WOLFVILLE STAR CHAMBER

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:
Dear Mr. Editor: Wolfville is modern—Wolfville is progressive—Wolfville is ever striving to introduce innovations and new and unique methods into every phase of Town life and government. And Wolfville is succeeding well, for soon, no doubt, the last vestige of conservatism, the last atom of respect for customs and traditions, will be swept away before a deluge of things unique.

But of all the marks of modernity which now distinguish our civic life none is more unique than the methods adopted in connection with our schools.

Uniqueness was attained, partially, by the election of a woman as the presiding officer of the board and both uniqueness and inequity by the secrecy and clandestine methods adopted as their mode of dealing with the public responsibility entrusted to their charge.

At this point Mr. Editor we are halted by a question of cause and effect. Is secrecy the cause and inequity the effect or is inequity the cause and secrecy the effect? (Quien Sabe.)

Yes, quiet sabb, who knows anything about it? And how is anyone to find out while the Board does business in camera and refuses admission to the public?

Here we are, fairly enlightened citizens of a liberty loving country—residents of a reputed far and wide as a centre of education—paying taxes at no low rate for the support of our school—sending our children to these schools in the fond hope that they may achieve some small benefit thereby—electing a Town Council and entrusting one of our most vital interests to a Board of that Council and yet for some reason, barred from its deliberations. And Mr. Editor we are more than usually interested in matters pertaining to our Schools because we know, as does the Board, that there are matters connected therewith which must receive prompt and careful attention.

We as citizens are in no mood for trifling and if there is reason for this secrecy we feel that we are entitled to an explanation. Several times recently the Board has held meetings and citizens who wished to attend have been refused admission.

It is quite relevant, we think, to suggest also that secrecy on the part of the Board might well assist in the spread of that "mild form of nerves and facial impetigo" now or very recently present in the Schools.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your indulgence in allowing me all this valuable space.

Yours faithfully,
ELAINE LEFAYRE.

Greenwich

The main street in Greenwich can hold its own with any place in the County for beauty and the past two weeks it has had its share of admiration, with our orchards in full bloom. The last two Sundays large auto's full of people were continually passing through the place and several stopped in different places along the street to eat their mid-day lunch, many of them being from Halifax, etc.

A number of our residents attended the different sessions of Acadia's closing in Wolfville.

Rev. Z. L. Fash and wife of Fredericton, N. B. visited Mr. Humphrey Bishop, a brother of Mrs. Fash through the closing exercises of Acadia.

Miss Lillian E. Bishop returned home last Friday after an enjoyable visit of several weeks in Massachusetts.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cobb and two children, of Bedford, were week-end guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Burpee Bishop. They made the trip in their car, enjoying the beautiful country.

Messrs. Pick, of Mass., who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. G. J. Fraser and other relatives, returned to their homes the first of the week.

Mrs. Charlotte Bishop recently returned home after several months visit in Montreal with her brother and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bishop's children are having measles, Minnie who was seriously ill is much better, also Marion is better.

Wolfville's Memorial

Will be Unveiled With Appropriate Ceremony Next Wednesday Afternoon

Arrangements have been finally completed for the unveiling of the tablet in memory of the Wolfville boys who fell in the Great War. The committee in charge have had considerable difficulty in fixing a satisfactory date to all concerned but it has finally decided to have the unveiling take place on Wednesday afternoon of next week at 2 o'clock. The tablet will be unveiled for everybody to see and the occasion is such as to insure a large attendance even at the sacrifice of personal interests and pleasure.

Although the details are not yet fully arranged it is safe to say that an appropriate and interesting program will be provided in which various organizations will take part. The address will be given by Mr. George Nowlan, one of our clever Wolfville boys who is a good speaker and always heard with interest. A Veteran of the Great War, the choice of Mr. Nowlan as the speaker of the occasion is a most fitting one. It is hoped that every citizen will do his utmost to make the affair a success—a credit to the town and an expression of our gratitude and esteem for the brave boys who sleep on the battlefields of Flanders and France.

TOWN IMPROVEMENT

Mr. S. P. Heales has made a decided improvement in his store on Main street occupied by Miss Saxton, by the application of a new coat of paint, which adds very much to its appearance, particularly in the effacing of the unsightly ad. sign which disfigured the west side of the building.

Mr. W. R. Fraser has improved the appearance of his property on Linden avenue by newly swarding the front and repairing the terrace, etc.

Dr. Elliott's fine new residence on Linden avenue is now about completed. The grounds in front have been graded, concrete walks laid down, the bank neatly terraced and the whole property presents a very attractive appearance.

HOPE HAMPTON WINS PRAISE OF KOSLOFF

Famous Russian Ballet Dancer Astounded by her Natural Grace in Salome Dance For "A Modern Salome"

One of the many interesting episodes in "A Modern Salome," in which Hope Hampton makes her screen debut, and which is distributed through Metro, appearing at the Opera House next Friday and Saturday, June 10 and 11, represents the court of King Herod of ancient times. It is the incident where the notorious Salome does her famous Dance of Enchantment, at the end of which the monarch offers her whatever she desires as a gift—and she asks for the head of John the Baptist.

This story, narrated in the scriptures, inspired the dramatic poem of "Salome," by Oscar Wilde and the opera by Richard Strauss. Recollections of the way this famous dance has been performed by various artists is woven into the plot of the picture through a hallucination suffered by the heroine, in which she imagines herself to be the famous Salome of old. It is in this incident that she performs the Dance of Enchantment.

Theodore Kosloff, the famous Russian ballet-dancer, whose work has been seen on the stage and on the screen, was in charge of the ballet which supported the star in this dance, and in fact staged this entire episode. When rehearsing the ballet, Kosloff commenced to instruct Miss Hampton in the steps she should do for the number, but was so struck by her natural grace that he asked her to go through the dance as she conceived it without any suggestions from him.

Miss Hampton ran through a series of steps and movements, and Kosloff immediately decided that she needed no further instruction from him, but assembled his supporting ballet and told Director Leon Perret to "shoot" the scene, since the star was all ready for it.

Bearing in mind the fact that Hope Hampton has never had any terpsichorean training, and that she has never even seen anybody else perform this dance, the fact that the young star won such high praise from an artist like Kosloff is regarded as worthy of note.

Hope Hampton Productions, Inc. made "A Modern Salome," which is a lavish and spectacular drama. Wyndham and Percy Standing are prominent in the beautiful young star's support, Leon Perret wrote the scenario, suggested by Wilde's poem, and directed the picture.

Col. and Mrs. Simmonds and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kennedy, of Halifax, motored to Wolfville on Saturday last and in company with Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. R. E. Harris, proceeded to Yarmouth returning to Wolfville on Wednesday. They reported a most enjoyable trip.

Mrs. Geo. Brooks has returned from Wolfville where she spent a week with her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Fraser.

Miss Annie Walton, of Boston, Mass., who has been a student at Acadia during the past year is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. F. G. Borden.

Mrs. Otis Parker spent a few days of last week with friends in Canada.

The week end with her mother, Mrs. N. Walsh.

Dr. B. C. Borden, of Sackville, paid a short visit to his farm here last week.

Miss Annie Schneider, of the teaching staff of Acadia Seminary, was the guest of her friend Mrs. Susie Hughes on Wednesday and Thursday of last week, before going to her home in New York.

Miss Winifred Courtney, of Schubenacadie, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. A. Holmes.

Miss Ernest and Miss Drysdale, of the teaching staff of the Wolfville Public School, were the guests on Saturday last of their pupils the Misses Mildred and Dorothy Cox.

Mrs. L. F. Fuller and Mrs. A. B. Cox were among the number who attended a meeting of the Grand Pre Women's Institute held at Falmouth on Wednesday of last week.

A Bereaved Home

A very sad death occurred on Friday last when Mary, wife of Harold E. Woodman, passed away after a brief illness. Two days previously the third son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Woodman prematurely. The deceased never rallied and passed away on Friday morning. The fullest sympathy is extended to the bereaved husband and other relatives. Mrs. Woodman was the youngest daughter of the late James Simson, of Melancon, and was thirty-two years of age. She leaves a sorrowing mother, three sisters, Mrs. J. F. Herbin, of Wolfville; Mrs. Percy Balcom, of Middleton; Mrs. Ross Fullerton, of North Grand Pre; and four brothers, Fred, of Halifax; John, of Boston and Ralph and Gordon, at the old home at Melancon.

During her residence in Wolfville, Mrs. Woodman made many friends and was very highly esteemed. Her early demise leaves a home sorely bereft and many sorrowing acquaintances and friends to mourn her passing.

The funeral was held from her late home on Acadia street on Sunday and was very largely attended. Rev. W. H. Watts, pastor of the Methodist church of which the deceased was a faithful member, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. G. W. Miller, of the Presbyterian church, who gave the address. The interment was at the Methodist cemetery at Grand Pre, where many who knew and esteemed her in early days gathered to pay the last token of respect. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

Great interest was manifested in the Federal By-Elections held on Saturday, in Yarmaska, Que. Boucher (Liberal) was elected by a majority of 1535, and in York-Sudbury, Hanson (Con.) was elected by a majority of about 1,000.

Address and Presentation

At a gathering last Friday evening of the Bible Class, older pupils and teachers of St. John's Sunday School, the following addresses accompanied with a fountain pen was presented to Mr. Leonard Rudolf, of the Royal Bank, who is leaving this week to take a position in the Amherst branch.

To Mr. Leonard Rudolf, Royal Bank of Canada:
Dear Friend:—We have learned with deep regret of your approaching departure from among us. During your residence in Wolfville you have rendered many services to our Sunday School, and to the general work of the church in this parish, and you have given freely of your time and energy in every effort to further its interests, often no doubt at considerable personal inconvenience.

Your work also in connection with our Young People's Society has been greatly appreciated. We ask you to accept of this accompanying gift from the members of your class as a tangible evidence of our good will and gratitude for your labours on our behalf, and as a memento of the days passed among us. With every good wish for your further well being and happiness wherever your lot may be cast.

We remain—
Signed on behalf of the Bible Class and Sunday School,
R. F. Dixon, Rector.

There was a very good attendance and a very pleasant evening was spent in games. Light refreshments were served. On Sunday at the morning service the Rector referred to Mr. Rudolf's departure as a great loss to the parish. He had found him a most useful and willing helper in the work of the parish, and would greatly miss him. Mr. Rudolf will also be greatly missed by the Cricket Club of which he was an enthusiastic member. He is a player of much promise and will no doubt make his mark later on as a good all round cricketer.

DECEASED SON OF KINGS COUNTY

Death occurred recently at his home in Washington, D. C., of Justice at Large Gould, since 1902 a member of the District Supreme Court.

At Lower Boston, this county, a son of Charles Edward and Mary Jane Gould, His parents resided on the place now occupied by Mr. E. Lang. His mother was a Miss Fuller and his father a cousin of the late Edward Gould, of Wolfville. While the deceased was still a boy his parents removed to Massachusetts. He received the degree of bachelor of Arts at Georgetown University in 1884, and was admitted to the practice of law in the same year, at which time he took up his residence in Maryland. In 1888 he was appointed assistant United States attorney and in 1901 was made district attorney and served actively in that capacity until 1903. He was appointed an assistant justice of the District Supreme Court, Dec. 8, 1902, where he remained until his death. For many years he was an instructor in the Georgetown University law school on contracts and domestic relations. Referring to him editorially one of the newspapers of his home city says, "He combined with his eminent legal talents all the virtues that are possessed by a real man and a true friend, upright and just always, he tempered justice with mercy. His loss is a blow to the entire community."

Both young ladies were heartily received by the audience which greatly enjoyed their numbers.

Cadet Inspection

General Thacker Visits Wolfville—Much Pleased with Local Cadets

On Monday morning the pupils of the Wolfville High School who have been taking military and physical training were inspected by General Thacker, G. O. C., No. 6 Military division. The General arrived at about 11.30 o'clock by auto, and was accompanied by Lt.-Col. Willis. The company numbered forty in all was duly inspected by the officers after which the exercises including the ceremonial march past, followed by company and platoon drill, open order work, P. T., and an address by General Thacker, who complimented the boys on the manner in which they had conducted themselves and said that while it is not the object of the instruction to encourage war, every citizen should be prepared to defend his country when necessary. "Canada," he said, "is a country well worth fighting for."

General Thacker expressed himself to onlookers as much pleased with the manner in which the whole affair was conducted, and was especially impressed with the manner in which the young officers conducted themselves.

The Officers of the corps are:
Cadet Capt. Wallace Bartheaux, Company Commander.
Cadet Lieuts. Walter Pick and Colin Munro, Platoon Commanders.
The section commanders were Curtis Newcombe, Valentine Rand, Graham Patriquin, Donald Munro.
Leister Coit was Sergeant Major.

On account of Walter Pick being sick his place was taken by Gerald Eald.

The boys have received their training from the Principal, Lieut. R. W. Ford.

Canning Notes

Mrs. Chas. N. Robertson with her three children are visiting her mother, Mrs. W. H. Baxter.

Mrs. N. W. Eaton, Mrs. L. F. Blenkhorne, Mrs. H. Bigelow, Mrs. J. M. Sanford, Mrs. E. M. Beckwith, Mrs. Alfred Ellis, Mrs. Ezra Reid, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Newcombe attended the Annual Session of the W. C. T. U. at Aylesford, June 1st, making the trip by auto. Rev. Wm. Ryan addressed the meeting in the afternoon and at night Mrs. H. P. Newcombe presided.

Additional pleasure was contributed by the Aylesford Orchestra and Soloists. Delegates from Kentville, Wolfville, Berwick and South Berwick were in attendance and all were royally entertained in the Methodist church with dinner and luncheon.

The home of Albert E. Eaton, Lower Canada, rendered doubly beautiful by apple blossom decorations, was the scene of a delightful wedding at three o'clock p.m. on Wednesday, June 1st, his daughter, Emma Florence Eaton, becoming the wife of Hugh Hamilton Eaton, son of C. C. H. Eaton. The beauty or beauties of the occasion were almost indescribable, from the lovely filet embroidered net covering the bride's hair, all the product of India, made under the direction of the bride's sister Winifred, who sent it for the event, to the bouquet of lilies of the valley carried by the bride all was exquisite. Rev. A. J. Prosser was officiating clergyman, Miss Kathleen Eaton presiding at the piano and Miss Eleanor Eaton being maid in waiting. After passing under an arch of apple blossoms formed by the guests in two lines from the door to auto and the unique drapery scheme furnished by the many outside friends of the couple, the bridal party departed for a tour of the Province which will end ultimately at their future home, now in course of construction at the Canadr Corner.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE OF GRAND PRE VISITS FALMOUTH INSTITUTE

Seven car loads of ladies, members of the Grand Pre Women's Institute, went by invitation on Thursday, May 26th, to meet with the members of the Falmouth Institute at the home of Mrs. John Sexton. The afternoon was ideal and the country glorified with blossoms—the car ride itself seemed gladness enough for one afternoon's setting. Soon after three o'clock the President, Mrs. Shaw, who presided with much grace and geniality, called the assembly to order, with a few cordial words welcomed the guests and proceeded with the usual business routine of the monthly meeting. This ended, she invited the President of the Grand Pre Institute, Mrs. A. H. Patterson, to the chair. The programme was contributed by the latter Institute and consisted of an opening poem by Miss Magee; a most interesting and helpful address by Miss Stuart, who is the Nova Scotia representative of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada, on the accomplished work and future aims of the organization. This was followed by piano duets by the Misses Marion Crane and Elizabeth Fuller which gave much pleasure, also by a reading given by Mrs. Oscar Harris on Effective ways of killing an Institute. A paper prepared by Matron McLatchy, of Grand Pre, who went overseas with the McGill unit in the early days of the War was read by Mrs. Bowser. Both Institutes felt deeply indebted to Nurse McLatchy for her interesting reminiscences of those sad, dark days now happily over. After the programme, Mrs. Sexton and her charming daughters, assisted by other young friends served delicious refreshments.

The Grand Pre Institute was organized in 1913. The Falmouth Institute dates from only last October, but already its influence is tending towards improvement in community affairs.

In the late afternoon the ladies motored homeward all pronouncing it a most pleasant and profitable outing.
