PAYS TO

The Best

Watch the advertisement of The Canada Business College Chatham, Ont.

Which is to appear in next Saturday's issue of this paper. It will show you what this school is doing in qualifying its pupils to fill choice positions, and assisting them to find these places when they are ready.

Seventy-two of our pupils secured good positions during July and August of this year. Saturday's ad will contain half the list, showing where they are placed, the others will appear the following Saturday. Watch for it if you are interested.

230 of our pupils secured good positions in the 10 months ending July 1st, 1900. We can send you the list showing you where they were placed.

While other business schools are claiming to be doing considerable in the way of assisting their pupils, yet we believe ours is the only business school that publishes a list of pupils placed, so that the public can be satisfied of the truth of the claim.

Write for our handsome catalogue, if interested.

WORTH AND WEAR IN FURNISHINGS

Look carelessly at some of the stuff you see around in the windows and show cases and you may think most of it as good as the kind made on principle.

Buy if you will a tie or two, a pair of braces, a pair of socks or a shirt and see if you get any comfort out of them or your money's worth, no matter how low the "marked" down price may be.

All we buy or sell in the way of men's and boys' furnishings are made on principle, bought on principle, sold on principle and yet you get worth, wear and your money's worth everytime, —the price is low at that.

HOG CHOLERA AGAIN.

Another Outbreak in Malden Township—Hogs Destroyed.

Windsor, October 2.—Hog cholera has broken out again in Malden township, Essex county, and threatens to result in serious loss to the farmers. Dr. Pardue, the Government inspector, ordered all the affected animals slaughtered. The hogs had been allowed to run on a strip of land near the lake, and it is believed the disease was caused by their eating diseased carcasses of meat, thrown from passing boats. The inspector visited several other farms and ordered many hogs slaughtered, quarantining others. The disease is spreading through the township, and if not checked will mean serious loss, as hog raising is one of the chief industries of Essex county.

Purses amounting to $1100, in addition to the special prizes for the farmers' races, should make very interesting trials of speed at the Fair on Oct. 9, 10, 11.
