In line with the above we notice that Professor Tuits, of the College, who recently made a trip across Canada to the Pacific and carofully noted the country, has prepared a lecture, descriptive of what he saw. He has delivered this at Canard, Avonport and Gaspereau, and offers to present it without charge at any place in the valley. We believe it is his intention to give it here some time in the near future. Those who have heard it pronounce it very entertaining and instructive, and calculated to do an immense amount of good.

The matter at work all the time:

If a bridge breaks down apply to the Government, and the work is the result of his experience in past seasons in Canadian salmon fishing grounds. The course covered is from the Little Saguenay river down through Northern Maine and New Brunswick to Cape Breton. In the course of the volume nearly every accessible salmon region in the provinces of eastern Quebec and Nova Scotia is described and its pleaded themselves to raise $120,000 for is not all described. There is page after page of suggestions and advice which will to be used for current expenses who have heard it pronounce it very entertaining and instructive, and calculated to do an immense amount of good.
