ST. THOMAS COLLEGE has become such a popular business training institution:
1. Because our courses of instruction are thorough and practical.
2. Because our teachers are thoroughly trained and employ only the latest and most logical methods of instruction.
3. Because our standard of graduation is the very highest.
4. Because business men have confidence in our graduates.
5. Because we offer no bribes, and make no promises that we cannot keep.
6. Because we do not offer to teach you by mail. Such a system is a fraud and is used only to get at your pocket.
As a result of the thorough work done in this college during the last two years our attendance has been more than doubled. Our new premises are the finest in Ontario.

MEN AS THEY PASS.

Major Serpa-Pinto, the well known African explorer, died the other day in Li-bon.
President McKinley has promised to make an address at the banquet of the Illinois Manufacturers' association to be given in Chicago in February or March.
Ernest Brenner, the new president of the republic of Switzerland, is only 44 years old, yet he is deemed one of the ablest of the international lawyers of Europe.

Frank T. Howard, a millionaire of New Orleans, has announced his intention of giving to that city a sum of money for the erection and conducting of a model school.

Speaker Henderson is said to be dissatisfied with the portrait for which he sat a year ago. The face, he thinks, is a good likeness, but he objects that the artist has put a man's head on a boy's shoulders.

Ex-Speaker Reed declares that he has lost something over 30 pounds in weight during the last few months and says the reduction in flesh has done him a world of good. He refuses, however, to make public the prescription, if he uses any.

Peas public men have had no charming a home life as the late ex-Governor Walcott of Massachusetts. Once, while he was in office, his very young son was asked at school who was governor of Massachusetts. "Papa says he is," said the boy, "but he fools so much I can't tell."

General Sir Redvers Buller, when a youth, had his choice among all the professions. His relatives pressed him to take up politics, as he had a private fortune. His ready response was, "I would rather be a private in the least of the queen's regiments than England's prime minister."

John Benjamin Parsons, head of the Philadelphia Union Traction company, has risen from a "$5 a week job" to a post that pays him $30,000 a year. Surface car lines have furnished a peculiarly profitable field for executive ability, and the "millionaire" is one of the most interesting of his kind, as he is the newest.

After working as a locomotive engineer on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for just half a century, Joseph West of Cumberland, Md., has been retired on a pension at the age of 75. In all the years of his employment he never received the slightest injury, never had a wreck of any consequence and at no time was a man of his crew killed.

William Wallace Campbell, who has just been elected director of the Liek observatory to succeed the late James E.
Keeler, was born on a farm in Hancock county, O., in 1802. He made a specialty of astronomy at the University of Michigan under Professor Schaeberle, took the chair of mathematics and astronomy at the University of Colorado and later at Ann Arbor, Mich.

General John G. Parke, who died recently in Washington, was the last officer to command the army of the Potomac.
General Meade was spending a few hours with General Grant at City Point when Ky Douglas broke through the Federal lines, of which Parke had to take command. That was on May 25, 1863. The battle of Fort Steadman, one of the most brilliant of the war, was also fought under him.

THE ROYAL BOX.

The queen of Holland has an enormous fortune, only a part of which belongs to the crown.
The Prince of Wales recently had a pigeon house built near Sandringham castle, where carrier pigeons are trained by experts. He intends to put his pigeon house at the disposal of the British navy.

According to the dispatches, the widowed Queen Margherita will after all take up her home in Rome and devote her time and money to the intellectual culture and artistic development of her own country. She received under King Humbert's will about $2,000, and the state makes her a dowager's allowance of $200,000 a year.

The king of Spain has not yet been able to show either his taste or his pluck in riding, for his mother is so nervous about it that she did not even like to see him getting too bold on his wooden horse.
The hour of the riding lesson on the real thing is always one of anxiety for the regent. They say that this fear comes from a prediction which was once made to her by a gypsy.

The brass picture hangers (hooks) which slip over the picture moldings and hold the picture wire sometimes get badly tarnished. They may be made as bright as new by getting some mild solution of acid, putting it in a cup or tumbler and, after straining the liquid on a cloth, dipping them in it for a minute or two. Do not get this acid on hands or clothing.

When putting lace away, fold as little around a card, as is done in the shops.

If the ruined prestige and exploded pretensions of the Castellane family were put into a rummage sale, the proceeds might help to pay for some of the bric-a-brac for which suit is now pending. It is pretty nearly time for these unpleasant people to go into retirement. The country has had a surfeit of their doings.

PROGRESS.

The latest triumph in the industrial world is the stone lathe. It is 86 feet long and weighs many tons.
A machine that washes and dries 8,000 dishes an hour has been invented, and it is guaranteed that plates, cups, saucers and other dishes come out of the wash without a scratch.
To automatically indicate when a clock needs winding a toothed bar is attached up high enough to clear it, dropping an indicator into view.

STRONGLY INDORSES
Paine's Celery Compound
THE MARVELLOUS
SPRING MEDICINE.

Many of the wonderful successes and decisive victories of Paine's Celery compound over disease and death are well known to the people of the seven provinces of our commonwealth.

No other medicine ever given to suffering humanity has met with such approval from physicians, from nurses suffering from the most nervous and from the culture and influence, and from the sensible and thinking people of the tollowing class. All unite in one grand chorus of praise—"Paine's Celery Compound is the best and surest spring health-restorer and health-giver."

General William W. Henry, American Consul in Quebec, writes as follows about Paine's Celery Compound:
"It gives me great pleasure to indorse Paine's Celery Compound, both on account of the results obtained from personal use of the remedy and knowledge of the remarkable cures it has performed. I believe it has no equal in curing diseases of the nervous system and building up those who are weak and out of health. It has cured several friends of mine of rheumatism in its worst form, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with that disease."

"I have the most perfect of the other night? What did you think of it?"
"I don't think a man should express an opinion of a work like that till he's heard it several times, and it's my impression I can't hear it again."

Americans are known as a dyspep-tic people. The extent of this disease may be inferred from the multitude of so-called "medicines" offered as a remedy. They are often in tablet form and have no value except as palliatives of the immediate effects of dyspepsia. The man who used them may feel better but is surely getting worse. They do not touch the real cause of the disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine specially prepared to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not made to give temporary relief but to effect permanent cure. In ninety-eight cases out of every hundred it cures perfectly and permanently.

It has cost Dr. Pierce $23,000 to give away in the last year the copies of his People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which have been applied for.
This book of 1,000 pages is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing and customs. Ad-

A POCKET PHYSICIAN.
Is something unique. To be had in a Cathartine Inhaler. This wonderful, convenient little instrument is very versatile, it actually kills the nausea, cures the headache, relieves the pain, and relieves some throat in-flamations. Patients recover from about five minutes. Patients recover from pneumonia, diphtheria, Catarrh, croup, a valuable aid, as it strengthens and improves the lungs. For the voice nothing is half so good, and great singers and public speakers use Cathartine and say they would not be without it because it prevents hoarseness and renders the voice capable of greater endurance. As for Cathartine Asthma and Bronchitis, Cattarrh alone is the only positive cure for these diseases. Ladies affirm that for sick headache and tired feelings the eyes nothing is so helpful as Cathartine, which also restores impaired hearing that is caused by Cathartine. Cathartine prevents and is guaranteed to cure all diseases of the respiratory organs, and you can get it from any druggist, large size, $1; small size, 25c. A trial sent for remedy. Thousands say so. Powerful, penetrating, pain-subduing Ner-

BLIND, OH, SO BLIND!

Isn't it strange how people Gaze with enraptured face On the cunning work of the painter Looming o'er nature's grace, And yet with eyes that see not Nor souls that heavily find,
Live in the world where the stories live.
Blind, oh, so blind!

Thrill in the lowliest way To the stories of life and its living Told in book or in play, And yet, with darkened vision,
To naught of their charm inclined,
Live in the world where the stories live.
Blind, oh, so blind!

—Ripley D. Saunders in St. Louis Republic.

THE BOSS DREW THE LINE.

Trading With a Corpse Was Not Allowed in His Camp.

The boss of the lumber camp refilled his pipe and lighted it.
"Yes," said he, "I drew the line on that."

"We had a man die in camp this winter. He lived just over the boundary.
Nice fellow he was, too—thirty and all that. Every one liked him. Sorry to have him go. But after he was gone we did the best we knew how. Fixed the body up and sent two of the men out with it."

"He had bought a new pair of boots at the wagon camp two weeks before he died, and we thought it would be only right to put those boots on. So we did. The men started away and came back in three days. One of the men was wearing them new boots. The other fellow gave it away. Said that just before they got to the house with the deceased the critter pulled them boots off the corpse and swapped. Other fellow didn't like it, and said so. But the critter allowed that he had had some talk with the corpse about swapping a few days before he died. Corpse had hesitated at the new boots but he consented and said that a pair that had been broken in would do better. Critter said that he couldn't bear to think of deceased being buried in a pair of boots that hurt his feet. He said that he should wake up in the night, sutta, and think about the thing."

"Well, course there was something in what he said, but as there wasn't no way of getting at the deceased's side of the matter, I concluded that I wouldn't let that trade stand. There's a good many things that go in this camp all right, but dickerin with dead men ain't one of 'em. I draw the line right there, and draw it sharp. I made that feller send them boots back, the deceased has still got the critter's old ones. The feller had to go to the wagon and get some new ones. And that's so much more for the company and a commission for me. 'Twarn't bad all round.
When the feller got to jawin about the thing I told him he could still have the comfort of knowin that deceased wasn't wearin tight boots."

Fat the Foo of Consumption.
Consumption is most prevalent among those who are stunted or who stunt themselves in the use of fat foods. Everybody has learned and employed the knowledge, usually when it is too late, that cod liver oil is good for consumption. Few seem to have learned that food of the same character suitable for the table is preventive of consumption. In the whole course of my professional observation, covering a period of nearly 40 years, I have known but rarely a family or an individual that was brought up on a liberal supply of butter and bacon who became tuberculous. Moreover, such food fortifies the system against other diseases as well as consumption. It establishes stamina.—Dr. Bell in the Sanitarium.

Remembered Too Late.
Speaking of the queer doings of absent-minded people, the following anecdote is related by the London Globe:
"A very irritable man left his house one morning to attend a race meeting some distance off. In order that he might have enough money to pay his hotel bill he left a sovereign in the corner of his handkerchief. In the train he drew his handkerchief from his pocket, and noticed the knot in the corner. 'Now,' he said to himself, 'what was it I wished to remember? Much thought failed to enlighten him upon the point, and at last, in a fit of passion he hurled the handkerchief out of the window. Then he remembered."

Applying the Rule.
After Sunday school little Ned and his younger cousin, Horton, were permitted to play in the yard on condition that they would be very good and quiet. They had not been out long when Ned's mother heard loud screams. Upon investigating the cause she found her small son sitting on his cousin, pounding him vigorously in spite of Horton's pitiful walls.
"Well, mamma," Ned exclaimed, "I wanted to teach him the golden rule, and he said he wouldn't learn it."

Went All the Way.
It is said that the reason why there are no snakes in New Zealand is that it is at the direct antipodes of Ireland, and that when St. Patrick banished the snakes from Ireland his blessing went right through the earth and banished the snakes from New Zealand also.

In Santiago in the better class of with a close kind of netting, beginning at the floor and gathered at the top.

This is intended as a protection against tarantulas, the bites of which are poisonous.

A WINTER ROAD AT NIGHT.

So still it is we seem to hear The frost's faint whispering The wind is dozing in the wood, But ready for a spring
At the pale morning, when she shows Her pearly cheek above the snows.

The guidepost with its legend lost,
And draped in folds of white, Stands like a ghost with one grim hand Outstretched toward the light.
Day left to glimmer on the west,
When she crept softly to her nest.

The slender moon in wonder stares Above the fleecy hill,
And sets white flames a-dance about The icy water mill.
An owl somewhere within the wood, Complains to the wild solitude.

The nails in the old wooden bridge Pulled by the frost in spite, Start with a noise that weakens all The echoes of the night.
The winter's name on post and bars Is writ in little glistening stars.

One lonely traveller on foot, Toward the far village hies, Whose chimneys pricking through the drift,
With hearth smoke warm the skies.
His shadow shows on the white track In lines grotesque and long and pink.

And bringing with it life and stir,
The old stage, long deposed, Creaks round the corner by the hill Like something that has strayed From wonderland, with bells like gold And red lamps laughing at the cold;

Then passes on and leaves the way More lonely than before, Until at length sweet home lights gleam
From a wide-open door,
And all the world begins to glow After the long road through the snow.

GORE FIRE INSURANCE CO.

We have been handed a copy of the annual report of the Gore Fire Insurance Company of Galt, Ontario, for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1909, which will certainly prove most satisfactory to the policy holders. We see, owing to the strong financial standing of the Company, that they were enabled to grant a refund of 20 per cent. on all moneys received for premiums on the Mutual Plan. Those wishing to insure in this reliable company may call on Frank P. Weldon, who is agent for Chatham and vicinity. Office,

A WARNING.

To feel tired after exertion is one thing; to feel tired before is another.
Don't say the latter is laziness—it isn't; but it is a sign that the system lacks vitality, is running down, and needs the tonic effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It's a warning, too, and sufferers should begin taking Hood's at once.
By a bottle today.

"My Heart was Thumping my Life out." is the way Mrs. R. H. Wright, of Brockville, Ont., describes her sufferings from a nervous heart and palpitation.
After trying many remedies without benefit, six bottles of Dr. Aeneas's Cure for the Heart restored her to perfect health. The first dose gave almost instant relief, and in a day suffering ceased altogether.— Sold by J. W. McLaren, Chatham.

Better to deny at once than to promise long.
Infants too young to take medicine may be cured of croup, whooping cough and colds by using Vapo-Cresoline—they breathe it.

Better spare at the brain than at the bottom.
Diphtheria and scarlet fever cannot spread where Vapo-Cresoline is used. All druggists.

Labor has a bitter root, but a sweet tape.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c. E. W. Grove's
